Jean Martin, Ione, Among U. P. Scholarship Winners

Fifteen Oregon State university freshmen received $200 scholarship checks from Union Pacific railroad at a recent campus luncheon with Dr. James H. Jensen, OSU president. Among them were Jean M. Martin, home economics major and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin, Ione.

Others receiving checks from this area were Tom Cline, Milton-Freewater, majoring in farm crops; Jan Liesegang, Echo, home economics; Adele K. Wilson, Condon, home economics, and Lee Wheelhouse, Olex, agricultural engineering.

Dr. Jensen said the scholarship checks demonstrate that hard work does pay off in life, and he suggested that the winners keep this in mind as they pursue their college studies.

LeRoy E. Fuller, Union Pacific agricultural agent, who was a U. P. scholarship winner from Malheur county and an OSU graduate, said U. P. has given scholarships to 8,435 outstanding young agriculturists since the program was started in 1921.

"Many successful careers in agriculture have been started because of the incentive provided by the scholarships," said Fuller.

U. P. offers a scholarship each year to one vocational agriculture student and one 4-H club member in every county it serves in the West. Students must meet U. P. scholarship standards.

Applications can be made with the local county extension office or vocational agriculture instructor.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Thorne visited in Walla Walla over the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Grassi.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Brenner and Mrs. Bill Ling motored to Portland and back on Monday. Mr. Brenner's truck was undergoing repairs.

Junior Auxiliary Unit Plans Dec. Functions

IONE—The Junior Auxiliary, Ione Unit No. 95, met last week with the president, Elaine Gaarsland, calling the meeting to order. The flag salute was led by Judy Eubanks.

It was decided to have a social meeting at the Legion hall, at one o'clock Saturday afternoon on November 18 after a motion by Judy Eubanks, and seconded by Teresa Tucker, the group decided to have a food sale on December 9.

The next business meeting will be December 2 and refreshment committee will be Elaine Gaarsland and Judy Eubanks.

Cheryl Corley served the refreshments for this meeting.

Ione News

Mrs. Wate Crawford left on Tuesday to spend several days at the Delmar Crawford home in Hermiston this week. One of the boys recently killed in Hermiston was the son of Mr. Crawford's truck driver and they are short on help at the plant, due to his absence, and Mrs. Crawford is to care for the children a few days.

Mrs. Ernest Lundell is confined to Heppner hospital due to a recent fall, breaking several ribs.

Wayne Ball received head lacerations on Monday while working at the Dave Rietmann ranch shop where he is employed. He was taken to Heppner where several stitches were taken by a local physician to close the wound.

Defense Program Of Much Interest At PTA Meeting

By LORRAINE BALL

IONE—Approximately 60 guests were at the Ione PTA meeting last Wednesday night to hear the speakers, Charles O'Connor, Ione mayor; Oliver Creswick of Civil Defense in Morrow county; Robert Van Houte, County School Superintendent; and Nels Anderson, County Agent, give talks on Nuclear War preparations.

Many interesting points were brought forth by each speaker. Mr. Creswick told the group that the county civil defense plan is, at present, in Salem for approval. He pointed out that our communities would probably have to prepare for incoming victims. Adequate warning system and protection were the main points brought forth here. Mayor O'Connor said at the present time Ione has no set plan. Until recent months no real interest has been shown. It is waiting until the county plan is approved before further plans are made. He said that the city council is open to all suggestions and ideas.

Mr. Van Houte gave a plan for the school children, which will keep them in the building if inadequate warning is given. However, if they have a two hour or more alert the children will be sent home on their regular buses and parents are asked not to come to schools. Mr. Van Houte also spoke of community shelters as did the two preceding speakers. Schools and churches are two of the best which can prepare in a short time.

Mr. Anderson spoke mainly for the rural areas and showed a very interesting film which if all could have seen, could have a better understanding of fall-out and the protection and care we can take and do to better prepare ourselves.

Refreshments were served to the guests by a PTA committee.

Mrs. Robert Jepsen was general chairman of the evenings program, which went to considerable effort to inform the community of this meeting.

Bruce Rigby underwent surgery on his knee Friday morning at the Heppner hospital. It was due to a football injury. He has been released.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Crawford were The Dalles visitors one day last week.

Mrs. Alfred Nelson and Mrs. Kenneth Smouse hosted the Maranatha Club at the home of Mrs. Nelson on Wednesday of last week. A business meeting was held and plans for the bazaar and the Friendly Service Quota were discussed. Mrs. Rod MacKenzie presented the program, a film strip on "Foreign Missions." Mrs. Wate Crawford received the door prize.

Legion Auxiliary Meets

The November business meeting of Ione Unit No. 95, American Legion Auxiliary, was held in the Legion hall, November 7, with Aloha DeSpain as hostess. Seven members were present. Gifts were brought for the veteran's gift shop and members were reminded to bring gifts for the Eastern Oregon State hospital to the December business meeting. Plans were discussed for the community bazaar. The next meeting will be held at Elinore Hermann's home at 8 p. m., Nov. 21, with Mrs. Hermann as hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Lundell sent word to relatives in this area, that they have adopted an 11 months old baby girl, who is named Judy Dale.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Marick and family were visitors in Condon on Saturday and Sunday where a family dinner was held on Sunday in honor of several family birthdays. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jaegar and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Griner of Mayville and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mulkey and family of Long Creek, Mrs. Alta Lofton of Condon and Mrs. Art Jaeger of Woodburn. Birthdays honored Robert Jaegar, Catherine Jaegar, Ed Marick and Mrs. Griner.

Ivan Akers left for Portland on Wednesday for his pre-Army physical. Ivan was placed in charge of the recruits from this area going for physicals.
