Marriage Vows Unite Couple in Corvallis

A lovely winter wedding joined in marriage Susan Joan McQuarrie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McQuarrie, Heppner, and Richard E. Ruhl, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Ruhl, Lexington, on Saturday afternoon, February 10, at the First Methodist church in Corvallis. The Rev. Raymond E. Balcomb, church pastor, officiated over the double ring ceremony in the presence of relatives, friends and college classmates. The bridal couple exchanged vows before an altar decorated with tall baskets of white stock with greenery and flanked by white tapered candelabra. Organist at the pipe organ was Thomas Roberts of Corvallis. He accompanied Miss Alena Brenden, college roommate of the bride, as she sang "I Love You Truly" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" after vows had been spoken.

Miss Connie Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Anderson and a student at Oregon College of Education, Monmouth, lit the candles. She wore a shocking pink velvet sheath, with small matching flowered hat.

Escorted on the arm of her father, the bride was lovely in a full length gown of Chantilly lace over satin, fashioned in princess style with sweetheart neckline and flowing chiffon train over a billowing skirt. A rhinestone and satin tiara crown fashioned by her mother held in place the elbow length chiffon veil. Her bouquet was a bridal cascade of white gardenias. As a token of something old, the bride carried a keepsake handkerchief belonging to Mrs. P. W. Mahoney's mother; something borrowed was a necklace belonging to a close friend, Miss Carole Ann Anderson; the traditional blue garter and small gold nugget, a family keepsake belonging to her grandmother, was pinned to a petticoat.

Mrs. Skip Ruhl, Corvallis, a sister-in-law of the groom, attended the bride as matron of honor. Her gown was a pale pink satin sheath with matching headress. She carried a nosegay of pink rosebuds with white carnations.

Standing with the groom as best man was his brother, Skip Ruhl, Corvallis.

Dan McQuarrie, brother of the bride, served as usher. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McQuarrie chose a blue linen sheath with matching full length lace coat. Her accessories were in shades of blue. The ensemble was accented with an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Ruhl, mother of the groom, chose a green sheath with jacket, matching hat and brown accessories. Her corsage was of orchids.

A reception for the wedding party was held at the Country Kitchen banquet room. A three-tiered white wedding cake decorated with pink roses and topped with wedding bells and lily of the valley centered the bride's table, flanked by pink tapers. Cutting and serving the cake was Miss Phyllis Paola, Portland, a student at Oregon State University and former roommate of the bride.

Presiding over the pouring was Miss Helen Graham, Heppner, also an OSU student.

For going away, the new Mrs. Ruhl wore a bright orange hopsacking suit with black accessories, complimented with the gardenia corsage from the center of her bridal bouquet.

The couple took a short wedding trip to the coast, and are now at home at 223 South 8th Street, Corvallis. Mrs. Ruhl will continue her studies at Oregon College of Education, Monmouth, commuting until spring term and then will enroll at OSU.

Mr. Ruhl is a third year student at OSU and is a member of the university's football team. Both graduated from Heppner high school in the class of 1959.
