Eastern Star Honors Worthy Grand Matron At District Meet

Mrs. Elsie Oliotti, Portland, worthy grand matron of the grand chapter of Oregon, was among the distinguished guests honored at the district meet of the Order of Eastern Star at Heppner Wednesday night with Ruth and Locust (Ione) chapters as hosts. About 50 were in attendance. Another distinguished guest present was Mrs. Walter Jaeger, Condon, associate grand matron of the grand chapter of Oregon.

Among the honored guests were Mrs. Dick Wilkinson, member of the credentials committee; Mrs. L. D. Tibbles, member of Estar; Mrs. Jim Barnett, worthy matron of Locust chapter 119; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Asher, Fossil, worthy patron and matron of Arcadia chapter No. 81. Other guests were six Arcadia chapter members and E. Oliotti, Portland.

The meeting followed a no-host banquet at the Wagon Wheel with over 30 in attendance.

Mrs. J. R. Huffman, worthy matron of Ruth chapter, and the five star points of Ruth chapter presented an addendum honoring Mrs. Oliotti. Oliver Creswick sang a parody on the song, "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" during the addendum. Mrs. Huffman presented her with a gift from both Ruth and Locust chapters. Creswick concluded the program with a vocal number, "Kentucky Babe."

Mrs. Bill Cox, Mrs. Jim Thomson and Mrs. John Lane in charge of refreshments, served cookies and coffee. A St. Patrick's theme was carried out with a colorful centerpiece and candles on the table.

Leslie Fay and Tami Meador visited their grandparents in Baker during spring vacation.

ALMA EARLENE REDFERN, Gresham, became the bride of Richard Samuel Barnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Barnett, Ione, at a lovely winter wedding in Portland. They now reside in Gresham.

Portland Wedding Unites R. Barnett And Earlene Redfern

Alma Earlene Redfern, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Redfern of Gresham, and Richard Samuel Barnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Barnett of Ione, were united in marriage at a recent winter wedding, it is announced here.

The ceremony was read by the Rev. Monte Fast in Evangel Temple, Assembly of God church, in Portland. Rev. Fast is son of a former Heppner Assembly of God minister, and a graduate of Heppner High school.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown with sweeping train and sequin trim, a fingertip veil with matching sequins, and carried a bouquet of orchid with white rosebuds placed on a small Bible.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Paul V. Barnett, sister-in-law of the groom from Gresham. Attending as bridesmaids were Naomi Redfern and Mrs. Ruth Hillis, both sisters of the bride, and Ginger Barrows.

Flower girl was Debbie White and ring bearer was Roger Barnett, nephew of the groom.

Standing with the groom as best man was his brother, Paul V. Barnett of Gresham. Ushers were Joel Barnett, Portland, and Dave Barnett, Ione, both brothers of the groom, and Roy A. Collins.

The groom was a graduate of Ione High school, and recently out of service in the navy. He is now employed at Montgomery Ward Co. in Portland. Mrs. Barnett graduated from Gresham High school and is employed at the Tektronix plant near Beaverton.

The couple is making its home in Gresham.

Students Hear Panel Discuss Latin America

A symposium based on discussion of current problems in the Latin American countries was presented before members of the junior and senior classes Monday at Heppner High school, by four students from Portland State college. On the panel were Bill Rasmussen, Roy Sampsel, Glenn Ingram, and Ron Gerber. With Rasmussen as moderator, he introduced questions on Latin America and presented various views on why we should be interested in problems of our neighbors to the south. Sampsel gave a brief history of Latin America. He was followed by Ingram who discussed their problems as social, economical and political. Concluding the symposium, Gerber presented ideas for the solutions, and the role which the United States plays in Latin American countries.

Hawaiians Visit Here

Barbara Siewert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Siewert, arrived home for spring vacation last week-end from Oregon College of Education and she was accompanied by two friends, both of Hawaii, who are spending the vacation with her. The college mates are Amy Sora and Arlene Sadanaga. Barbara is a freshman at the school. The three will return to Monmouth Saturday.

Rebekahs Are Guests Of IOOF At Special Dinner Meeting

Willows Lodge No. 66, IOOF, entertained Rebekahs and guests at a pancake and ham dinner Friday night, March 16, in the Odd Fellow's dining room. Special invitations in the form of telegrams had been sent to members and their families. The tables were gay with decorations of the St. Patrick's motif and Odd Fellow members proved to be super-chefs and waiters during the meal.

Special guests for the evening were Ellsworth J. Robison, grand master of the grand lodge of Oregon, and his family of Central Point.

Some members of Willows lodge left after the dinner to visit Lone Balm Lodge No. 82 in Hardman.

Sans Souci Rebekah Lodge convened at 8 p. m. for regular session, with Mrs. Frank Payne, noble grand, presiding. Thirty members and one visitor were present, among whom were Mrs. Roy Neill and Mrs. Charles Beckett, who had not attended for some time. Stanley Minor, who resides in the Pioneer Memorial Home, was also able to be present.

A program of two one-act plays, "The Twelve Pound Look" and "The Red Key," with parts played by high school drama students of Mrs. Janet Groves, provided excellent entertainment after the short business meeting.

Birthdays of members during January, February and March were honored during the refreshment hour, with the hostess committee headed by Mrs. Lincoln Nash and Mrs. Rachel Harriet.

It was announced that at the April 6 meeting delegates to Rebekah Assembly in Medford will be chosen.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wes Sherman and family Thursday and Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Gale Christensen, Tony and Tim, of Stayton. Mr. Christensen is administrator of Santiam Memorial hospital there and the family enjoyed a visit at Pioneer Memorial hospital while here.
