

Mothers Club Hears Polly Pacific Talk At Monday Meeting

Members and guests of the Heppner Mothers club viewed slides of colorful and tempting foods on the program presented by Miss Susan Thomas, more commonly known as Polly Pacific of Pacific Power and Light company, at the meeting Monday night at the Wallace Wolf home.

With emphasis primarily on the freezing of foods and on party tricks for entertainment, the presentation was of special interest to those present. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Fred Gimbel, and was accompanied by her mother of Portland.

A slate of officers was accepted for the coming year. Mrs. Ray Smith will serve as president; Mrs. Harold Laird, vice president; Mrs. Anita Stockard, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Bruce Spencer, program chairman.

An invitation was extended to members and their husbands to the Bob Brindle home for a breakfast on Wednesday morning, May 30. Committees were appointed to help with the breakfast.

Guests for the evening included Mrs. Bud Peck, Mrs. Kenneth Robinson, Mrs. Jim Myers, Mrs. Terry Thompson, Mrs. Andy Van Scholack, and Mrs. Gimbel.

Assisting Mrs. Wolf with refreshments and the social hour was Mrs. Spencer. Gay Easter decorations were used about the rooms.

Four Are Initiated Into Rainbow Order

Monday night the Order of Rainbow for Girls, Ruth Assembly No. 50, initiated four into the assembly. Included were Claudia Nolan, Linda Heath, Kathy Mathews, and Cynthia Smith. The girls must be 12 years of age to be eligible for acceptance.

Rainbow Girls will assist the Soroptimist members with the selling of Easter lilies each Saturday prior to Easter. They will attend the Christian church in a group Sunday. On April 21 they have planned a car wash in town to raise funds for the organization.

Following the meeting refreshments were served with Tanna Valentine, Nancy Cleveland, Sherrie Olson, and Mrs. Lucille Wilson in charge. The clean-up committee was Diane Schaffitz, Janis Baker, Lora Lee Stotts, Kathy Melby, Rogina Wilson, and Dr. Ed Schaffitz.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kelly and family, Umatilla, visited relatives here Saturday and Sunday.

Week-end houseguests of the Kenneth Blakes were their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Darrel

Elks Dancing Lessons End with Parties

Some 300 students and adults concluded six weeks of dancing lessons Tuesday evening with parties for the students and the final lesson for the adults. These lessons, sponsored by the Elks, were the second session given here. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Rickett, Pasco, Wn., dance instructors of the Ed Chaney method, were here last fall for the first dance session and returned again this spring. They plan another session in the fall.

Records were given the students in the various games played during the parties. The hostesses served cookies and Coke following the dancing. Beginning students winning were Kit Anderson and Judy Nymen, Bobby Ball and Dixie Peck. Junior high advanced class winners were Steve Pettyjohn and Jill Schmidt, Billy Stockard and Judy Jones.

High school winners were Bobby Fetsch and Tanna Valentine, Gary Van Blokland and Diana Fulleton.

The lessons were divided into student beginners, high school advanced, adult beginners and adult advanced. They started at 4:30 each Tuesday and continued until 10:30 p. m. for six weeks in hour-long lessons.

Hosts in charge of the lessons were Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Healy, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Daggett, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Malcolm, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Blake, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Platt.

Blake, Portland.

Visiting the past week-end with Mrs. Millie Doolittle were her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Parrott and two daughters of Portland. They found Mrs. Doolittle making a steady recovery from a recent illness, and returned to their home on Sunday.

WHEW! THOSE hectic Tuesdays are over! What with dancing lessons, 4-H meetings and such. The boys enjoyed the lessons as did most of the kids, even the boys. One son came home with a Rick Nelson record. You know, I can sing that thing in my sleep!

HEPPNER ELKS hosted the unit duplicate bridge play in the dining room Sunday afternoon with Pendleton and Hermiston taking part. Twelve tables were in play with two sections of seven and five tables each. The 7-table section was scored with east-west and north-south winners. The 5-table section had one set of winners. High north-south were LaVerne Van Marter and Daisy Collins; second were Mr. and Mrs. Everett Edmiston, Hermiston; third were Gordon and LaFyne Pratt, High east-west were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Richards, Sr., Hermiston; second were Betty Kilkenny and Elsie Dickson, Pendleton; and third were Mrs. Jeanett Ritzinger and M. S. Hanigan, Hermiston. The 5-table high were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ward, Echo; second were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Richards Jr., Hermiston; third were Steve Trukositz, Hermiston, and W. E. Lewis, Pendleton; and fourth went to Jim and Bobbe Driscoll. A special family turkey dinner was served before and after the play.

HELEN SCHAFFITZ entertained the Sewing club Wednesday afternoon with seven members and two guests present. The girls get together to do their mending or maybe knit on a sweater. Guests were Cork Norene and Mary Ellen Myers and members were Betty Pfeiffer, Marie McQuarrie, Betty Spaulding, Happy Graham, Dee Gribble, Faye Pierce, and Donna McCurdy.

NADINE O'BRIEN won high at bridge Tuesday night with Jan Agee as hostess. Also on the win column were Edda Mae Lovgren, second; Joyce Ward, low; and Marian Jonasson, the traveling prize. And making up the two tables were Jean Bennett, Betty Gimbel, Patty Prock, and Eileen Prock. Nadine had 7,500 score in four progressions. Most everyone else held fabulous hands during the evening.

BECAUSE OF bad roads, the Bookworms had a change of address but hostess, Pauline Hughes entertained at the Madge Thomson home. Sadie Parrish reviewed the book, "The Strange One," by James Boswell. It is a story of the comparison of the mating of a barnacle goose to a Canadian goose and the marriage of Indian girl and a white boy. Members discussing the book were Ella Smith, Lorena Jones, Florence Green, Lucy Peterson, Ruby Beckett, and Madge.

SAY! HELEN Schaffitz and I are on the same frequency! I raised the phone to call out and Helen had dialed me, so without a ring, we were visiting! Rather an odd feeling.

THE JIM Lovgrens were hosts Monday night to a family potluck dinner honoring Mr. and Mrs. Don Horton and children, Jana, Brad, and Steve, here from Delano, Calif. Joining in the evening were the Vic LovKeithleys, daughter, Jeri; the Al Lovgrens, son Dean; the Howard Lovgrens, Bob Lovgrens and son Chris; the Marshall Lovgrens, and children, Marsha and Mark; and Mrs. Archie Alderman and daughter, Dovie.

REMEMBER THE Heppner extension meeting Tuesday, 11:00 a. m. at the home of Mary Ann Peck. Esther Kirmis will give tips on bedroom and bathroom storage.

OVER 100 high school students from Heppner and Ione enjoyed the dancing party Friday night at the Elks ballroom. The annual spring dance is sponsored by the Elks who are assisted by Soroptimists with the preparation and serving of the refreshments.

WHAT'S TRUMP bridge club members met at the home of Helen Schaffitz for an afternoon luncheon and bridge last Wednesday. The luncheon was complete with a sea food casserole dish, vegetable molded salad, hot rolls, and dessert. Making up the two tables of play were Margaret Blake, Happy Graham, Gene Leonard, Fay Ferguson, Dee Gribble, Madge Thomson, Virginia Rosewall, and Helen. Gena won high, Dee, second; Helen, low; and Fay, was third.

JEANNE LOVGREN was pleasantly surprised Saturday evening as friends dropped in armed with delicious food on the occasion of her birthday. In on the little scheme were the Harold Erwins and daughter, Shirley; the Ernie Garrisons, the E. Hales, the Tom Summers, and children, Rita Rhea, Craig, and Mark; the Cal Summers and daughter, Lora Lee; Jim and Frankie Lovgren.

SAY GUESS what! We meaning the "older type" gals, finally won two volleyball games from the high school girls Thursday! And that's quite a fete!

JOHNNY JOHNSON, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson, entertained friends Friday evening on his ninth birthday with a party. The young guests arrived for dinner, followed with several games and then went to see the movies. His friends were Bobby Ployhar, David Gunderson, Terry Hughes, LaVerne Van Marter, and Kevin Dick.

BONNIE BARRATT hosted the Renegades bridge club at her home Wednesday with two tables in play. Playing were Harriet Hall, Beverly Gunderson, LaFyne Pratt, Kathryn Webb, Laurel Van Marter, Kay Anderson, Louise Farley, and Shirley Blake. Laurel won high and Harriet was second high. Keeping it in the family, yes!

HELEN O'DONNELL won high Thursday evening when Nadine O'Brien entertained the King's Little Queens club. Nona Sowell had a lucky night, winning the second high and traveling prizes; and Marie McQuarrie was low. Also playing were Betty Hamilton, Ilene Wyman, Dee Gribble, Edda Mae Lovgren, and Nadine.

STARTING TUESDAY and continuing on each second and fourth Tuesdays of each month, the Elks are sponsoring duplicate bridge play. Winners are named each night and are entitled to fractional Master Points and on each fourth night of play, the winners win a full Master Point. The play will begin at 7:30 p. m. and everyone is invited but not obligated to play each time. No sign up is necessary just bring a partner and play.

I HAVE a recipe this week from Mrs. John (Ruth) Bergstrom ideal for this Lenten season. The recipe was given to her from the late Mrs. Alice Anderson Clark.

County OEA Here For Installation And Dinner Meeting

Teachers of the Heppner chapter of the Oregon Education Association were hosts to the annual dinner and meeting of the county-wide organization on Monday Evening, April 2, in the high school cafeteria rooms.

Darrel Calhoun was installed as the new president, with Don Olmscheid, vice president; Mrs. Conley Lanham, secretary, and Jack Lloyd, treasurer.

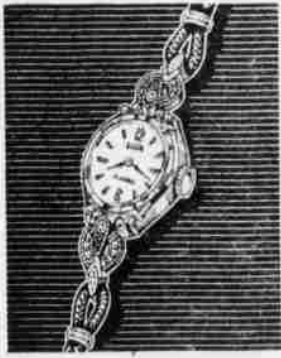

Members of the ways and means committee of the local PTA headed the committee which served dinner to 72 attending teachers and guests from around the county. Mrs. Ed Gonty, chairman, was assisted by Mrs. George Stillman, Mrs. Bud Peck, Mrs. Dick Wilkinson, Mrs. T. Dubaque, Mrs. David McLeod, Mrs. Jack Van Winkle, Mrs. Jim McCabe, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ayers and Sharon. Eighth grade Home Economics students of Mrs. Elmer Schmidt served the dinner.

Table decorations carried out a colorful Dutch theme under the direction of Mrs. Lindsay Kincaid, chairman, and assisted by Mrs. Don Clark. Individual favors were made by first grade students and small windmills filled with flowers were used as centerpieces on the tables.
