TONIGHT IS hectic again, this being Monday. I'm pounding away trying to meet my deadline early as I'm taking off for Portland Tuesday. I think just because I decided to gad, everyone had a party!

KIDS, REMEMBER the Easter egg hunts at the court house lawn, city park, and fairgrounds. Bring your sacks and fill 'em up Saturday morning.

LOIS HUNT won high Thursday night when the Lexington bridge club was entertained by Mildred Davidson. Elsie Cole won second high and Hester Creswick was low.

Others making up the two tables were Lorene Ledbetter, Velma Glass, Lucia Cutsforth, Eileen Padberg, and Mildred.

AGNES FLUG reviewed "Prologue to Love," by Taylor Caldwell at the Bookworms meeting Tuesday with Ruby Becket as hostess. This novel tells of a woman rich beyond all imagination, whose inability to give or accept love, whose fear of poverty, and hostility toward the world, brings tragedy and unhappiness for almost all whose lives she touched. Members present to discuss the book were Madge Thomson, Ella Smith, Agnes Flug, Pauline Hughes, Florence Green, Lucy Peterson, and Elsie Cole.

BARBARA DEVINE entertained with two tables of pinocle Wednesday night. Winning high was Jean Marie Damon, low went to Sharon Cutsforth, and the traveling prize was won by Phyllis Piper. Also playing were Shirley Mariatt, Frances Applegate, Judy Buschke and Marg Jones.

MARY ANN JOHNSON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson, had a dinner celebrating her sixteenth birthday Friday night. Her guests were Gail Hoskins, Pam Coehell, and Diane Fullerton. After dinner the girls attended the Hobo dance at the gym for the high school students. On Sunday Mary Ann, Gail, Fran McLeod, Donnie and Ronnie Creswick, and Raymond Nichols enjoyed a picnic in the mountains. Hear the boys were a little hesitant of the lunch. Didn't trust your cooking, girls?

GWEN HUFF had high score at Renegades Bridge club Wednesday night. Beverly Gunderson was hostess for two tables in play. Laurel Van Marter was second high. Others playing were Marion Jonnasen, Louise Farley, LaFyrne Pratt, Kathryn Webb, and Bonnie Barratt.

BEULAH MANKIN and Mary Harris teamed up to meld 1,000 aces Friday afternoon when Millie Evans entertained the pinocle club. Doris Watkins won high. Gladys Beckett, low; Carrie Becket and Millie won the pinocle. Also in on the play were Pearl Wright and Eva Miller.

TWO TABLES of bridge were in play Friday night with Lillian Sweek hostess for the evening. Kay Robinson won high, Mabel Heath won second, and Gwen Healy was low. Other members playing were Bebe Munkers, Jean Bennett, Inez Meador, and June Bellenbrock.

GAIL BATTY entertained several eighth grade girls with a slumber party Friday night. How much slumber? Special guest was Christine Prussing, New Meadow, Idaho. She was a former school mate of the girls here. Guests were Sheridan Wyman, Karen French, Tricia Farley, Susan Drake, Jean Healy, Brenda Young, Meridee Webb, Diane Schaffitz, and Barbara Gribble. The girls came after school, had dinner and went to the show. The girls were rudely interrupted in the early hours by another "slumbering" party!

CYNTHIA SMITH had a group of eighth grade girls in for a slumber party Friday night. I hear they crashed a party and then were interrupted twice during the early hours by the other girls! Her guests were Tricia Monahan, Erna Lynn Winchester, Sandy McDonald, Shirley Erwin, and Leslie Meador. They met to go to the show, then had snacks, and danced on the patio.

ELKS DUPLICATE bridge met for the first of a twice-monthly session Tuesday night. High north-south were LaVerne Van Marter and Daisy Collins. Second high were Laurel Van Marter and Harriet Hall. High east-west were Dr. W. H. Wolff and Bill Collins. Second high were Isabelle Davis, Condon, and Jim Driscoll. Laurel says she and Harriet lost by only 1/2 point! Anyway, it was all in the family.

THE LA VERNE Van Marters entertained the Four-table Duplicate Bridge club Sunday night. Guests were the Gordon Hutchins, the Terry Thompkins, the Gordon Pratts, the Ed Dicks, the Conley Lanhams, the W. H. Wolffs, and the Dick Meadors. LaVerne and Dr. Wolff were high north-south; Laurel and Inez were high east-west. After play, sandwiches, relishes, and coffee were served.

Former Heppnerite Married In Lowell Church Ceremony

Miss Noreeta Schmidt of Springfield became the bride of Raymond L. Walker, son of former Heppner residents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Walker of Dexter, at a double ring ceremony March 2 at Bible Standard church in Lowell. The Rev. Gerald Fox read the marriage ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerad Schmidt of Falls Creek, Penn., who because of weather conditions, were unable to be present.

The bride's ballerina length gown was fashioned of tiers of Chantilly lace over satin. The finger-tip veil was held in place by a crown of seed pearls and sequins. Her bridal bouquet was of white orchids and stephanotis. She wore a keepsake pendant necklace, a gift from the groom. Matron of honor was Mrs. Dee Kidder, Jr., of Dexter.

James C. Walker, brother of the groom, served as best man, and giving the bride away was Robert Pand.

Relatives and close friends greeted the couple in a reception at the Walker home. Mrs. R. L. Pand served cake and Mrs. Donald Jackson presided at the punch bowl.

The bride chose a powder blue suit with matching accessories for going away.

Following a honeymoon to the coast and in Portland, the couple is making its home in Alturas, Calif., where the groom is employed by Hamilton and Thoms construction firm.

Star Members Visit Elgin, Echo Chapters

Mrs. J. R. Huffman accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jaeger, Condon, to Elgin Saturday night for a reception honoring Dorothy Lee Davis. Mrs. Davis is grand organist for Grand Chapter of Oregon, and Mrs. Jaeger attended in her official position as grand matron of the Grand Chapter.

On Monday night, Eastern Star members attended a reception for Nathan Bard in Echo. He is a member of the home endowment fund committee.

Going from here were Mrs. Howard Bryant, Mrs. L. D. Tibbles, Mrs. Dick Wilkinson, Mrs. Roy Quackenbush, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Creswick, Mrs. Huffman and Mrs. Jaeger. Mr. Creswick sang some vocal numbers on the program. Mrs. Joeger was an overnight guest Monday with Mrs. Huffman.

Ken Daggett Gets Senior Award At Science Fair

The Science Fair project of Kenneth Daggett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Daggett, placed first in senior division at the regional Science Fair sponsored last week-end by the Pendleton Jaycees in Pendleton. This will qualify him to enter the Northwest Science Fair in Portland at the Oregon Museum of Science and Industry later this spring. His project showed the effect of pressure on temperature of air, through display of the Hilsch Vortex tube.

Seven students won second place awards. Steve Peck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Peck, and Bob Massey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Massey, with their frog heart demonstration, and Shannon Mahoney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Mahoney, with her project on the restoration of a rabbit skeleton. Photographs for both were made by John Cleveland. In the junior division Bruce Thomson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Thomson, won a silver award on a mold project.

In the intermediate division Sue Greenup, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Greenup, and Cathy Schiller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Schiller, won a silver award on a wool project. David Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hall, won a silver medal on a model of the atom.

Seven communities were represented in the area fair, including both grade and high schools, and, according to the judges the quality of this year's exhibits was excellent. The grand award plaque was presented to sisters Melody and Janet McGough of Pendleton's Sherwood Heights Grade school, for their scientific investigation on the effects of various types of water upon varieties of plant growth. Pendleton schools had nine first place winners; Pilot Rock was second with five; Athena with two; Hermiston with two; Heppner, one; and Milton-Freewater had six.

Engagement Party Held at Baker Home

Engagement of Miss Mardine Baker to Don Arthur Larsen was announced at a party given for them by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Baker, Saturday evening at the Baker ranch home.

The groom-to-be is son of Mr. and Mrs. Al A. Larsen of Methow, Wn.

The guests were given Easter eggs with imitation engagement rings inside. The rings were tied with bows on which the couple's names were inscribed.

Refreshments of cake, sherbet, and coffee were served buffet style. Centered on the table were twin heart-shaped cakes with their names.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Marion Palmer, Mrs. Harold Sherer, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Halvorsen, Rev. and Mrs. Rod MacKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. Leland McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Moore, Pendleton, Mardine and Don.

Mardine, a 1958 graduate of Ione High school, is a senior in secretarial science at Washington State university. Her fiancé is a 1958 graduate of Pateros, Wn., high school and a junior in civil engineering at the University of Idaho.

An early September wedding is planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Carey Hashings spent Sunday in Kinzua with his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Rod Hastings.
