

Churches Prepare Easter Services, Holy Week Events

at 6:45 and at the Sunday evening communion service, 7:30.

Five women of the Assembly of God will present an Easter cantata, "He is Risen," at the 11 a. m. service in that church Sunday. In the group are Mrs. Ray Barnett, Mrs. Ellis Pettyjohn, Miss Marie Pettyjohn, Mrs. Floyd Smith and Mrs. Homer Wolfington, accompanied by Mrs. Ray Taylor. A special Easter message will be given by the Rev. Homer Wolfington, pastor. At the 9:45 Sunday School hour, children will take part in a special Easter program. Regular evening service will be at 7 p. m.

Communion service with Offering of 30 Pieces of Silver will be tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 p. m. in the Lexington Church of Christ, Walter Smith, pastor, states. Sunrise service will be held Sunday at 6 a. m. at the church. Sunday School will be at 10 with special music by the young people. Worship service will be at 11 a. m. with the sermon topic by the pastor, "Was the Cross Necessary?"

Ione Community church will also hold a sunrise service Sunday at 6 a. m., sponsored by the junior and senior high school classes. This will be followed by Easter breakfast at 7:15 a. m., prepared by the Maranatha's Church school will be at 9:45 a. m. and Easter sermon topic by the Rev. Rod Mackenzie, pastor at 11 a. m. Morning worship will be "Costly and Cheap Grace."

Special observance of Easter will be in the Sunday school at 10:30 a. m. at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints' meeting in the American Legion hall. Two guest speakers of Richland, Wn., will be present at the sacrament service at 11:30.

A visiting minister, the Rev. Richard Wright of John Day, will be in the pulpit at the First Baptist church, meeting in the old library at the city hall, at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. services, the Rev. Charles Murphy, pastor, announces. Sunday school with Supt. Bob Hopper in charge will feature Easter at the 9:45 time.

Many local Seventh-day Adventist members will observe the Easter season in Portland as they attend the Youth Congress for the northwest there beginning Thursday evening and continuing through the week-end, Elder David Bauer said. Because of this meeting there will be no special Easter observance in the local church Saturday.

Don Clark Gets University Award

Don Clark, Ione elementary principal, was notified Wednesday that he has been granted a full scholarship to the University of Oregon summer session by the National Science Foundation. All tuition, travel and living expenses are paid by the scholarship which is in junior high mathematics and science. This will add 12 graduate hours towards his master's degree, which he hopes to complete in the summer of 1963-64. The session runs from June 18 to August 10, he said.

The family, except for the oldest son, Don, will go to Eugene with him. Don has a position in the forest service for the summer.

The Ione principal, who will not return to this position next year, also was elected president of Eastern Oregon regional elementary principals' association at La Grande Saturday. This covers eight counties. Forty principals attended the meetings. Clark said that he has applied for a position to teach Air Force personnel's children abroad and also is interested in other positions in Eastern Oregon, but he has no definite plans for next year as yet.

Weather, Crowds Make Big Success Of 'Spring Salute'

also proved to be a good success. Nate McBride added enjoyment when he took children for rides on his Go-Kart after using it in the parade.

The "Spring Salute" court visited Pioneer Memorial hospital in the morning and gave each patient a carnation in the spirit of spring. They then toured downtown stores, accompanied by chairman Randall Peterson.

Helen Cox Flowers donated six corsages to the girls, and Ron's Flowers donated other flowers and a ribbon with "Miss Salute to Spring" for the queen to wear.

Merchants enjoyed an exceptionally good business for the week-end and displayed their spring wares to the public. All agreed that it was a highly successful event and look forward to sponsoring it again next year. Each had words of praise for Chairman Peterson who devoted considerable time and effort in planning the event and is credited with an exceptional job.

Mrs. Elma Harshman, chairman of the merchants committee, expressed her thanks to him at the Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday and he received a hearty round of applause for the good work.

Municipal and Justice Court

Overtime parking, fined $1.00: Mrs. Wallace Wolff, Mrs. Doyle Key, Mrs. Gary Jones, Barney Malcom.

Estel Fred Field, no operator's license, $5.

Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Bailey returned from Portland Monday where they visited their son and family. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bailey. The group went on to Gig Harbor in Washington where they took a short boat trip with another son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bailey. The Harold Baileys left this week on a summer fishing trip to Alaska.

Walter J. Pearson

Pearson Scores Hatfield in Talk

Walter J. Pearson, Democratic candidate for governor in a recent talk at Condon said that Governor Mark Hatfield's "expanding state economy" is actually discouraging and driving business away.

More than 60 persons attended the banquet in the Condon Hotel. Pearson was introduced by James O. Burns. Before the talk, local candidates were introduced and a few words were spoken by Rep. Frank Weatherford and Jack Smith, both candidates for representative for the 28th district.

The Democratic candidate for governor said that there are more people on the public payroll and less people in private business. He added that "we have to substitute something to halt climbing property taxes. Oregon has the highest per capita property tax on the Pacific Coast." He proposed a luxury sales tax as a property tax offset as an acceptable substitute.

In a question and answer session following his speech, Pearson said that space-age development at Boardman is a big question mark. "Although there is the possibility, growth does not look likely," he said. The candidate said he favors the reapportionment initiative as the only means of saving the representation of rural areas.

Health Group Sets Annual Dinner

Annual meeting of Morrow County TB and Health Association will follow a 6:30 dinner Tuesday, April 24, in the Methodist church dining rooms. Guest speaker for the evening will be George C. Dimas, executive director of the alcohol education committee for Oregon. J. Arlington Alles, administrative assistant from the State TB and Health Association, will also be present to speak briefly for the organization.

Mrs. W. W. Weatherford, president, urges anyone interested and connected with the activities of the organization to attend. Reports from various committees will be heard and plans for the coming year's activities will be made. The dinner is a planned potluck with ham, rolls and coffee furnished.

HOSPITAL

Patients in the Pioneer Memorial hospital this week are: Margaret Martin, Monument; Lana Padberg, Ione; Myrtle Ferguson, Condon; Robert Reed, Spray; James Rector, Kinzua; and Dorothy Shaffer, Condon.

Those dismissed this week were: James Cowins, Heppner; Karen Hams, Ione; Larry Milliken, Condon; Gregory Groshens, Lexington; and Molly Beckett, Heppner.

New babies born both girls. To Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Machen, Fossil, a 9 lb. 1 1/2 oz. daughter, Joann Marie, on April 10.

To Mr. and Mrs. Leonard G. Walker, Condon, Debra Kaye, 8 lb. 2 oz., born April 16.

As of this writing, the next patient to enter the hospital will number 13,000 for the 10 years of operation.

League Meet Set, Tryouts Saturday

A meeting of Little League managers, coaches and directors is set for Friday, April 20, 7:30 p. m. at the Turner, Van Marter and Bryant Insurance offices.

All boys between the ages of 8 and 12 inclusive are reminded of the baseball tryouts Saturday, April 21, 2:00 p. m. at the Little League field.

This will be followed by another tryout on April 28 at which time the three Heppner team managers will select players to fill out their 15-man roster. Teams will continue practice with league play opening on May 14.

Morrow Men Make Another Plea For Better Roads

Three Morrow county men made another plea before the state highway commission Friday in Salem for improvement of the Willow Creek highway and development of a route to give a more direct route to Arlington, but no definite assurance of immediate help was given. Judge Oscar Peterson said.

Speaking for Morrow county were Judge Peterson, Oliver Creswick and Robert Van Houte. "We weren't exactly turned down flat, as a newspaper story indicated," Judge Peterson said. "They didn't make it as blunt as that. We are on the map for development, and I think we eventually will get it. There is just a lack of funds now."

Another meeting is scheduled for May 25, and an attempt will be made to have another Morrow county delegation there at that time.

The Chamber passed a resolution to be submitted to the county court asking that a two-mile stretch from Parkers Mill to the county line be finished and that the county improve the road to Ukiah.

In discussion on the meeting with the state, Creswick said "We should ride herd on this problem." He urged that the highway commission be requested to rebuild the Willow Creek highway to Heppner and extend it to Ukiah.

Notices Go Out On Reappraisal

property owners pays is determined entirely on how much money the county demands from its citizens to operate government. The county is operated now on a budget set last spring. Auditors are currently working on a new budget for the coming year. It is only after the budget has been approved that the assessor applies the ratio to the assessed values to determine the millage rate necessary to secure the amount of money the county has budgeted.

"So don't get excited about the notice you are due to receive in the mails in the next few days. This is not a tax notice!" he concluded.

The county board of equalization will meet beginning Monday, May 14, to examine the assessment roll and to correct all errors in valuation, description, or qualities of lands, and property owners have a right to appear before the board to seek correction of matters that they consider inequitable.

Tractor Cutaway Coming to Tryco

Coming to Tri-County Equipment Company at the plant in Heppner on Monday, April 23, is a cutaway John Deere tractor that will be on display from noon until 8 p. m. Jerald Rea, manager, announces.

The exhibit will show a full-size cutaway of the model 4010 diesel. Working parts and new design engineering into the tractor will be visible.

Refreshments will be served and door prizes will be given. Rea said. The public is invited to come and view the exhibit.

Wranglers Record Third Timings To Playday Events

A third set of points were added to previous scores at the third Wrangler Playday ride Sunday at the club's grounds. Timings were separated by mere seconds in many of the groups and ties were evident in six of eight events.

On the committee for the afternoon activities were Mr. and Mrs. Ron Currin, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Healy, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ashbeck and Mr. and Mrs. George Luciano. Timers were Mr. and Mrs. Archie Munkers.

The fourth and final playday competition will be announced later, as many will observe Easter Sunday this week and the following week is the annual cow cutting event.

Over The Tee Cup

By DEE GRIBBLE

In the good ol' summertime, tra-la! But isn't it?

Almost every morning you can find a partner to play golf with, if you don't already have one.

Tuesday was a good day for the ladies and 17 turned out. Low gross was a tie between Marie and Dee with 43. Hidden hole turned out to be for least putts on number 5, and was my lucky day again. Marie won the flip on the tie so we both were happy with an award. Hazel used that same old bridge approach on number 5. You know, that takes more doing than you think, to hit the bridge and still have a playable lie. Guess we better carry wire snips to get Gene Case out of trouble, (hear the gals playing with her nearby).

Playing Tuesday were Bebe, Corkie, Marie, Kay A., Helen, Roberta, Hazel, Gene, Hester, Joyce, Nadine, Jan, Marie and for the first time this year, Maxine Gray and June Spencer.

Dates to remember—

May 8, ladies of Kinzua will be our guests at a planned play and potluck lunch on the courthouse lawn.

June 27, we are invited to John Day. If you want to go, let your wishes be known so cars can be planned. It's a stinker of a golf course (it's that hard) but the hospitality can't be beaten.

Since this Sunday is Easter the Bunny is putting out surprises for those that will spend Easter at home and want to play golf about 3 o'clock.

Ladies Day committee for the month consists of Corkie, Bebe and Kay Anderson.

If you wonder who lifted the sod and planted the vines and shrubs around the screen on number 8 tee, I can tell you. It's no secret that the McQuarries have long been one of the hardest working families in behalf of the golf course. Now that the planting is done, the least we can do is throw a bucket of Willow Creek on them—the plants, that is.

Leonard Wise Here As Dick Serviceman

Leonard Wise of Redmond, brother of Don Wise of Heppner, is now working with L. E. Dick as serviceman on television, radio, phonograph and farm TV systems, Mr. and Mrs. Dick, owners, announce.

Wise plans to move his family, composed of a wife and three children, to Heppner this summer. He is experienced in such service work having owned his own shop that he operated on a part time basis in Redmond.

ray, second, and Roice Fulleton, third.

Calf roping (third go-around)—Rod Murray, first; Charlie Daly, second, and Jerry Dougherty, third.

Mrs. Clair Cox, Corvallis, recently resigned as secretary to the Dean of Education, Oregon State University. She is working with her husband in the Clair Cox Realty, Corvallis. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cox.

Herrick Accepts Ione School Post

Leonard Herrick, teacher at Helix for the past six years and principal part of that time, has accepted the position of elementary school principal at Ione, his letter reaching the office of Robert Van Houte, county school administrator, Thursday.

His wife, Esther, will also teach. They have a 12-year-old son and plan to move to Ione sometime in June. Mr. and Mrs. Herrick expect to attend summer school either at Washington State university or University of Idaho.

It was erroneously stated in the Gazette-Times last week that Herrick had been hired to succeed Darrel Reich as administrative principal of the high school. Rather, he succeeds Don Clark as elementary principal. No successor has been chosen for the high school post as yet.

Meeting on Parks Said 'Disappointing'

A meeting of the Morrow county parks commission with the state park commission at Irigton last Thursday proved "disappointing," Morrow chairman Orville Cutsforth reported to the Heppner-Morrow County Chamber of Commerce Monday.

"We were disappointed with everything we got at the meeting," he said. The local commission had had hopes of getting a park developed in the Irigton area by the state, but was informed that there are insufficient funds available to finance the project.

Cutsforth said that there is a "wonderful" site at Irigton with 30 acres of ground and sandy beach. However, it would take at least $25,000 to develop it, the local commission was informed.

No encouragement was given by the state on the Chapin creek park site, either, although Kinzua corporation would donate two-thirds of the land and Walter Wright would give the remainder, Cutsforth said. The state said that in this case the traffic count indicated that a state park is not justified there.

Sunday visitors at the Lee Scrivner home were several unexpected relatives and friends. Coming from Hood River were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. B. G. Smith and sons Michael and David, Terry Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Chambers. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Plank of Rockport, Wn., and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Scrivner and boys of Heppner.

Band Carnival Grosses $1100

Approximately $1100 was grossed at the band carnival, sponsored by the Band Parents' club, at the fair pavilion Saturday night, Chairman Bud Peck said. A jam-packed crowd attended from the start at 5 p. m. until closing time late in the evening, the event adding a fitting climax to the merchants' "Salute to Spring."

The supper, served from 5 to 7, brought approximately $250, and popular concessions, numbering 18 in all, brought the balance.

Winner of the movie camera, offered as a major prize for the carnival, was Mrs. H. J. Strober, and Charles Ruggles won the barbecue grill.

Door prizes went to Ray Massey, stuffed poodle dog; Mrs. Mike Whitesmith, barbecue utensils; and John Van Winkle, bronze clock horse. Band students who received cash prizes for selling the most tickets to the carnival, all in the fifth grade, were Mona Marshall, Sherry O'Brien and Larry Pettyjohn.

Proceeds of the carnival, yet to be determined because complete list of expenses is yet to be compiled, will go partly to the band uniform fund and the balance to pay tuition of music students to the Washington State university summer music school.

Chairman Peck, very pleased with the fine success of the carnival, asked that his thanks be expressed to all who helped. He had particular words of appreciation for the kitchen help, who worked hard, and to the band parents who pitched in to assist in many ways on all phases of the carnival.

McClure to Visit Pomona Grange

State Master Elmer McClure will be a guest at the meeting of Morrow County Pomona Grange at the Rhea Creek Grange hall Saturday, April 28 at 10:30 a. m.

A business session will open the meeting in the morning, and lunch will be served by ladies of the Rhea Creek Grange at noon. Fifth degree work will be put on by the Rhea Creek Grange when the meeting reconvenes at 2 p. m., and a memorial service will follow for members who have died during the past year.

Important resolutions will also be considered during the meeting.

"This promises to be an outstanding meeting and members are urged to be present," Alvin Wagenblast, Pomona master, states.
