I BELIEVE everyone is too busy with school activities and all of the busy going's on near the end of the school year to play cards or do any entertaining, sooo, not much in the social way this week. Many of the clubs will discontinue until fall.

LETA HUMPHREYS entertained the Bookworms last Tuesday with a film showing of her colored slides taken on a tour of Greece, Cairo, and Istanbul. She will show more of her films, this time on Italy, at the next Bookworms' meeting May 22 at her home. Elsie Cole was hostess for the evening with members present, Virginia Turner, Lucy Peterson, Madge Thomson, Florence Green, Ella Smith, and Agnes Flug.

TUESDAY NIGHT duplicate bridge play at the Elks had Isabelle Davis, Condon, and LaVerne Van Marter as high for the evening. Mrs. Harlan McCurdy, Sr., and Harlan McCurdy, Jr., won second; Shirley Blake and Ed Dick placed third; and a 3-way tie resulted for fourth place: Hazel Hamlin and Elaine George, Terry and Karen Thompson, Wavel Wilkinson and Margery Worden. The Elks plan to continue the twice a month Tuesday night play at the Episcopal Parish hall.

Mothers Attend Pasco College Spring Tea

Mrs. C. E. McQuarrie, Mrs. Nels Anderson and son Rickey were among the guests at Pasco Junior College, Pasco, Wn., Thursday, May 10, for the annual Mother's Tea and Style Review.

The special affair, sponsored each year by the Associated Women Students, was held in the lounge of the college administration building. One of the models for the style show was Miss Carole Ann Anderson, daughter of Mrs. Anderson, and a freshman in the school of nursing. Carole Ann has also served as secretary this past year of the associated women student's organization.

Another student mother attending was Mrs. Dick Wilkinson. Her daughter, Miss Judy Cochell, sang with the "Desert Tones," a campus vocal group, which presented two selections during the afternoon program.

One Rainbow Girls Install Kathy Rea As Worthy Advisor

ONE—A public installation for the Ione Assembly of Rainbow Girls was held Sunday at the Masonic hall.

Kathy Rea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clell Rea of Ione, was seated as Worthy Advisor and escorted to the altar by her brother, Francis. Her small nephew, LeRoy Rea, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Rea, placed the crown upon her head.

Other officers installed included Cheryl Morrison, worthy associate advisor; Sue Townsend, charity; Merrie Jo Morrison, hope; Lee O'Connor, faith; Susan Lindstrom, chaplain; Cheryl Smouse, religion; Kathy Hausler, fidelity; Linda Rowell, patriotism; Terry O'Connor, service; Bonnie Hynd, confidential observer, and Linda Halvorsen, musician.

Installing officer, Michael Morrison was assisted by installing marshal, Elaine Gaars; and Karen Hams, installing recorder; Ginger Springer of Heppner, installing chaplain; and Jennie Lou Turner of Lexington, installing musician.

A program was presented with Linda Halvorsen and Cheryl Morrison singing two selections. Pam Cochell and Jennie Lou Turner sang a duet. Refreshments of cake, coffee and punch were served from a

Howards Greeted On 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Howard were honored with a silver wedding anniversary surprise party at their home last Tuesday, May 8.

Guests presented the couple with a silver dollar "money tree" and special gift of silverware was given by Mr. and Mrs. Warren Thompson, of Portland, daughter and son-in-law of the Howards.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard were married in Cortez, Colo., 1937, and have one daughter and three sons, Mrs. Mona Thompson, Portland; Tom, student at Pendleton Tech. College; Eddie, a senior at Heppner High school, and Roger in grade school. Mr. Howard is a local barber. The family moved to Heppner in May, 1955.

An anniversary cake, beautifully decorated tea table in yellow and white.

Presiding at the coffee table were Mrs. Omar Rietmann, Mrs. Charles O'Connor and Mrs. Jack Shaffer. Serving punch were Cheryl and Michael Morrison and Sue Townsend. In charge of the guest book was Linda Halvorsen and John Rea passed out the programs. Assisting about the room during refreshments were Bonnie Hynd, Lee O'Connor and Merrie Jo Morrison.

fully decorated in silver, was served with punch and coffee. Hostesses were Mrs. Ellis Pettyjohn, Mrs. Sid Zinter, Fern Graves and Mrs. Homer Wolfington.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. William Mayhand, Rev. Wolfington and children Steve and Mary Ann, Ellis Pettyjohn and children Ricky and Rita, Marie Walholm and children Caroline and Rickey, Mrs. Ora Wyland, Sid Zinter and daughter Judy, Josh Morris and son Dave, Eddie and Roger Howard.

HAVE YOU tried driving in the rain along a curvy road? Without windshield wipers, that is! Ask Bebe Munkers and Kay Robinson! We were returning from the grade school track meet in Pilot Rock, more fun, seeing spots before my eyes! The wiper flew off as we were traveling along.

DORIS WATKINS won high and teamed up with Janina Johnson to win the pinochle Friday afternoon when Beulah Mankin entertained the club. Gladys Beckett won the low prize. Others making up the two tables were Pearl Wright, Carrie Becket, Mary Harris, and Millie Evans.

WE MISSED a couple of people who had important parts in the Obenaus wedding reception two weeks ago. Sue Valentine took many pictures and Nora Turner, cousin of the bride, poured.

FLORA NYS entertained her bridge club Thursday evening with two tables in play. Winning high were Hazel Hamlin (filling in for Ruth McMurdo) Grace Nickerson, Etta Parker, and Mae Gilliam. The four lows were Grace Turner, Wavel Wilkinson, Lucille Wilson (playing for Sadie Parrish) and Flora. Sadie you didn't mention bridge as being one of the things you couldn't do because of that arm!

FOUR BRIDGE players journeyed to Hermiston Monday night and came home with the prizes and master points. LaVerne Van Marter and Harlan McCurdy, Jr., teamed up to win high north-south. Bobbe Driscoll and Daisy Collins paired off to win high east-west. How's that for bringing home the loot?

KATHRYN WEBB won high Wednesday night at the Renegades get-together hosted by Shirley Blake. Nona Sowell won second and Bonnie Barratt was low. Also playing were Lucille Wilson, Helen Cohn, Louise Farley, LaFyrne Pratt, and Cork Norene.

NO RECIPE this week except one I invented last night. Have you ever tried adding to the prepared cake mixes? I have on several occasions. I had about two cups of applesauce left over from a meal and decided to add it to a spice cake mix for an improvised applesauce cake. Well, no spice cake, so I used a chocolate malt mix, added a dash of soda, and a pinch of cloves, ginger, and nutmeg. (Didn't have any cinnamon!) Anyhow, I mixed it with two eggs and baked for 35 minutes in a 9x13 cake pan in a 350 degree oven. Turned out very moist and tasty and gone in one meal! Use a cake mix and your imagination for surprising results. How about an idea from you?

Visiting the Fred Gimbel's last week was Mrs. Gimbel's father, Cecil Letts, Los Angeles. He had been to the World's Fair and stopped for a visit on his way home, leaving Sunday.
