John Halton Dies In State Hospital

John Halton, 78, former Heppner resident, died in the state hospital in Pendleton Wednesday morning, according to word received by his friends and former employers, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thompson.

Mr. Halton died after a lingering illness, having been a patient in Pioneer Memorial hospital several months before being moved to the state hospital.

His family resides in New York City. He worked on the Thompson ranch for 17 years before he was stricken by illness. He was born in Ireland on November 1, 1883.

McMillan to Graduate

Sam G. McMillan, formerly of Heppner, will graduate with the class of 1962 at Portland State college Sunday afternoon, according to an announcement received by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ruggles. In an accompanying note, Mrs. McMillan writes: "To add to the story of a fat man past 40 getting a degree (incidentally, Sam never had been to college until he started four years ago), he has a contract to teach history in the Centennial High school next year. Centennial is part of the Gresham system—about eight miles from our place—but not in Gresham." Mrs. McMillan is employed by Leslie Salt Co.

Memorial Day guests from Pendleton at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Worden were Mr. and Mrs. Doss Knighten and three children, Jeri, Sue and Greg.

THIS SORREL colt with blaze face will be given away to some fortunate member of the Wrangler club at the buckberger feed in the fall. Donated by Humphreys Rexall Drug Store, the registered quarterhorse colt was born on Easter Sunday. The contest is used as an incentive to stimulate attendance at Wrangler meetings. The more often a member attends, the better chance he has of winning the colt.

Over The Tee Cup

By DEE GRIBBLE

The Good Book says, "And a little child shall lead them," and he surely did. The 13-year-old son of the H. C. Wardwells of McNary captured the honors of low net Sunday with a 57. Other honors went to Bob Gorman, with low gross of 65, and long drive for McNary was our longtime friend George Schrilla. He nearly drove the ball out of bounds (on a 325 yard hole) with a drive of 310 yards.

The Ladies low net and gross was won by Mrs. H. Olson, and long drive honors went to Mrs. Wardwell.

The Heppner men were led by Ed Bennett, low net; Judge Carmichael, low gross, and Bob Salter won the "pitch to the green" on number 5.

Winning for the Heppner gals were Vi Lanham, low gross of 39, and Helen Schaffitz tied Vi for low net of 27's (with handicaps). So both got golf balls.

Fifty-three golfers were on the Heppner course at one time—and that's a full house, believe me. Phil Mahoney was out for the first time since his recent illness and acted as our starter. He surely was—smooth!

The ladies of our club provided hot coffee, sandwiches and Cokes at the picnic table, so a short wait wasn't too uncomfortable. As co-chairmen of club activities, Marie McQuarrie and I want to thank each one for splendid cooperation. We couldn't do all the tasks without help.

The course was in excellent shape, thanks to the many hours of mowing by Clint Mc. Judge C. and Grib. Then, too, many hours of trimming and sanding of "greens" was done by Francis Doherty, Clint Agee, Maurice Groves and Harlan McCurdy.

Ladies Day last week had eight gals out. LaFevre Pratt served coffee though she didn't play. Donna McCurdy and Jan Agee were the winners.

This Tuesday, eight played with the wind doing its best to put a stop to it all. Nadine O'Brien and Joyce Ward were in charge. No awards were made.

Slated for this Sunday is a contest between the Kinzua and Heppner clubs here on our own course. Tee-off times are at 9:30 and 10:00 a. m.

Saw Helen Schaffitz roll her golf cart over Jack Loyd's feet last Sunday. When he protested, she said, "Just testing."

Note—A golfer is a person who can walk several miles toting 100 lbs. of golf equipment, but who asks junior to bring him an ash tray.

Mr. and Mrs. Vic Kreimeyer, and family, Portland, camped last week at Bull Prairie Dam. On Wednesday they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gimbel and family. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Williamson and family and Mrs. J. R. Huffman.

Little League Season Nearing First Half End

League Standings:

Team	Won	Loss
Giants	5	1
Indians	4	2
Braves	4	3
Dodgers	0	7

Little League baseball enthusiasm is running at a high pitch. First half of the season will close after the Braves tangle with the Indians Tuesday.

The three top teams are still battling it out for positions, and two games, tonight (Thursday) and Friday, will play an important part in the standings as the league-leading Giants meet the second place Indians. For the Braves to stay in the running, they will have to win their two remaining games and hope for a Giant and Indian split this week-end.

The Indians took a see-saw battle from the last place Dodgers last Thursday by a score of 13-12. The Dodgers got the scoring going in the first with four runs on three hits, but the Indians bounced back in the bottom of the first with six runs on three hits to take the lead. The Dodgers went ahead in the second and the Indians tied it up in the third, went ahead on one run in the fourth, then each team scored three in the sixth which gave the Indians the game.

Friday night the Braves pulled a surprising upset over the leading Giants with a 26-7 thumping. The Braves scored four runs in the first, Giants tied it up, and each scored one in the second and from then on the Braves cut loose in each of the remaining innings to win. Pitching for the Giants were Dennis O'Donnell, Keith Curritt and Terry Brock. Going for the Braves were Kent Pratt and Steve and Larry Pettyjohn.

Monday the Indians shutout the Dodgers, 19-0. Russell Killenny, and Steve Kemp teamed to pitch the one-hit game. Going for the Dodgers were John McCabe, Jon O'Donnell, and Kip Scrivner.

Tuesday the Giants were out for revenge getting the Braves with a 14-7 score. Each team was held scoreless until the second when the Giants pushed across a run. The Braves picked up one in the third, and the Giants added three more. From then on the Giants held the lead, scoring in the fourth and fifth. Dennis O'Donnell went the distance for the Giants, and Rick Johnston helped out the cause with a 3-run homer. Kent Pratt started on the mound for the Braves with twin brother, Kevan, relieving him in the fifth.

Game tonight pits the Giants against the Indians and the Anniversary Date Reminder Painful

The traditional nemesis of husbands—failure to remember anniversary dates—is often a painful experience. But Arnold Raymond, Gazette-Times shop foreman, remembered his wedding anniversary Tuesday because of a painful accident.

He was on the job early Tuesday, trying to get work in shape for his vacation next week and also to free Printer Joe Hartle for another visit to the Veterans' hospital, Boise, for a checkup.

While casting slugs on the linotype machine, Arnold got the index finger of his left hand caught in the elevator mechanism, cutting a long deep gash in the finger. He went to Pioneer Memorial hospital for treatment and several stitches were required to close the injury.

To this point, he hadn't even thought of the anniversary. But when he went to fill out the State Industrial Accident form, the date he wrote rang a bell—Wedding Anniversary! Tuesday evening his wife, Valerie, was delighted when the florist delivered flowers to mark the occasion. Her husband had remembered.

(As to the injury, it didn't stop Arnold. He kept at the machine all day long).
