

Over The Tee Cup

Kinzua golfers came to visit us Sunday and found Heppner "bloody, but unbowed." With our course in perfect condition, everyone had a fine time. In the 18 hole men's tournament, Doc Riley was winner of low gross and Clarence Smith held low net for the visitors. Among the local talent, Stuart Gribble tied his dad for low gross, each shooting a 70, but the ol' handi-cap really did the trick and Stu tallied a low net of 56.

Grib had long drive, Van Marter, Sr., was closest to the pin on a pitch to the green on number 5. Only two men out of 37 were able to make their ball stay—both were from Kinzua, Don Slinkard and Al Nisted.

Forty-nine players enjoyed golf and refreshments by the ladies under the direction of Jan Agee. A big job well done!

Ladies' winners from Kinzua were Arlene Schroeder and Bee

Denton, and for our local gals were Vi Lanham and Kay Robinson.

The two-ball forenoon that was played later in the day went "just for fun."

Our men have made another grass green and it's a honey. Thanks to the Conners brothers for the help they give our men in keeping the greens green.

Date to Remember—June 24, Place Kinzua, Golf Match!

Lexington Grange Uses Film, Foods On Dairy Program

LEXINGTON—Lexington Grange No. 726 stressed dairy and dairy products at its meeting Saturday evening. A movie, "New Horizons Along the Milky Way" was shown, provided by the Union Pacific Railway. It was a colored movie, showing dairymen in the newest and most modern ways. A large variety of prepared foods were entered in the dairy products contest, also a part of the lecturer's program. The judges awarded first place honors to Mrs. Ola Ruggles for a cottage cheese and fruit salad; second to Mrs. Edna Turner for her pumpkin pie, and third place to Mrs. Kenneth Smouse for a chocolate cake with cream cheese icing. The Morrow County Creamery did their part in making the contest most interesting, and provided prizes of ice cream. Two new members, John Wagenblast, and Gerald Jonasson were welcomed into the Grange.

Van Marter Assists In Lodge Dedication

LaVerne Van Marter participated in the dedication of the new building of Elks lodge No. 338, Baker, over the week-end, acting as grand chaplain for the event. Going with him from here were Mrs. Van Marter and Mrs. Elaine George. Also attending from Heppner were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Flatt.

Some 1500 persons attended the ceremonies and more than 1000 were served at a Saturday evening banquet. Frank Hise of Corvallis, past grand esteemed lecturing knight, gave the principal dedicatory address. The fine new building is also a spacious structure, measuring 95x45 feet, Van Marter said.
