Style Review Date Changed For County Fair

Four-H leaders voted last Thursday night to move the annual 4-H style revue to Friday night, August 24, of the Morrow County Fair in Heppner to enable the use of the new bleachers that have been purchased by the fair board for many activities according to Esther Kirmis, Morrow county extension agent.

"Although the outdoor revue was a success last year before the rodeo grand stands," informs Miss Kirmis, "A smaller area is desired to put on this fair event more effectively."

The Style Revue committee composed of Mrs. William Rawlins, Mrs. L. A. McCabe, Ione, and Mrs. Andy Van Schoiack, Heppner, have started plans for this year's event. It will be held either in the "Little League" ball grounds or in the livestock show ring area.

At the annual show 4-H girls model the dresses they have been working on throughout the year. It runs the gamut of cotton skirts, cotton dresses, mix-match outfits, formals, wool suits, and coats.

"Having the revue on Friday will give us more time to stage this event," says the committee. "The livestock people will be using the bleachers up until that time."

Four-H home economics events slated for the fair include judging contests on August 21, Style Revue judging and 4-H contests on August 22, and 4-H demonstrations on August 23 and 24. All events are held in the annex building of the fair, advises the agent.

Other committees that will be involved with 4-H activities at the fair include:

Four-H Fair Booth Committee—Mrs. Bud Marshall, Mrs. Avery Taylor and Mrs. Frank Payne, Heppner.

Four-H Fair Float Committee—Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Padberg, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baker, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Van Winkle, all of Lexington.

Rockhound Corner

By BETTY WAGNER

With the advent of summer, rock shows are being held all over the northwest. Prineville had its big show over the Fourth and the North Lincoln Agate Society at DeLake, has set July 28 and 29 for its 20th annual agate show. The Seattle rock show will be September 27 through the 30th—a good time for rockhounds to attend the World's Fair.

Three of our own local families attended the Prineville show. These were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Edger, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Blevins and Mr. and Mrs. George Miller.

June has as its birth stone the beautiful mineral—pearl. This gem differs from others in that it does not form in the earth but in the body of a sea animal. The shell-forming mollusks line their shells with a smooth, often lustrous, layer of nacre. Upon entrance of a foreign substance into the body of a mollusk, the nacre-forming cells begin encircling the foreign substance with layers of nacre, commonly called pearl.

The sea pearl oysters are the only mollusks which produce the valuable pearls. Other pearl-forming mollusks lack the luster and color producing substances which give a pearl its value. Minute crystals of the mineral, aragonite, form the concentric layers of a pearl and any light falling on the overlapping edges of crystals breaks up into little rainbows of color, producing an iridescent quality. Pearl formed in conchs, clams, and most edible oysters lack iridescence because their aragonite crystals are too large.

Randall Peterson displayed several strands of cultured pearls. Laboratory tests are necessary to distinguish cultured from natural pearls. Cultured pearls are real pearls, but are produced by the oysters under controlled scientific conditions; yet out of every 20 oysters opened only about one yields a valuable pearl. The United States sells about 70% of all cultured pearls in the world.

What's so different about the tomato?

It's just about the only thing in the kitchen garden that still needs to be canned with the old-fashioned hot pack, cold pack drudgery. Most other fruits and vegetables can be put up by easy pack—simply washed and frozen. An electric freezer will keep summer freshness and flavor on your table the year 'round.

An electric freezer means economy (stock up when things are in season) . . . convenience (less trips to the store) . . . variety (ice cream and other treats can be served anytime).
