

Full Program Slated for Fair Days Aug. 21-24

Thursday evening at 7:30 one of the biggest events of the entire fair will take place. This is the annual 4-H pig scramble and livestock auction sale. The pig scramble will be held at the sale arena immediately before the livestock auction again this year. All boys and girls will be eligible for the pig scramble if they meet the following qualifications: (1) They must be 9 to 13 years of age inclusive, and must have the consent of their parents or guardian; (2) contestants must be able to supply suitable facilities and feed for pigs caught in the scramble; (3) they must feed out in a 4-H project the pig which they catch and exhibit it or one of its litter at the 1963 fair; (4) they must not have caught a pig in last year's scramble; (5) they must have a signed statement from their parents granting permission and releasing the show management in case of injury.

Pigs for this year's scramble are being donated by local organizations, breeders, service clubs, and 4-H members who have caught pigs in the 1961 scramble. Boys and girls interested in entering the pig scramble should make application with Alfred Nelson, Pig Scramble chairman, at the fairgrounds sometime during the day on Tuesday or Wednesday.

The 4-H livestock auction sale is an event for which 4-H livestock members work all year. They try to produce the best market animals possible for the sale. Everyone interested in supporting the 4-H program or buying a good piece of meat for their locker should plan to attend the auction sale Thursday evening.

Four-H saddle horse club members will be performing in the showmanship and horsemanship classes at the rodeo grounds on Friday morning, August 25. In observing some of the 4-H members practicing for the 4-H horse show, this should be an interesting contest Hay indicated. Winners of the horsemanship classes in the intermediate and senior divisions will be eligible to represent Morrow county at the 4-H Horse Show at the State Fair.

The 4-H Style Revue will be staged at 8:00 p.m., Friday evening in the judging arena. Four-H girls will be modeling the clothing they have made as their 4-H project.

Judges for this year's fair are Dean Frischknecht, Corvallis; Gray Thompson, Pendleton, agriculture; Mrs. George Altkio, Mrs. Russell McKennon, Mrs. Kay Histotomi, Pendleton; Mrs. Kem Tellefson, Mrs. Clifford Brown, Hermiston; and Mrs. Ed Bonham, The Dalles, for Home Economics.

Fair goers are reminded that food will be available on the fairgrounds all day, every day, during the fair.

If you can't have the best of everything, make the best of everything you have.

 junior years. Wayne was Lettermen's club secretary for two years, played in the high school band four years, and was vice president of the musical organization.

The young man who will contribute to the worthy Shrine cause in the forthcoming game graduated as salutatorian of his class, won the local Elks leadership contest and was selected as a recipient of the Oregon Journal award, given to athletes who attain an outstanding record in athletics, scholarship and citizenship.

In the fall Wayne will enter Western Montana College of Education at Dillon, Mont., on a football scholarship. He plans to study to become a high school mathematics teacher.

Coach Sutherland Sounds First Call

Coach Jim Sutherland this week announced the first football practices for the Heppner High Mustang griders. Lettermen will be issued suits and equipment on Friday, August 24, from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m., he said.

Non-lettermen, including freshmen, will be issued equipment on Saturday, August 25, also from 2 to 4 and from 7 to 9.

Lettermen who cannot draw suits at the time indicated are asked to contact the coach and let him know.

First regular practice of the squad will be on Monday, August 27, he said.

Sutherland was working on his master's degree at the University of Montana the first part of the summer, and for the past two weeks has been working at the lone swimming pool.

The Coach has high hopes for the coming season and said that he expects some of last year's veterans to show marked improvements this season.

Jean Collins Has Operation Friday

Jean Collins, 19, injured early Sunday morning, August 5, in an auto accident on the Sandhollow road, underwent an operation to her spine and nerves Friday in Good Samaritan hospital, Portland. Later in the week-end she was feeling fine and was quite cheerful, her father, Bill Collins, said.

A pinched nerve was causing partial paralysis of her legs, and this was relieved by the operation so that she now is able to move her legs and toes to some extent, Collins said. It is expected that she will regain complete movement. However, some concern is felt about possible damage to other nerves that control body functions, and it will be three or four months before it can be ascertained if permanent damage was done.

Doctors state that Miss Collins will be hospitalized for a minimum of two months. Two screws were placed in her spine during the operation to correct damaged vertebrae, her father said.

Don Stroeber, 24, driver of the auto in which Miss Collins was riding, suffered relatively minor hurts in the accident, including a cut tendon. He ran barefooted some two miles for aid after the accident happened on S-curves on the gravel road.

Jean would appreciate hearing from friends here while she is hospitalized, her father said.

Columnist Describes Morrow as 'Remote'

If you're living in Morrow county, you're living in a "remote" section of Oregon.

At least that's the way Neil Morgan, a columnist for the San Francisco Chronicle, describes us in an article forwarded to the editor of the Gazette-Times by Art Crawford of San Jose, Calif., himself a former editor of the local paper.

"Morrow seems to be getting around," writes Mr. Crawford in a note penned on the clipping.

The columnist starts his article, apparently written while on a trip to Portland, with a comment on the lack of a district attorney race here: "When filings for the primary election closed this year in Morrow county, a remote Oregon county more than 2000 square miles in size, no one—Democrat or Republican—had filed for district attorney. Of the county's fewer than 5000 residents, only three are lawyers and none wanted the job."

In another paragraph of the column, Morgan wrote, "Eastern Oregon is the most emphatically rural sector remaining on the Pacific Coast in these days of the migratory rush westward which some have called the continental tilt."

Firemen Called Out To Small Grass Fire

Heppner volunteer firemen were called Wednesday afternoon at 5:25 p.m. to put out a small grass fire at the end of Aiken street on the property of M. J. Struthers. The fire was started by a small boy planning to roast winners over a bonfire. Fire Chief Charles Ruggles said. The firemen suppressed the fire in about 10 minutes time after it had burned a 100-foot square area.

The chief said the most damage was incurred by the rural fire truck itself when, during the blaze, a key on the pump shaft was sheared off and the clutch sleeve was split. This caused the clutch to freeze in pumping position and could not be shut off until the truck motor was turned off. Two mechanics were called from the Western States Fire Apparatus company at Cornelius and arrived here at 3:00 a.m. Thursday (today) to begin the repair job. Ruggles said the job required four hours to complete.

The fire Wednesday is the first since July 18 when a similar grass fire started by youngsters was covered by the local firemen and caused little damage.

Quick action by neighbors in calling in the alarm and keeping it under control until firemen arrived prevented spread to nearby buildings on the Struthers and John Bergstrom property.

Registration Friday For Kindergarten

Parents with kindergarten age children are urged to attend the open house and register their pre-schoolers Friday, August 17 at the George house. The kindergarten rooms will be open from 2-4 p.m. and the registration fee is $10 with a charge of $7.50 per month payable in advance.

Mrs. Roy Tabor will teach the classes again this year. Until all students have been signed up it is not known whether there will be two kindergarten classes. Anyone unable to attend the open house is asked to contact Mrs. Matt Hughes or Mrs. Jim Proek.

The first Civic League meeting is set for Sept. 17 at the home of Mrs. Hughes. The Civic League sponsors the kindergarten and all mothers of kindergarten children are invited to attend the monthly meetings. Mrs. Dave McLeod is president, having assumed the duties when Mrs. Roy Erickson moved away earlier this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Terrel Bengie, Mrs. Matt Hughes and children drove to La Grande Friday to attend the E.O.C. graduation exercises. Mr. Bengie's son, Ralph, graduated with a degree in elementary education.

Ione Principal Wins Barrel Race Trophy

Those who thought the item was all in fun in last week's Gazette-Times about Principal Gene Harryman of Ione High school entering the Morrow County Rodeo, listen to this:

Harryman won first place in barrel racing at Caldwell, Idaho, in their Treasure Valley quarterhorse show with his quarterhorse stallion, Mainline Junior. He received a trophy, prize and ribbon for the event. Harryman also placed first in pole bending.

This week-end he will go to Emmett, Idaho, to enter a similar event.

Alex Ulrich, assault and battery, 90 days in the county jail, fined $75. A minor charged with violation of the basic rule, drivers' license suspended for 90 days.

Mrs. Gene Case is in Portland this week attending a gift show and on other business. She left Friday and expects to be back on Monday.
