HERE IT is Tuesday again and time to get going on the social happenings about town. This week things are rather hectic as anyone can tell you, if they have youngsters involved in the fair! If your party or club news got left out this week please be patient and I'll get after it next week. (If I live through the week!)

JUNE HAS always been the traditional bride and groom month but from the number of wedding showers and engagement stories I wrote this week, I'm sure late August and early September could run a good race for the title.

DUPLICATE BRIDGE play continued on the twice monthly schedule as seven tables gathered last Tuesday night in the Episcopal parish hall. High north-south went to Mae Gilliam and Ambrose Chapin; second, Jim Driscoll and Gordon Huthens; third, Della McCurdy and Harlan McCurdy, Jr. High east-west went to Bert Huff and Gordon Pratt; second, Rachel Dick and Daisy Collins; third, Phil and Hazel Mahoney. The play will meet again August 28.

CARRIE BECKETT was hostess for the Friday Afternoon Pinochle club last week. Pearl Wright ended up the lucky one as she won high and paired off with Grace Buschke to win the pinochle. Carrie had low for the play. Others making up the two tables were Jamina Johnson, Doris Watkins, Gladys Beckett, Beulah Mankin, and Hannah Anderson.

SPEAKING OF showers and weddings, the hostess flutters around getting the house spic and span (sounds like an ad) and wondering what to serve? Joan Hughes solved the serving problem when mother Mary Bengt, made a cheese cake. Joan says they take hours to make and are rich, but, oh, so good. Mary, could I use your recipe in the column.

Then as to weddings, mother is asking herself, "what will I wear? I must get to shopping!" Martha Barak called me on her daughter's wedding, laughed and said if she didn't get to it she would appear at the wedding in burlap and beads! Just a few of the behind-the-scenes activities amid the hustle and bustle and excitement. I can hardly wait!

SUNDAY AFTERNOON the Elks duplicate bridge unit party met at the grade school multipurpose room for master point play. Six tables were in play with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Edmiston, Hermiston, winning high. W. A. Saltmarsh and P. B. Ekstrom, both of Walla Walla, were second. Terry and Karen Thompson were third high for the afternoon.

JUDY AND Robin Nyman were honored with a joint going-away party for them at the Roice Fullerton home August 4. Hostesses were Ruby and Becky Fullerton who entertained friends of the two girls with games and refreshments. The two girls left for their new home in New York.

ORA EVANS told me she got a note from her grandparents, Judy and Robin Nyman, and said they were having quite a time seeing everything and going here and there. They had been to the Waldorf-Astoria and Robin wrote that she was sending some cube sugar from there for her pony! Nothing but the finest!
