LOTS OF social doings happened this past week and such lovely balmy spring-like days for doing your fall yard work. Like one of the girls said, "Don't be too anxious to rake leaves 'cause they just keep falling for some days yet!" Speaking of leaves, take a drive up Willow Creek, the fall yellow, oranges, and greens are just beautiful. A sure-fire cure-all for all aches and pains and fighting kids!

PATTY PROCK entertained two tables of bridge at her home October 9. Only a few days late! Just now caught up with this club. Edda Mae Lovgren won high, Donna Gordon, second; and Betty Gimbel took home the door prize. Gwen Green, Jean Bennett, Dorothy O'Rourke, Joyce Ward, and Jan Agee enjoyed the evening of bridge. Patty says she tried out a new cake recipe served with coffee for the girls.

THE REGULAR Friday afternoon pinochle club met Wednesday afternoon last week with Carrie Beckett as hostess. Millie Evans took high with Doris Watkins getting low. Carrie got in on the win as she and Ann Fehmerling, Portland, won the pinochle. Others in on the play were Marguerite Chapin, Hanna Anderson, Pearl Wright, and Beulah Mankin.

I SPOKE last week of apples coming on the market and now is the time to dig out your favorite recipes and take advantage of the apples. Red Delicious are ideal for eating and fairly good for sauce; Jonathans, McIntosh, Rome Beauties, Winesaps, and Newtons are all good for baking, pies, or sauce, as well as eaten raw. For a 9-inch pie, figure 6-8 medium-sized apples.

DUPLICATE BRIDGE was the menu Friday night at the home of Elsie Cole with three tables playing. Lois Hunt and Elsie teamed up to win high north-south. Laurel Van Marter and Phyllis Hutchens won high east-west. Also playing were Gena Leonard, June Bellenbrock, Lillian Sweek, Lorene Ledbetter, Mildred Davidson, Mary McLeod, Lucia Cutsforth, and Lucille Wilson.

MEMBERS OF the Duplicate Bridge club and their guests enjoyed a no-host dinner at the Wagon Wheel Cafe last Wednesday evening before adjourning to Grace Nickerson's home for three tables of party bridge. Flora Nys won high and Hazel Hamlin was low. Members playing were Ruth McMurdo, Mae Gilliam, Sadie Parrish, Wavel Wilkinson, Grace Turner, Etta Parker, and Grace Nickerson. Guests were Lucille Wilson, Helen Cohn, Della McCurdy, and Hazel.

FINALLY I caught up with Fyoudas and Fidas bridge club. They have met several times already this fall! Rachel Dick entertained the club last Wednesday with high going to Phyllis Hutchens. Beth Bryant won second high. Others in on the play were Elsie Cole, Lorena Jones, Florence Green, Winnifred Cox, Gladys Connor, and Rachel.

THE DUPLICATE Bridge Unit party was held Sunday afternoon, 2:00 p.m. at the Heppner Multipurpose room with six tables in play. The winners were entitled to Master points or fractions and the Howell movement was used in scoring. LaVerne Van Marter and Daisy Collins won high; Laurel Van Marter and Mary Jo Hartzheim, Hermiston, were second; Harlan McCurdy and Gordon Pratt, were third; and Jim Driscoll and Elsie Cole were fourth.

HATS? WHO ever has the right hat to go with the right outfit? Of course we women never have anything to wear! Jean

Potluck Dinner Set For Auxiliary Guests

A joint potluck dinner and meeting is planned by the Heppner Legion and Auxiliary at the Legion hall to host dignitaries of the auxiliary. The meeting will be Monday night, October 29, at 7:00 p. m. The meat dish will be furnished, and members are asked to bring potluck dishes.

Mrs. Vi Larson, Springfield, Legion auxiliary department president, will make her official visit. Also paying their visits to the local auxiliary unit will be Mrs. Bessie Ego, Baker, district 6 president, and Mrs. Nellie Stewart, Baker, district 6 vice president.

Two senior girls, Shannon Mahoney and Shirley Carlson, who attended Girls' State last summer, will tell of their experiences.

Mrs. Frank Hamlin, Auxiliary president, reminds everyone of the benefit card party to be staged at the Legion hall Monday, November 5, at 8:00 p. m. Both bridge and pinochle will be played. Guests may donate a dollar or an unwrapped gift suitable for women or children. The gifts are sent to the Veterans hospital in Portland to be placed in the Christmas gift shop. The veterans may then select from these gifts for items to be sent to their families.

Ball had the hat problem so she asked Lois Johnston if she had a hat she could borrow. Lois said, "Sure, I've got three of them, and all borrowed!" That's an idea, start a hat loaning center.

MARY JEAN McCABE was high scorer Tuesday night at the Bridge Biddies gathering with Donna Gordon hosting the group. Mariann Jonasson won second and Mary McClure took the traveling prize. Joyce Ward was the guest and others playing were Janina Johnson, Mary McLeod, and Jan Agee.

HELEN SCHAFFITZ entertained the Whats Trump club Wednesday afternoon with two tables of bridge in play. Margaret Blake won high. Lota Tibbles was second, and Fay Ferguson was low. Helen served a salad and coffee to Gena Leonard, Virginia Rosewall, Happy Graham, Madge Thomson, Margaret, Lota, and Fay.

RENEGERS BRIDGE club played last Wednesday night at the home of Beverly Gunderson. Bev said she almost had a dilemma with five winners but luckily had picked up one of the gift items for herself and used it for one of the prizes! Laurel Van Marter won high, Harriet Hall and Cork Norene tied for second, Inez Meador was low, and Louise Farley won the traveling prize. And the three unlucky players were Jan Agee, Kay Anderson and Shirley Blake. More fun!

LADIES DON'T forget Ladies Night next Thursday, November 1 at the club rooms. Both pinochle and bridge will be in play.

A CORRECTION on last week's sandwich spread recipe: After the ingredients are cooked, let stand for three hours, then drain before canning or using. The draining procedure had been omitted.

FRIENDS OF Steve Munkers extended best wishes to him Monday on his 11th birthday when his mother, Mrs. Don Munkers invited them to his home after school. She used Halloween decorations for the party, and the boys joined in a game of football after birthday cake and ice cream were enjoyed. Sharing in the happy occasion were Kent and Kevan Pratt, Vernon Frederickson, Donald Cossitt, Ivan Carlson, Jerry, John and Judy Healy, Gary Munkers, Kip Scrivner, Dale and Kay Munkers.

Mrs. Ervin Anderson and granddaughter, Suzanne, and Mrs. Archie Padberg drove to Hermiston Tuesday to visit Mrs. Mary Quener and Mrs. Casha Shaw at Valle Vista home. They also saw Opal Briggs.

African Life, Culture Shown Soroptimists In Illustrated Talk

Native life and culture of central Africa were presented to members and guests of the Heppner Soroptimist club at their luncheon meeting Thursday noon by Mayor Al Lamb. Colored slides illustrated the beauty of tropical nature in jungle, country and city life.

As a member of the first American trade mission sent by our government into central Africa to study and become acquainted with their leaders in business and agriculture, Mayor Lamb returned to America with a deeper understanding of native people, their leaders and their problems.

One of the most outstanding personalities met by the mission group was the 86-year-old humanitarian, Dr. Albert Schweitzer, with whom they visited at his hospital in Lambarene where he has served the natives since 1913. Although primitive, he takes care of his 500 bed hospital with very little outside help, as well as the overseeing of a nearby leper colony of from 150 to 175 patients. He found the average life span of natives to be 35 years, due to tropical diseases stemming mainly from the lack of cleanliness in living conditions. Their good carriage and stature is due largely to heavy manual labor and carrying heavy loads on their heads, de-

State Officer Visits Ruth Chapter Here

Mrs. Lillian Davis, Vernonia, associate grand conductress of the grand chapter of Oregon, Order of Eastern Star, paid her official visit to Ruth Chapter in Heppner October 18.

A no-host dinner at the Wagon Wheel cafe Thursday evening preceded the school of instruction Mrs. Davis held at the lodge hall.

She was honored with an address, "An Apple for the Teacher." Mrs. Dick Paine sang "School Days" during the program.

Mrs. Paul Jones and Mrs. Dick Wilkinson served cake and coffee following the meeting.

veloping tall, muscular bodies, the speaker pointed out. Nearly all travel is done by plane or boat, since only trails are found through the jungle and mountainous areas. Of agricultural importance are the sugar cane plantations, peanut farms, coffee, rubber and banana tree farms.

Mr. Lamb was introduced by Mrs. Wes Sherman, program chairman. He had on display several treasured souvenirs which he had brought or sent home.

Guests for the meeting were Mrs. Lamb, Mrs. Jim Myers, Mrs. Alice McCabe, William Thomas and Jim Hager.

Co-op Hen House Fair Scheduled for Nov. 12

Members of the Lexington Coop Biddies are making plans for participation in the Hen House fair, a feature of the annual meeting of Pacific Cooperatives which is scheduled to meet in Portland the week of November 12.

Anyone wishing to enter articles for exhibit in the fair is asked to bring them to the next meeting of the Lexington club on November 5 at the Lexington

City hall, according to Mrs. Mildred Nolan, chairman.

Exhibits will include art work and products of individual hobbies. The club has been active in its program in stimulating interest in new and unusual art.

Week-end house guest of Diane Schaffitz was Miss ReNae Mills, Ontario. Diane had been a guest of hers recently when she attended a FHA meet in Ontario.

DARNED RIGHT I'LL VOTE FOR CHANDLER!

It's about time we had some solid, no-nonsense representation in Congress. Chandler fits the bill. He's a hard-headed newspaper editor who really knows our area — what we want, what we need. He can get the right kind of job done in Washington. You bet I'm voting for Chandler. Won't you?
