WELL, THE ghosts and goblins have come and gone and with the wonderful parties given by the churches not much damage was done in town. Coming to work last Thursday morning I did notice many businessmen washing windows after the evening frolic!

HERMISTON was host for the Unit bridge party on Sunday afternoon with several from here participating. Helping to make up the five tables in play were the Bill Collins, the Jim Driscolls, Harriet Hall, Doreen Jacobs, Gordon Pratt, and LaVern Van Marter. The Howell movement was used in the scoring with Gordon and LaVern winning high and Bobbe Driscoll and Daisy Collins taking second. The winners are entitled to Master points.

FOURTEEN TABLES of bridge and pinocle were in play last Thursday night at the regular monthly Ladies Night. Sue Jones and Mary Malcom were hostesses, serving coffee to the guests during the evening. Esther Bergstrom won high in pinocle, Maureen Devin, second high; Alta Cutsforth, low, and Jo Huston, door prize. Juanita Carmichael won high in bridge, and Ella Smith was second. Wavel Wilkinson won the door prize. The next Ladies Night is December 6 at the club rooms.

ANOTHER VERY successful card party was held Monday night at the Legion hall with members of the Legion auxiliary as hostesses. Tables had been set up for 16 tables but as people continued to arrive, hostesses scurried around setting up more tables until finally there were 10 tables of bridge and 10 of pinocle. The gifts brought will be sent to the Veterans' hospital in Portland and the money will be used for other worthy causes. President Hazel Hamlin wishes to thank Co-chairmen Bebe Munkers, Mabel Heath, and Ruby Munkers, and Jean Bennett and Fay Ferguson, hospital chairmen. Each table was decorated with fall flowers from Hazel's garden. Baked apple pudding with sauce was served to the guests. Bobbe Driscoll won high in bridge; Dr. Wolff, second, and Cork Norene, low. Adele Wright was high in pinocle; Verna Brinda, second, and Pearl Wright, low. Virginia Rosewall won the door prize.

DORIS WATKINS took high for the afternoon when Beulah Mankin entertained the pinocle club. Hazel Hamlin won low with Beulah and Pearl Wright having the pinocle. The highlight of the afternoon was the surprise birthday party for Carrie Beckett. At about 3:00 p. m. Florence Beckett and Margaret Buschke joined the group for cookies and coffee to help Carrie celebrate her day. We won't tell her age, but I hope I'm as lively and can play pinocle like she does at the same age! Others in on the fun were Hannah Anderson, Gladys Beckett, and Mary Harris.

MARJORIE WORDEN and Juanita Carmichael were hostesses Saturday afternoon at the Masonic hall for the OES Social. They served a delicious whipped cheese dessert. Lois Hunt won high in bridge with Madge Bryant taking high in pinocle. The group meets on the first Saturday of each month for a get-together.

RICKY ANDERSON and mother, Esther, were hosts for a Halloween party at the Anderson home Wednesday night. The little guests came complete with costumes and masks to join in the fun. Taking part were Lance and Todd Williamson, Jerry Gentry, Teresa Hughes, Davy Schmidt, Junior Tabor, Tommy Wolff, Molly Pierce, Stevie Jones, and Lisa Collins. The youngsters enjoyed games of biting apples

Couple Take Wedding Vows In Ceremony At Christian Church

The marriage of Miss Myrtle McCarl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCarl of Harrisburg, to Scott D. McMillan, son of John F. McMillan, Lexington, was solemnized at the First Christian church, Heppner, on Sunday, October 7, at 2:00 p. m. Rev. Charles Knox performed the ceremony, with nuptial organ music played by Mrs. Knox.

Vows were exchanged before a background of standards containing carnations in red and white color scheme and white tapers on altar table, lighted during the ceremony.

The bride chose for her marriage a white cotton brocade sheath, accented with red and white carnation corsage. An illusion veil was held in place by a bandeau covered in matching material of the dress.

Attending as matron of honor was Mrs. Buster Padberg, sister of the groom. She was gowned in a red wool sheath, with white accessories and white carnation corsage.

Attending as best man was Morris McCarl, brother of the bride. Head usher was Mervin McCarl, also brother of the bride. Mrs. McCarl, mother of the bride, wore a grey and black afternoon dress, with white carnation corsage and white accessories.

The couple greeted their guests at a reception in the church social rooms, with Mrs. Theda Stratton in charge of arrangements. Cutting the three-tier wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom, was Mrs. Jim Bloodworth, sister of the groom. Decorations on the bride's table and about the rooms carried out the red and white color theme used in the wedding. Pouring coffee was Mrs. Morris McCarl, and serving punch was Mrs. Mervin McCarl, both sisters-in-law of the bride. Following a trip to Nevada, hung from strings, pinning noses on a jack-o-lantern, and pushing a peanut across the floor with their noses. All were given balloons as prizes. Halloween cookies, marshmallows, and orange punch were given the players. Decorations of ghosts and black cats were made by Ricky and placed about the rooms. The table was centered with decorated pumpkins and candles.

BARBARA GRIBBLE celebrated her 14th birthday November 2 with a hamburger cook-out and slumber party at the Gribble home. To go with the hamburgers, Barbara's mother, Dee, cooked pizzas for them and an enjoyed dinner indoors because of the cold weather. The girls then went to the show and back home to slumber? For the rest of the night (until about 5:30 a.m.) there was lots of gabbing, listening to records, and excitement. Who needs sleep? Dee says it will be a day or two before another "slumber" party! School friends in on the fun were Erna Winchester, Sandy McDonald, Tricia Farley, Brenda Young, Diane Schaffitz, and Linda Long.

BECKY FULLETON entertained friends at the Fulleton home Saturday afternoon with a Halloween party. The little misses went through a fun obstacle course with lots of squeals and giggles. They also had a twisting party, dancing to records. Becky's guests were Pam Johnston, Dee Pettyjohn, Janet McCurdy, Mary K. Campbell, Therese Moore, Julia Ayres, and Kay Munkers. Helping with the party were Diana and Ruby Fulleton, and Karen McCurdy.

NOVEMBER IS turkey month as a traditional holiday favorite. Watch your favorite market for the various sizes and the newer turkey items now available. Some of the new items are: boneless turkey (resembles a ready-to-cook turkey); turkey log (both this and no-bone products); whole turkey leg roast (a thigh and drumstick attractively packaged); and turkey breast (the whole turkey breast is packaged by itself). Wholesalers report boneless turkey may be purchased in sizes ranging from 3 pounds to 16 pounds. For best results don't overcook turkey. On a 7 to 8 pound boneless turkey, 3 hours at 350 degrees; 12 pound turkey with bone in, allow 22 minutes per pound or about four hours at 350 degrees. In thawing the turkey at room temperature allow at least one hour for each pound of bird. After cooking, let turkey stand for one hour for easier slicing.

Degree Officers Attend Meeting

Two Heppner Degree of Honor members attended a district meeting in Corvallis November 1. Going from here were Mrs. Clara B. Gertson, national committeewoman and state director, and Mrs. Bill Farra, state secretary.

They and other state officers assisted with the school of instruction held during the day. Mrs. Gertson had the honor of presenting Scott McMurdo, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. D. McMurdo, with his 25-year membership pin.

A former Heppner resident, now living in Corvallis, Mrs. James Ware, attended the meeting. She is the sister of Mrs. Carl King.

All Degree of Honor members are to bring guests to the next meeting November 13 at the Christian church.

G. A. Booher brought his mother, Mrs. Maud Robison, home last Thursday from Boise, Idaho, where she had visited with him several days. While there, Mrs. Robison celebrated her 82nd birthday. Mr. Booher visited here with many friends and relatives before returning home.

California and along the Oregon coast, the couple is living in Heppner, with Mr. McMillan ranching near Lexington. The bride is a graduate of Harrisburg High school in 1956, and the groom graduated from the Lexington High school.

Speaker Demonstrates Marble Jewelry Art At Club Meeting

The art of making jewelry through use of crystallized marbles was demonstrated to members and guests of the Heppner Mother's club by Mrs. Ola Ruggles at the regular meeting Monday evening. Mrs. Anita Stockard entertained the group at her home, with Mrs. Wes Sherman as assistant hostess.

Members answered roll call by introducing their guests of the evening. Guests included Mrs. Melvin Dixon, Mrs. Herman Winter, Mrs. Kenneth Robinson, Miss Esther Kirmis and Mrs. Ruggles. Presiding at the business meeting was Mrs. Ray Smith. It was decided that each member would furnish a Christmas doorpiece to be delivered to hospital patients for use in their rooms during the holidays. They are to be brought to the next meeting. A gift exchange is also planned for the Christmas meeting, December 3, at the home of Mrs. Rod Murray.

The process of crystallizing glass marbles by extreme heat and cold, and combining them with jewelry materials was demonstrated by the guest speaker, making attractive gifts and accessories. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting to the 13 members and four guests present.

Vets' Potluck Set

All Veterans of World War I and their families are cordially invited to attend Armed Services Day potluck dinner at 12:30 p.m. at the VFW hall in Pendleton, 66.

on Sunday, November 11. It is sponsored by Barracks No. 66, Umatilla. "We hope you are able to come. We would like to see new barracks and auxiliaries in your area," writes Zora Stumbaugh, president of auxiliary No. 66.
