

BOWLING BITS

By JO PETTYJOHN

WELL, BECAUSE the women's bowling night fell on the night before Thanksgiving, we have no news to report until next week. Anyhow the fellows gave with a little excitement!

A WEEK ago Monday night the elks team in sixth place, lost all four points to seventh place Bi-County Chemical. The Lexington Oil Co-op took 3 of the 4 points from Union Pacific to hold fourth place. Co-op player Archie Munkers really bounced the pins around in professional style as he bowled a 201, 206, and 210 for a 617 series!

THIS WEEK the Co-op boys came out with one win out of the four against Brick's Supply. They didn't want the scores printed! Skip Ruhl is bowling in Johnnie Ledbetter's place. The Elks team split with the Hi Ho club with two and two. Elks member Gene Orwick won a hamburger by getting a 6-7-10 split. As it happened, Gene had just finished eating a hamburger so Beulah Esselstyn gave his money back! Bi-County Chemical lost 3 out of 4 against P.G.G. and remain in seventh spot with Elks in sixth and Co-op slipped to fifth.

54 Head Offered At Hereford Sale

Fifty-four head of registered Hereford bulls will be offered for sale at the Ernest Sires' Highway 30 ranch west of Stanfield and 21 miles west of Pendleton on Wednesday, December 5, starting at 1 p.m. Sires and Frank Anderson of Heppner are jointly offering stock in the sale, each furnishing 27 bulls. S. Williams will be auctioneer and lunch will be available on the grounds. Anderson recently returned from Iowa where he purchased 18 head of registered heifers. He made the trip by plane.

THE FELLOWS will bowl again on Monday and the girls will have bowled Wednesday this week and each Wednesday until the league concludes in mid-April.

THE GAME is a little exasperating at times, sort of like golf, you play real well one time and the next time, not so hot! Still lots of fun and especially on Halloween night, all of the teams came in costume, some as the Little League team, Heppner High football team, Doctors on TV, bums, fat people, and darkies, quite a picture!

Library Adds New Books For Reading

Several books, many of them new, have been added recently to the shelves of the Heppner Public Library, according to Mrs. Blanche Brown, librarian.

For adult reading are: Shadow of the Moon, by Kaye; The Anglophile, by O'Neill; Our Glad, by Warren; Macamba, by Saher; A Sunset Touch, by Spring, and The Pepper Tree, by Jennings.

Books of general interest to adults and young adults include: Antarctica: Land of Frozen Time, by Caras, and America's Race for the Moon (The New York Times story of Project Apollo).

In the Junior high group are: Rookie Backstop, by Heuman; Bat Boy, by Bowen; Bristle Face, by Ball; Ghost Horse, by Chipperfield, and Snowman, by Montgomery.

New children's books include: Crystal Mountain, by Rugh; White Boots, by Watson; Off-White Summer, by Wright, and Lonesome Boy, by Bontemps.

Library hours are from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m., and from 7:00 to 8:00 p.m. each Monday and Wednesday; and from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m. each Saturday afternoon.

File folders on sale at the Gazette-Times.

Local Extension Agents to Attend State Conference

"Social and cultural change" is the theme chosen for the 1962 Annual Conference for research, extension and resident instruction staffs in agriculture and home economics of Oregon State University scheduled for December 4-6 on the OSU campus, announces Gene M. Lear, associate director.

Morrow county extension agents, N. C. Anderson, Esther Kirmis and Joe Hay will be among the several hundred persons attending this yearly event.

The assembly, presided over by F. E. Price, Dean and Director will feature such speakers as Dr. James Jensen, OSU President; Herbert Bisno, Associate Professor of Sociology, University of Oregon; Dr. Roy E. Lieuallen, Chancellor of the state system of higher education; and Director E. T. York, Administrator of the Federal Extension Service, Washington D. C.

The state extension staff will head up group discussions on Tuesday pertaining to vocational planning, traditional and changing life span and work-leisure patterns.

Subject matter forms on hormones and light in plant growth, animal genetics, and human motivation will fill the program on Wednesday, according to the official program.

The Home Economics staff banquet, County Extension Agent's Association banquet, and the Epsilon Sigma Phi (ten year and over extension employees) initiation are some of the social events scheduled for the conference.

Mrs. Hatfield Named Honorary Chairman To Lead Seal Drive

With the mailing of letters and TB Christmas seals to residents of Morrow county and official opening of the campaign by the county chairman, Mrs. H. J. Stroeber, announcement is made that Mrs. Mark O. Hatfield, wife of Oregon's governor, has been appointed honorary chairman of the annual state campaign.

Mrs. Hatfield opened the campaign this month by presenting Oregon's first sheets of seals for public use. In accepting, she said, "I share with Mrs. Kennedy, the national first lady of seals, her hope that this year's contribution will be the most generous ever. It is a wonderful demonstration of what can be done with many people sharing in the fight against a disease."

Community chairmen are now busy getting the seals mailed into each home in the county and it is their hope that the seals will be used generously through the holiday season.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Gribble returned home Sunday following a 3-day stay in Portland. Woodburn, and in Salem visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Heath and Sam Heath visited friends in Kamiah, Idaho, November 16-19.

Lexington Groups Meet Socially During Holidays

By DELPHA JONES

LEXINGTON — Past Noble Grands club of the Holly Rebekah lodge met one day last week at the home of Mrs. Gene Majeske with Mrs. C. C. Jones as co-hostess. Plans for entertaining neighboring clubs were discussed, and it was decided to do the entertaining in the spring. After a social hour refreshments were served to Mrs. Oris Padberg, Mrs. Bertha Hunt, Mrs. Earl Warner, Mrs. Lonnie Henderson and Mrs. W. E. McMillan by the hostess and co-hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Henderson and children attended the auto show in Portland on Sunday.

Don't forget choir practice on Thursday evenings at 7 p.m.

Also a reminder on the PTA lighting contest this year. Everyone is asked to get their decorations up early.

Mrs. Roberta Johnson was a visitor this week-end in Lexington looking after her house.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wilson and son of Heppner spent Thanksgiving with her mother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Vinson.

Mrs. Wilbur Steagall and Mrs. George Steagall visited Tommie Steagall, son of the George Steagalls, at St. Anthony's hospital in Pendleton on Friday.

Guests at the Lola Breeding home on Thanksgiving were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Breeding and daughter of Heppner, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Steagall and Mrs. George Steagall and children, Lexington and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Steagall and family of Albany.

Mr. Steagall is a brother of Mrs. Breeding and Wilbur Steagall.

Holiday guests of Bertha Hunt were Mr. and Mrs. Morris McCarl and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hunt and family and Mrs. Opal Key of Heppner.

Johnnie Ledbetter returned home from St. Anthony's hospital Sunday, where he has been a patient for three weeks.

Mrs. Martin Reports Parents Improving

Parents of Mrs. Fred Martin of Ione, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Horton of Dallas, are both improving following operations, Mrs. Martin said upon her return home Sunday after being with them for three weeks.

Mrs. Horton underwent an operation first, and while she was convalescing in the hospital, Mr. Horton became ill and had to be hospitalized. At that time neighbors of the Hortons called Mrs. Martin who went to help them. Both parents are home now.

Mr. Martin also went to Dallas for Thanksgiving week-end. He and his wife attended the OSU-U of O football game in Corvallis after they and son, Ralph had spent Thanksgiving day with Mr. Martin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Martin, and sister, Mamie, at West Linn.

Mrs. Martin returned home Sunday, but Fred remained in Portland for the Oregon Wheat Growers League annual meeting.

Makes Mission Contribution

The Women's Fellowship group of the Lexington Christian church met at the Roy Campbell home on Tuesday with the vice president, Joan Smith presiding. A check was sent to John Runyon at this time for needed supplies at the McKinley Indian Mission in Toppenish, Wn. Refreshments were served later.

Mrs. Cora Allyn, who is a patient in Pioneer Memorial hospital nursing home, was able to be at her home on Friday and spend the day with her family. Those present for the occasion were Lyle Allyn of Oakland, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fox, a daughter from Wenatchee, Wn., and her daughter Ruth of Pendleton, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Allyn of Portland and Louis of Lexington.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Cox and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Jones attended a card party at the Joel Engleman home in Ione on Saturday honoring Mr. Engleman on his birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Majeske are Portland visitors this week. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Marshall were dinner guests at the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Palmer on Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mounts and son Steven of Maupin were dinner guests and week-end visitors at the Gene Majeske and A. F. Majeske homes.

Those spending Thanksgiving Day at the Roy Campbell home were, Mr. and Mrs. Will Crow of Cascade, B. C., sister and brother-in-law of Mr. Campbell; Mr. and Mrs. Art Keene, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Campbell and three children. Mr. and Mrs. Crow are visiting her and renewing acquaintances. Mr. Crow will be remembered here by old timers as the grandson of Mrs. Booher and nephew of Sylvia Beymer.

Mrs. Munkers to Head Rebekahs

Holly Rebekah lodge held its regular meeting last week with Noble Grand Berniece Wilton in the chair. Preceding the meeting a potluck dinner was enjoyed. Tables were decorated in the Thanksgiving theme, with matching napkins. The business of the meeting was the election of officers with the following elected to office: Dimple Munkers, noble grand; Edna Fetsch, vice grand; Delpha Jones, secretary; LaVerne Henderson, treasurer, and Mrs. Merle Cornellson, two-year trustee. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Henderson and children attended the auto show in Portland on Sunday.

They returned last Tuesday from four weeks of thrilling rides by jet plane, guided tours of scenic and historical spots, and the capturing of a nine foot sailfish in the waters near Acapulco, Mexico.

They toured much of New York City, many places of historical interest in Washington, D. C., including the United States Mint, and nearby eastern cities. Their trip south took them to Florida, Nassau, on to Mexico City and to Acapulco where a deep sea fishing trip was climaxed by a 30-minute fight in reeling in a 9 ft. 2 in., 135 lb. sailfish by Mr. Cox. They are having it preserved to hang in their home as a memento of the exciting occasion.

The group returned to Salt Lake City by way of Los Angeles, from where they took a plane to Pendleton. The son, Marvin Cox, makes his home in Springville, Utah, and operates a drive-in theater in nearby Provo.

Mrs. Max Buschke and Mrs. Carey Hastings attended a buyers' market in Portland the first of the week.

Couple Experiences Jet Vacation Trip

Jet travel in some of its highest and fastest sense, was experienced this month by Mr. and Mrs. Dee Cox, Jr., on their trip across the country and on south into Mexico.

They returned last Tuesday from four weeks of thrilling rides by jet plane, guided tours of scenic and historical spots, and the capturing of a nine foot sailfish in the waters near Acapulco, Mexico.
