Sans Souci Lodge Joins Odd Fellows For Christmas Party

Sans Souci Rebekah Lodge No. 33 will meet December 21. After regular routine of lodge work a Christmas party is planned with the Oddfellows joining in for the gift exchange. Noble Grand Jane Payne also plans to honor those members having birthdays in the last three months of the year.

At the December 7 meeting Prudy Casebeer was elected Vice Grand for the coming year. Installation of new officers was briefly discussed with a tentative date set for January 5 if agreeable with the Oddfellows, as these lodges always hold joint installation.

After the meeting several brother Oddfellows joined in on a hobo party with chief hobo, Mattie Green, engineering a program, after which she served stew from tin cups.

John Wightman displayed the electric clock presented by the Elks lodge. This will be a most welcome addition to the lodge hall.

Heppner Unit Holds Christmas Party

A large group met at the home of Mrs. Riley Munkers last Tuesday for the Heppner Extension unit's Christmas party.

Favorite recipes were exchanged and each member brought along her project of the moment which included knitting, Christmas candy, and a candy wreath. Another project for the day was the making of marble jewelry which involves "frying" the marbles and cooling them quickly. This causes them to crack inside making interesting designs.

At noon they enjoyed a potluck dinner and listened to Christmas carols which included the record made by Marvin Soward, son of Rev. and Mrs. Earl Soward. Everyone brought gifts and they exchanged them during the afternoon. Mrs. Ola Ruggles won the Dutch auction which was sent by Mrs. Wavel Wilkinson.

Christmas decorations were used about the rooms in keeping with the holiday theme.

Those attending were Mrs. Bill Heath, Mrs. R. G. Watkins, Mrs. Bud Peck, Mrs. John Lane, Mrs. Robert Cossitt, Mrs. Ray Drake, Mrs. Nora Turner, Mrs. Edna Turner, Mrs. Lee Scribner, Mrs. Joe Wright, Mrs. Frank Connor, Mrs. Creston Robinson.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Howard Crowell of Lone, and Mrs. Jerry Dougherty of Lexington, sisters of the bride, and Miss Marcia Bunnell of Pendleton, a cousin of the groom. They wore daring red colored taffeta with short sleeves and bell skirts caught at the back with a Dior rose like that of the bride. They wore matching headbands and carried white carnations combined with small silver Christmas balls on pine branches.

Best man was James Thorne of Pendleton. Ushers were Bill Steagall, brother of the bride; Jay Brandhagen, brother of the groom; Glen Walker and Jerry Dougherty.

Nuptial music was played by Mrs. Dave Baker of Lone. The reception followed in the church social hall with decorations carrying out the holiday theme in red and silver against pine. The four tiered cake was iced in white with red accents and each tier was separated by a brandy snifter filled with pine and silver balls with a smaller snifter topping the cake. BOWLING BITS

By JO PETTYJOHN

BOWLING KEEPS moving right along. For some it was quite a night and for others, who's talking? Ask the Elks men's team or MCGG women's team! The men's league concluded the first half of play Monday night and will not play again until January 7 when they begin the second half. The women's leagues have two games left in the first half. Wednesday of this week and Wednesday, January 2. The first four top teams are only five games apart from first place to fourth place so anything can still happen.

PADBERG MACHINERY had a good night last Wednesday as it whacked second place Burns Mortuary all four games to drop Burns into fifth place while Padberg moved from fifth to fourth. Padberg had high team series of 2667 and high team game of 900 and third high of 885! Teammate Vonnie Lovgren had high individual series of 456 which is third high of all the teams for the week. Turner, Van Marter, and Bryant also had a winning night, taking all four from Echo Meat Market and moved from fourth to third still only 1/2 game above Padberg. Earlene Miller had high series of the two teams with a 426 and Vesta Kilkenny had the game high of the two teams of 171. As for MCGG, they bowled, but not good enough as they lost all four to second place Sheets Clothing. Not mentioning any names, but the game high for MCGG was a 128, so really an interesting night. The team remains in sixth place. There's always another night!

DEAN HUNT says they really have something to shout about as his team, the Lexington Oil Co-op, had some good scores. They swept all four from Bi-County. Dean had a 550 series, Vernon Munkers a 526 series, and Archie Munkers had a high game of 203. Bob Kilkenny of Bi-County had a high series of 547. The Co-op team ended in fourth place and Bi-County in seventh. Kenny Turner, of Bi-County, decided he needed to do something as he couldn't hit those pins so he daubed up his fingers with the bowling "stickum" only to hit four strikes in a row! Wonder if that would solve all the bowling problems? Dean says the next time they bowl against him, he hopes Kenny uses tar!

Gene Orwick of the Elks team said he would just as soon no names or scores were mentioned in the one-win, three-loss game against U. P. R. Monday night. 'Nuff said! They ended up in sixth place at the end of the first half of play. Now for the second play.
