Mrs. Robert Jepsen's fifth and sixth grade Sunday School classes of the Ione Community church met Saturday morning, January 26, to go on a ski trip. They left the church at 7:00 a.m. and traveled to Spout Springs. They spent the entire day at the ski area, where Robert Jepsen instructed them in skiing. On the way home they stopped for dinner at the home of Mrs. Jepsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Lieut-Allen of Pendleton.

Those making the trip were Bob Benson, Barbara Boyce, Terry Cannon, Connie Emert, Frank Halvorsen, Mike Hedman, Susan Jepsen, Linda Nichols, Keith Nelson, Christine Nelson, Earl Pettyjohn, Linda Pettyjohn, Paul Proudfoot, Teresa Tucker, Mark Tullis, Linda Williams, and Earl Franklin.

Those taking cars and helping with the outing were Robert Jepsen, Gary Tullis, Norman Nelson, and Pete Cannon. These same young people are planning a bowling trip in April.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Larsen and daughter of Portland were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jepsen from Wednesday, January 23, to Saturday, January 27. Mrs. Larsen is a sister of Mr. Jepsen. While here they visited with other relatives of the vicinity.

Attend U of O Senior Preview

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin and son Ralph journeyed to Eugene Saturday, January 27, to attend the Duck Preview for the high school graduating seniors who may be interested in attending the University of Oregon in the fall. There were over 800 seniors in attendance. On their way home, they visited Mrs. Roy W. Lindstrom at the Emanuel hospital in Portland.

Close For Townsend Services

The senior boys of Ione high school were honorary pall bearers at the funeral of Mancel Townsend on Monday, January 28, at the Ione Community church. There was no school in Ione Monday. The basketball game, the Rainbow installation and the reception for Arnie Hedman, which were all scheduled for the week-end, were cancelled in honor of this young man.

Mrs. Ernest Christopherson and daughters Connie and Wendy travelled to The Dalles Saturday, January 27, on business. On Sunday, Mr. Christopherson and daughter Connie motored to Richland, Wn., to attend a Stake preparation meeting for the officers of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Lexington PTA To Hear Speakers

LEXINGTON—Two guest speakers, L. H. Burman, psychologist, and Dr. Martin Gish, psychiatrist, both on the staff of the State Hospital in Pendleton, will appear on a special program planned for Tuesday evening, March 12, by the Lexington PTA organization.

Dr. Gish has been director of the out-patient clinic at the eastern Oregon hospital for several years, and Mr. Burman has had exceptional experience in dealing with mental and emotional problems of young people. The two will talk on basic behavior of children and conditions responsible for emotional problems of children and parents. Those having any particular problem to ask may make use of the question box which will be used in discussion.

All interested people in the county are invited to attend the special meeting, share in the question box discussions, and social hour following the meeting.

Mac High School Group Entertains At PTA Meet

By LAVELLE PARTLOW

IRRIGON—Mrs. Harold Gagle, president, presided at the PTA meeting in the new cafeteria Monday evening, January 21. The meeting began with presentation of the flag by Boy Scout Troop No. 167, followed by the Invocation by Harvey Warner. The Secretary and treasurer's reports followed, given by Mrs. Andy Skiles and Mrs. Vernon Stewart.

Al Reeves, Scoutmaster, reported there were 20 boys now attending Scouts, and requested an assistant to help in the meetings and activities of the Boy Scouts. Don Omscheid, principal of A. C. Houghton Elementary, stated that new curtains had been ordered for the stage. Mrs. W. F. Coy, Christmas Seals chairman, reported that the contributions to Christmas Seals totaled $100. Mrs. Gagle reported that Sandra Creamer, freshman at EOCE, received the $75 scholarship sponsored by the PTA.

Entertainment for the evening was by a group of senior men at McLoughlin High school, Milton-Freewater, known as the "Folk Williams Four." The quartet and their guitar-accompanist were: Rich Gillette, Gary Kilburg, Lee Bogle, Ray Brumbach and Larry Riggs. The audience was both amazed and delighted with the talent of these musicians, as they sang a variety of folk songs, providing three encore numbers. Bob Tolar, high school instructor at Milton-Freewater, and brother of Mick Tolar, teacher at A. C. Houghton Elementary, brought the boys over. Following the entertainment, refreshments were served.

Martin F. Holmes of the Traffic Safety Division of the State of Oregon spoke for an assembly at A. C. Houghton Elementary Thursday, and explained the operation of the Safety Patrol that will soon be established at the crosswalk at 8th street, the crossing near the post office. Patrols will be on duty from 8:10-8:30 a. m., 2:30-2:45 p. m. for the primary grades, and from 3:15-3:30 p. m.

A. C. Houghton won over Stanfield in their A basketball game by a score of 27-16, and Stanfield won the B game 25-16. Arlington will play at A. C. Houghton Friday, February 1, at 2:30 p. m. Stanfield will play at A. C. Houghton Friday, February 8, at 2:30 p. m.

Riverside High school will meet Echo on the Riverside floor Friday, February 1, at 6:30 p. m., and Riverside will play at Helix Saturday night. Umattilla plays at Riverside Friday evening, February 8, and Riverside goes to Umpine Saturday night, February 9.

The "Sewettes" 4-H club met January 22 at the school house with 10 members present. A quiz was held on the various parts of a sewing machine. The Phase No. 1 girls made patterns for their shear cases, and the Phase II girls worked on their T. V.
