Heppner Soil District Slates Annual Meeting Feb. 5

By N. C. ANDERSON

Arrangements have been completed for holding the annual meeting of the Heppner Soil Conservation District on February 5. It will be an evening meeting starting at 7:30 and will be held at the Lexington Grange hall.

In addition to the regular business and report of accomplishments, Dr. Grant Blanch, OSU Agricultural Economist, will speak on "Taxes and Resource Development." A film, "Water for A Nation" will be shown. This film should fit well into the role that Morrow county is now quite actively involved in relation to development of its water resources. There will also be a short report on watershed activities on Willow and Rhea Creeks. Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

Bureau Sets Meeting With Farm Irrigators

February 5 is also an important date for Willow Creek irrigation farmers. At the request of several, after the January 14 hearing on the Willow Creek dam, arrangements were made where representatives of the Bureau of Reclamation could meet with all irrigation farmers to answer questions which they might have relative to the irrigation phase of the proposed dam. Questions such as regulations on winter irrigation, effect on water rights, how much and when would irrigation water be allotted, etc., have been raised.

Cold Weather Shows Some Grain Damage

There has been a lot of speculation about how much damage our cold weather has done to crops. We are sure that there is some damage because of the small amount of snow cover over most of the county when temperatures dipped quickly on January 10. While we are sure that there has been quite a little barley, especially spring varieties seeded in the fall, that will need to be reseeded it is really too early to tell exactly how much damage has been done.

New Anderson Breeding Stock Shows Excellent Returns

Last week while grading and weighing the 1962 Hereford heifer crop at the Frank Anderson ranch, we were happy to see the continued advancement of quality in his registered Hereford herd. We have graded these cattle for almost 15 years and, while 2 plus grades were few and far between, we found the majority of the 23 heifers graded last week to be of high confirmation and quality to rate 2 plus's with three heifers good enough for a 1 grade. There were only two heifers that graded a 2. This is a good record in anyone's herd regardless of their breeding program. The heifers were looking especially thrifty and weight showed a daily gain of slightly under a pound to 1.4 lbs., on stubble.

Frank has, over the past couple years, made a practice of weaning his bull and heifer calves running them back on the stubble and keeping them out most of the winter with only a short feed period. This, of course is the most economical way to run these as long as they are making moderate gains and developing into the kind of cattle that everyone can use under their ranch conditions.

We were happy, too, to see two new herd sires which had just arrived from the National Western Stock Show at Denver where Frank had purchased them on January 15. These two bulls of excellent quality will add much to the "bull battery" now used in the herd. The two new bulls, one of Real Onward-Tex Zato Heir breeding was purchased from Alec Born and Sons, Follett, Texas; the other, Domino Prince M 224 was consigned by Weiss & Sons, Manning, Iowa. This is the same breeder from whom Frank had purchased earlier this fall 19 registered replacement heifers. Both bulls are thick, deep and heavy for their age promising to grow out to be as large as their sires which run into the 2200 lb. weight class. One will be 2 years old in May; the other 2 years in September. They are surely the quality that we like to see in a good breeding herd like Frank has built up.

Recommendations Made On Chemical Summerfallow

We have been having some inquiry on chemical summerfallow lately and would like to make a timely recommendation for those who might be considering this practice. Late last fall we notified all farmers that Atrazine had been cleared for winterfallow. This clearance was limited to applications by January 1 for use on land to be 1963 fall planted to winter wheat.

For those who have some cheatgrass or rye in stubble which they want to be sure to control and did not get to use this new recommendation, Amitrol with 2,4-D can still be used. Use 2 lbs. of 50% Amitrol combined with 2 lbs. of 2,4-D butyl ester applied in 10 or more gallons of water by air. Spray before April 30 after the weeds have germinated and before they are five to six inches tall. If spring grain is to be seeded, apply at least 3 weeks prior to seeding.

New Bulletin Published On Discussion of Wills

We have a new publication, Extension Bulletin 807, "A Will of Your Own." This answers questions about your property and heirs and upon looking it over it appears to be a fine piece of reference material for those who have or will be making a will.

Discussed in the bulletin are such things as what is a will, what is meant by property, ways of owning property, joint tenancy or tenancy by the entirety, a substitute for a will, who gets property, if there is no will, why have a will, who may make a will and who should have one, Oregon requirements for wills, preparation of wills by lawyers, formalities in wills, steps in making will, what does a will contain, the role of the executor, probate procedure, property owned and wills made in other states, revoking a will, letter of last instructions, valuable family records and instructions and the language of the law. We would be happy to provide you with a copy through a phone call, letter or a personal call to the office.

Agent to Attend Western Farmers Meeting

I will be absent from the county on Thursday and Friday of this week while attending a Western Farmer's Association educational meeting at the Thunderbird Motel in Portland on the 31st and a regional USDA meeting in the Congress Hotel in Portland on February 1.

The USDA meeting which will be attended by ASC, extension and personnel from other USDA agencies, representatives of farm organizations, trade associations, the press and other interested groups to improve understandings concerning the forthcoming wheat referendum.

'Money Management' Series Begins Tonight By Extension Service

There's more truth than fiction in the saying, "whether a fellow winds up with a nest egg or a goose egg depends a heap on the kind of chick he married."

This saying works the other way, too. The truth is that couples have a greater chance for happiness if both husband and wife have healthy attitudes about money, says Esther Kirmis, Morrow county extension agent.

Recognition of the fact that money is an important family affair is the reason Morrow County Extension Service encourages couples to attend the new family finance series on "Money Management."

The programs will be held on four consecutive Thursday evenings beginning tonight (Thursday), at 7:30 p. m. in room 1 in the basement of the Heppner high school.

Succeeding Thursdays will see such topics as "Wise Use of Credit," "Your Family's Stake in Social Security" and "Savings and Investments."

The same "Money Management" shortcourse is being conducted at the old Irrigon school for four Mondays, beginning January 28.

IFYE Don Walls To Speak Before Groups Next Week

Don Walls, Oregon International Farm Youth Exchange to Honduras, returned to Oregon recently after living with families for six months in various parts of that rugged South American country.

The first month he was in Honduras he got acquainted with many of the people by living for two weeks at an agricultural college for boys from 14 Latin American countries. Don answered many questions about dating, marriage, education, religion, politics and one of their favorite subjects—American movies. The third family he stayed with he experienced plowing with a wooden plow and a pair of oxen and throwing a net to catch fish. His "brother's" wife was delighted when he prepared chicken, mashed potatoes, gravy, rice and biscuits for the family. Don said this was the first time he had ever cooked over an open fire clay oven.

One of his most memorable experiences was living with the Carlos Lopez family on a large banana plantation owned by the United Fruit Company. Some 8,000 acres of bananas surrounded the Lopez house. Don will show slides he got working with Carlos in the banana harvest.

In addition to really seeing how people lived, Don and his host father made a mule trip into some of the most rugged mountainous country in Honduras.

Almost every place Don went in Honduras he was asked to talk to 4-H clubs. He said the club members particularly enjoyed pictures he had of 4-H summer school delegates at Oregon State University. Don says that his IFYE experiences will always remain with him because of the life-long friends he made. Don, a former 4-H club member from Hermiston, is a 1962 graduate of Oregon State University.

Joe Hay, county agent, reported that Don will be in Morrow county on February 7, 8 and 9. He is scheduled to talk to the Heppner Grade and High schools Thursday morning, February 7, starting at 9:45. He will have a program for the Heppner Soroptimist club at noon and will be at the lone High school at 2:30 Thursday afternoon.

On Friday Don will present his program at Riverside High school at 9:45 a.m. and at the Irrigon school at 12:30. Friday evening the Rhea Creek Grange will hear him and Saturday he will be at Lexington Grange.

Council Leaders Discuss Child Development Topic

"Helping Children Develop Responsibility," a topic developed by Roberta C. Fraiser, OSU family life specialist, was presented by Esther Kirmis, Morrow county extension agent, before 20 4-H leaders and guests at the quarterly leaders council meeting held at the Marcel Jones home on January 24.

By the use of a tape recording by Mrs. Fraiser, the group heard her discuss such topics as "What is responsible behavior?", "How does responsibility develop?", and "Do chores develop responsibility?" The program was concluded with discussion on ideas that might be used to help 4-H boys and girls.

During the business meeting it was voted to subscribe to "The National 4-H Club News," the 4-H official magazine, for each leader. Leader's Banquet on February 12, mileage for Oregon 4-H club conference delegates, and National 4-H Club Week in March were discussed. Mrs. E. M. Baker was appointed as the county's representative on the Oregon 4-H Foundation.

The next quarterly meeting will be April 24 at the Leo Ashbeck home in the Pine City area.

"The program on Developing Responsibility" is available for any church groups, PTA's or women's organization," says Miss Kirmis.

Those attending the meeting Thursday night included:

Mrs. Larry Cook, Mrs. Eva Griffith, Mrs. Rachel Harnett, Wilbur Van Blokland, Mrs. N. C. Anderson and Douglas, Mrs. Robert Abrams, Jim Bloodworth, Mrs. Barney Malcom, Everett Struckmeier, Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hay and Esther Kirmis, all of Heppner.

Kenneth Smouse and Mrs. William Rawlins, Ione; and Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Witherrite, and Mrs. Leo Ashbeck of Echo.

Club Buys Flags

A meeting of the Knifty Kniters was held at the home of Chris Munkers on January 21. We discussed what we should do with the money we had left over from last year. We decided to buy flags. We also talked about having a junior leader, and all were in favor.

There were two visitors, Mrs. Leonard Munkers
