

March of Dimes Donations Lag

Contributions to the 1963 March of Dimes are far below normal. Mrs. Jack (Shirley) Loyd, county chapter chairman, states. As of January 30 only $333.17 had been received of which $256.97 came from Heppner and Lexington and $76.20 was from Ione.

A benefit basketball game January 31 brought in an additional $252.

In past years the campaign has brought as much as $2000, she said.

Mrs. Loyd urged residents to return the mailers, which have been sent to all boxholders, with their contributions. Other coin containers were distributed through the schools.

Mrs. Loyd pointed out that the National Foundation and its chapters are still paying for treatment of polio cases that occurred prior to the development of vaccines. The Foundation is also dedicated to research on arthritis and birth defects as well as promoting the Salk Research center which will work towards alleviation of many of mankind's diseases.

FROM THE Industrial News Review comes this one: The new Communist ruler had a stamp put out with his picture on it. He went into a small post office in Bulgaria and found that the postmistress was not selling these stamps. Upon being asked the reason she explained, "They won't stick."

The Communist leader showed the postmistress how firmly the

Rhea Grange to Hear IFYE Speaker Friday

Featured speaker at the Rhea Creek Grange meeting Friday evening will be Don Walls, recently returned Oregon International Farm Youth Exchange to Honduras. He will speak and show slides of his travels and experiences while living with farming families in the South American country. He is a 1962 graduate of Oregon State University and a former 4-H club member from Hermiston.

A potluck supper at 6:30 will precede the program. All members and friends in the area are invited to hear the guest speaker.

DR. FRED SHIPPS, radiologist at Good Samaritan hospital, indicated damaged portion of artery in connection with his study on "Determination of Blood Flow by Angiography," which utilizes x-ray. Study is largely financed through grant from Oregon Heart Assn., which conducts fund-raising campaign annually during month of February.

Heart Campaign Starts in State

Thousands of volunteers throughout Oregon went into action Friday in the annual Heart Fund campaign of the Oregon Heart Assn., to be climaxed the week of February 17 to 24 when door-to-door solicitations will be made.

Robert Van Houte has been appointed county chairman for the Heart Fund and said that plans are being formed for a house-to-house canvass. This may be undertaken about February 24.

The February campaign is under the chairmanship of Mrs. M. J. (Pete) Pinney of Pendleton, with A. T. (Stats) Gill, Oregon State university basketball coach as honorary chairman.

Mrs. Pinney urged Oregonians to "give as generously as possible" in support of the Oregon Heart association's programs in research, education and service.

"The American Heart association, of which OHA is an affiliate, is the only national voluntary organization that fights all of the heart and circulatory diseases," Mrs. Pinney said.

"These diseases kill more Americans each year than all other causes of death combined," she stated. "Heart attack alone was responsible for more than 490,000 deaths in the United States last year."

Grange Program To Feature Talk, Films by Exchange

By DELPHA JONES

LEXINGTON—Members and friends of Lexington Grange will have an opportunity to hear Don Walls, Oregon International Farm Youth Exchange to Honduras, at the grange meeting Saturday evening, February 9. The young Hermiston man will speak and show slides of his six months stay in farm homes in the rugged South American country. A potluck supper will be served at 6:30 p. m., followed by the special program, open to the public.

Several work days were held last week at the Lexington Christian church, and as a consequence the vinyl tile has all been laid in the social parlors of the church.

Mrs. Charley Padberg underwent a tonsilectomy at Pioneer Memorial hospital one day last week.

Eugene Sawyer of Portland was a visitor at the Ken Klingler home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Messenger and family were Hermiston visitors last week.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Cutsforth have returned home from a two weeks plane trip to Las Vegas, and way points.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Breeding of Portland were week-end callers at the home of his mother, Mrs. Lela Breeding.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Davidson were Pendleton visitors one day last week.

A recent week-end visitor with Miss Leora Mae Van Winkle was Miss Linda Thornburg of Pendleton.

The Three Links club card party scheduled at the Odd Fellows home for Saturday was postponed because of the freezing weather. The party is now scheduled for April 6. The regular March meeting, however, is still scheduled for March 2 as planned.

Brownie Investiture Held

Investiture Services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Walter Smith home for the Lexington Brownie troop. The young ladies being invested were Carlita Marquardt, Kelly Kilkenny, Sharon Nelson, Debra Yocom, and Barbara McCarl. Others present for the meeting were Penny and Billie June Marquardt, Marlene Smith and June Ledbetter.

Walt Wallace was a recent overnight patient in Pioneer Memorial hospital.

Cecil Jones, Grange Insurance agent was a Condon visitor on Saturday where he attended the meeting of the Igo Grange.

Larry Henderson, who is employed in Hood River, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Henderson, over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Greg Leyva and daughter of Medford were Lexington visitors over the week-end. Plans are being made for them to move to Hood River where Mr. Leyva will be employed.

The Lexington PTA is planning a special meeting March 12, at which time L. H. Burman, psychologist, and Martin Gish M. D., psychologist of E. O. hospital, will be speakers.

Glass Named Page In State Senate

Tom Glass, son of Mrs. Velma Glass of Heppner, has been appointed a page in the State Senate, working there one-half day of each week day. He was sponsored for the position by Senator Ben Musa of The Dalles.

Tom is attending Willamette University where he is a sophomore studying pre-law. He is attending university classes in mornings and working as page in the afternoons.

Mrs. Groshens Directs High School Chorus

Among changes in Heppner High school music department this semester, is the addition of Mrs. Ola Mae Groshens as director of chorus students, making it possible for Arnold Melby to supervise band music in Ione. Mrs. Groshens formerly had only elementary vocal music in Heppner and Lexington.

Although no programs are currently scheduled, chorus students are looking forward to performing in a spring concert under the direction of Mrs. Groshens, with band still under the direction of Mr. Melby.

Ask a Stickleback
how he likes the water

Who knows water better than a fish?

The fish we employ as water experts are tiny Sticklebacks. We pay them liberally in brine-shrimp, no salary deductions.

It's all because we use millions of gallons of water daily in our refineries. After use, it is treated with algae, bacteria, chemicals, sunshine and oxygen, to make sure the water is clean and pure when we return it to stream or sea.

As an ultimate safeguard, we let our Sticklebacks test the water, before it is released. If they like it, we know it will be happy water for any fish.

The object is to keep our streams and coastal waters pollution-free with abundant fish to nibble your hooks, and clean playgrounds for your water sports.

Many other industries which depend upon water are equally careful. Our common concern is to protect a priceless heritage.
