Classes Compete In School Drives

Classes in Heppner High school are competing in two drives during February, for which citizenship points will be given toward an annual class award. A citizenship plaque will be awarded at graduation to the class having the highest total of points accumulated in student activities during the year.

The annual World Clothing Week is being held this week, with classes competing for total pounds collected. The drive will close at the close of school hours on Friday. Clothing of all kinds is being collected, but it should be clean. Anyone having donations may call any high school student or leave word at the school office by phoning 676-9138. Student chairman of the drive is Shannon Mahoney, with one representative from each class assisting. The clothing is to be sent to help people in disaster areas of the world.

A March of Dimes drive is scheduled for two weeks, from February 11 through February 23. Co-chairmen of the drive are two junior class members, Phyllis Nelson and Bill Sherman. Classes are competing, with each class choosing a candidate for King and Queen. Candidates of the winning class will be crowned King and Queen of the March of Dimes dance following the game with McEwen Saturday, February 23, with other candidates as members of the court. Winners will be announced at half-time of the game. Each class is planning special activities for money raising.

Cooking Club Meets At Leader's Home

A new girl, Susan Chally, was welcomed at Kettle and Spoons 4-H club January 23. Susan Stark was chosen committee chairman for ways and means committee. Our leader, Mrs. Robert Abrams, showed us how to keep our records and our junior leader, Joan Stockard, told us how to make a motion. We learned to make a banana milk drink.

At our meeting January 30 Joan Stockard told us of goals. We then chose the goals we should do. We made cocoa and had it for refreshments.

Both meetings were at the home of Mrs. Abrams.

MRS. OLA M. RUGGLES (right), of Heppner, her son, Charles and his wife, Helen, found during a recent visit to a Honolulu supermarket that Washington flour bakes most of Hawaii's bread. The Ruggles also visited a cane sugar refinery during an Oregon Grange trip to Hawaii. They saw Oregon products being sold throughout the 50th State, which receives more than $17 million worth of farm and factory products from Oregon ports annually. They were told that 90 per cent of the flour used in Hawaii comes from the Pacific Northwest.

Drawings Available For Expandable Barn

Working drawings of an expandable barn for riding horses are now available to residents of Oregon from Oregon State University extension service.

M. G. Huber, OSU agricultural engineering specialist, says Oregon now has an estimated 100,000 horses and the number is increasing with the growing popularity of riding horses.

The expandable barn is suitable for any region of the state. Developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, it provides space for two 12x12 foot box stalls, a tack room and a feed room. The barn is 34 feet long and 22 feet wide.

Floors in the feed and tack rooms are concrete; stall floors are earth.

The building is of frame construction and plans show how to build either a low-pitched roof or a steep roof for areas of heavy snowfall. The roof will withstand snow loads up to 20 pounds per square foot or winds that do not exceed 75 mph.

The plan also shows an alternate detail roof that will stand heavier snow loads and winds of hurricane force. In very cold or hot climates, the roof should be insulated.

Complete drawings are free and may be obtained from local county extension agents or from the OSU Bulletin Clerk, Corvallis. Ask for Plan No. BP-57.

Groups to Choose Royal Pair to Reign Over Sweetheart's Ball

Two active organizations in Heppner High school, the Future Homemakers of America and the Future Farmers of America, will join in sponsorship Friday night, February 9, of the annual Sweetheart's Ball in the high school gym.

Theme chosen for the evening's entertainment will be "In Old-Fashioned."

At half-time intermission, a King and Queen will be announced and crowned, chosen from a group of three candidates for each honor. Voting will be done within the two organizations, and the candidates receiving the most votes will be crowned as King and Queen, while the others will form the court of two princes and two princesses.

Candidates are selected by vote of the two organizations, and selection is based on the contributions each has made to the goals of the organizations.
