THE MOST excitement this week has been the melting snows and flash floods with very little social activities except maybe "socializing" with the broom and mop, shovel and hoe, to clean up the mud and debris left about!

SPRING IS bound to be just around the corner and then comes the thought of new spring clothes. The colors this year seem to be in the pastel shades, in prints, stripes, and solids. The manufactureds have developed a new treatment given to the solid color materials to make them more resistant to prevent stains from soaking into the material. According to one report from the buyers markets the dresses will come out with many shirtwaist styles. Many will be looking for the "just right" dress for the Elks annual which is coming up February 16.

FREEZES AROUND the country have caused all fresh green items to take a jump in prices. Because of the short supply of fresh produce, the homemaker will have to rely on canned and frozen vegetables this spring to get the most for the money. Also use more onions and root vegetables. Potatoes are ideal to use, and must not be left out of the diet just because they are "fattening." They are a powerhouse of energy and we need the valuable contribution they make to our health and well being. If you are considering buying a beef carcass to package for the freezer, the U. S. Department has a quick guide: figure one-fourth of the carcass will yield steaks; another fourth, roasts; and a fourth of ground beef and stew, the final fourth is waste, bones and fat.

BECAUSE OF the weather conditions last Wednesday afternoon, Margaret Blake moved her bridge club to the home of Virginia Rosewall. The What's Trump club had two tables in play which included Helen Schaffitz, Dee Gribble, Happy Graham, Madge Thomson, Lota Tibbles, Fay Ferguson, Virginia and Margaret. Happy won high; Madge, second; and Helen, low.
