I GUESS the highlight of social activity here was the Elks Annual held this year in the newly renovated Elks building Saturday. Many were skeptical of the new arrangement, wondering if it would hold the crowd, but as one who was there, I don't believe it was uncomfortably over-crowded and they did have a wonderful turnout at the Ladies card party at the Catholic parish hall Saturday afternoon. Other important goings on were the high school basketball games! Ye ole editor thinks I have the "fever," but wonder if I'm the only victim?

TUESDAY THIS week was not my day, just couldn't find anyone at home to follow my leads, so if your story does not get in, that is the reason. How about calling me next time on any Tuesday! Speaking of calling in items, I talked with one lady this week who asked if we couldn't have more "locals" in the paper. We all try to keep our eyes and ears open but just can't be at all places at all times, so call in when there are visitors at your house! Our out of town readers especially like to read them to keep up with the folks at home.

JACKIE GLENNIE won the high for the evening of pinocle play last Wednesday at the home of Flo Connor. Marie Eckman won the pinocle and Jackie Alstott had low. Also in on the play were Beverly Sherman, Carolyn Cole, Mary Lovgren, Jeanne Berry, and Flo. Jello topped with whipped cream served with heart-shaped cookies completed the evening. The girls are changing their meeting date from Tuesday to Wednesday twice monthly so that three of them can "persuade" their husbands to take the adult dancing lessons!

SEVEN TABLES of duplicate bridge were in session Tuesday night at the Elks rooms with Della McCurdy and Harlan McCurdy, Jr., winning high north-south. Bob Brindle and Bill Blake were second high. Phil and Hazel Mahoney, just returned from their trip to Arizona and Southern California, won high east-west. Karen Thompson and LaVerne Van Marter were second. A note to remember the regularly scheduled meeting for next Tuesday is changed to Wednesday, February 27, because of the dance lessons.

TRACIE CONNOR, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Connor, celebrated her birthday Monday afternoon with a party for friends. Her guests were Tana Berry, Barbara, Cyde, and David Allstott, Jimmy Angell, Sammy McDaniel, Laurie Challey, Louise Hartle, Trina and Denise Rill, Mike and Kyle Buschke, and sister Tina. The youngsters enjoyed cupcakes, ice cream, and candy and loads of balloons for a fun afternoon.

PATTY PROCK entertained with two tables of bridge last Tuesday night. Bebe Munkers won high; Jan Agee, second; Janina Johnson, low; and Mary McLeod, Jack high. I heard she sort of held a monopoly on that Jack high prize, as she held it all evening! Others playing were Gwen Green, Mary Jean McCabe, Eileen Prock, and Patty. Gwen brought the dessert of ice cream sundaes. Sounds delicious!

MARGUERITE GLAVEY had a visit Saturday with several of her fifth grade students at the Glavey ranch home on Rhea Creek. Students going were Teresa Wright, Charlene Knox, Patty Howell, Roberta Putman, Kathy and Sue Melby. Doing the chauffeuring was Arnold Melby. They report that she is progressing well and hopes to be back at her teaching job soon.

WHAT AN afternoon the Friday afternoon pinocle club had, all with fabulous scores! Doris Watkins won high with 1,600 and Beulah Mankin had low of 800 (terrible low score). Gladys Beckett got in on two wins as she teamed with Pearl Wright to win the pinocle and with Millie Evans melded 600 queens! Also in on the doings were Carrie Beckett, Mary Harris, and Hannah Anderson who entertained the group at her home.

GENE CASE was honored guest Friday noon at a luncheon given by Marie McQuarrie and Cork Norene at the Norene home. Guests were Velma Glass, Hazel Mahoney, Mrs. Carl Leather, Portland, sister of Gene; and Mrs. Lewis Pyle, Salem, sister-in-law of Gene. They presented her with a piano-shaped music box. Inside was a picture of Velma, Hazel, Cork, and Marie, and as they told her, she would have to look at them each time she played the music box! We all wish you many good wishes, Gene!

SEWING CLUB met last Wednesday at the home of Marie McQuarrie and held a shower for Mrs. Bruce (Diane) Moyer with her mother, Donna McCurdy, receiving the gifts to be delivered to Bruce and Diane in La Grande. All brought their gifts unwrapped so they could view them and then they wrapped the gifts all very prettily so the young couple could enjoy unwrapping them. Marie used Valentine and bridal decorations about the room and served filled angel food cake with pink icing.

A WARM afternoon brought out some 120 women to the St. Patrick's parish hall Saturday afternoon for two hours of pinocle, bridge, or special games, as a kickoff to the 66th Elks Annual. Fifteen tables of pinocle were in play at one end of the hall with 12 tables of bridge at the other end, and about 12 persons entertained in one of the side rooms. Hostesses for the afternoon were the Elks officers' wives: Vi Lanham, Jane Flatt, Rita Wolff, Lib Daggett, Pat Brindle, Joyce Ward, Rachel Dick, Happy Graham, Jean Ann Turner, Jan Agee, Nadine O'Brien and trustees' wives, Marje Gardner, Mary Bengel, Daisy Collins.

Beverly Sherman won high in pinocle with 4800 in four progressions; Carrie Beckett, second; and Joan Hughes, third. Marjorie Worden won high in bridge with 3870 in three progressions; Lucille Wilson, second; and Ruth McMurdo, third. Those winning door prizes were Mabel Jaeger, Condon; Shirley Blake, Martha Van Schoiaek, Isabelle Davis, Condon; Ella Smith, and Harriet Hall. The hall was decorated in the Valentine theme, using red cupid and red and white hearts on the walls with baskets of red and white gladioli on the stage.

A BENEFIT Valentine card party was held at the Masonic hall

Thursday night with Dee Gribble, president of the OES Officers club, in charge, assisted by members of the ESTARL committee, Home Endowment committee, and Officers club. Fifteen tables were in play with eight of pinocle and seven of bridge. Esther Bergstrom won high in pinocle and Delpha Jones, second. Shirley Blake was high in bridge with Sadie Parrish, second. The guests were served many varieties of sandwiches with potato chips, olives, and pickles, coffee and tea. A pleasant change from all of the delicious desserts! Proceeds from this party will be used by the ESTARL committee to give scholarships to students studying in the school of ministry and also by the Home Endowment for support of the Masonic and Grove. A reminder to all of the OES old folks home at Forest OES Friendship Night February 25 with Mrs. Dick (Ginger) Wilkinson, chairman of the credentials committee, being honored at this time.

THE LA VERNE Van Marters entertained with a brunch at noon Sunday for visitors here for the Elks Annual and other local people. Guests included District Deputy and Mrs. Whitey Schroth, Hermiston; State Ritualistic Chairman and Mrs. Ben Harlow, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Harover, both couples of Pendleton; and from here the Conley Lanham, Bob Flatts and Harlan McCurdy Jr.

MARIAN ABRAMS was hostess at her home for the bookworms club held last Tuesday evening. The members brought their favorite poems and read them to the group. Some were of the modern light and others were of the old familiar favorites. Those attending were Ella Smith, Virginia Turner, Ruby Becket, Lucy Peterson, Lorena Jones, Madge Thomson, Florence Green, Elsie Cole, and Sadie Parrish. They will meet Tuesday, February 26 at the home of Ruby Becket.

AN EARLY morning breakfast, immediately after the Elks Annual festivities, was held Sunday at the Lowell Gribble home for some 29 persons. Chef Gribble handled the cooking of the eggs at the delicious ham and egg breakfast complete with a variety of hot muffins.

Elks Lodge Sponsors Pinocle Tournament

A six-weeks pinocle tournament, sponsored by Elks Lodge 358, will have an organization meeting Friday evening, February 22, at 7:30 p.m. in the Elks club rooms. Those desiring to enter the tournament but cannot be present at the first meeting are asked to contact Mrs. Darrel Padberg, Ione, or Mrs. Jerald Rea, Heppner. Play will be each Friday night, starting regularly on March 1.

Mrs. Lowell Gribble and Mrs. Merritt Gray were in The Dalles Tuesday to pick up some greenware ceramic supplies.

LINDA MAY HALVORSEN

Couple Set Wedding Date For March 17

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Halvorsen, Ione, announce the coming marriage of their daughter, Linda May, to Larry F. Prock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Faye Prock, Heppner. Vows will be exchanged Sunday, March 17, at 2 p.m. at the Ione Community church, with a

Past Leaders Guests Of Locust Chapter

At the last regular meeting of Locust Chapter No. 119, OES, the Past Matrons and Past Patrons were honored. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Dorene Jacobs, Mrs. Betty Hausler and Mrs. Helen Proudfoot, who also put on a skit, "The Program Committee Meets."

In tribute to Worthy Matron Mary Lindsay, officers gave a Valentine addendum, and presented her a bouquet of red and white carnations. Refreshments were served from a tea table decorated in the Valentine motif. Mrs. Deloris Barnett poured and Mrs. Pansy Seehafer served the punch.

reception following at the Ione Legion hall. An invitation is extended friends and relatives in the area to attend.

Miss Halvorsen is a student at Portland State College, where she will continue after her marriage. Mr. Prock, formerly employed at the Bank of Eastern Oregon here, now has a position in the Security Bank of Oregon, Portland, and is enrolled in evening classes at Portland State College. Following their marriage and short wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 900 S. W. St. Claire Street, Portland.

Teacher Group Hears State President Speak

Miss Belva June Mayor, Alpha Rho state president of Delta Kappa Gamma, was guest speaker for Iota chapter at the luncheon meeting on Saturday, February 16, at the Tapadero Restaurant, Pendleton. "Education is the sun—the giver of light," said Miss Mayor. "Teachers do more to light the shadows than members of any other profession," she continued, "because of the number of lives entrusted to them."

Besides Miss Mayor, there were Mrs. Ed Elliott, former Alpha Rho and Iota president, and nine guests from the Walla Walla chapter.

Those attending from Morrow county were Mrs. Franklin Ely, Ione; Mrs. Roy Kirk, Heppner; Mrs. Adrian Becholt, Hardman; Mrs. Leon Bentley, and Mrs. Robert Smith, Irrigon.

with KLEEN-SWEEP!

The Sensational De-Icer

MELTS ICE FAST

KEEPS ICE OFF

IN YOUR CAR

36 times faster... with incredible speed, you clear ice off walks, steps, ramps, driveways. Just sprinkle lightly and watch the fun. No chipping, no messy, whitish deposit tracked into your halls and offices. KLEEN-SWEEP won't harm cement, metal or paint... can't kill grass, shrubs or plants.

KLEEN-SWEEP with GYNO-X-10 actually does TWO jobs in one... because GYNO remains chemically active. KLEEN-SWEEP melts today's ice, and then STAYS ON, to prevent ice from forming after tomorrow's freeze. For long effectiveness — and economy, there's nothing like it.

No More Pushing... Pulling... Shoveling... Towing... or Straining to get your snow-bound auto moving again! Just sprinkle some KLEEN-SWEEP in the icy rut and presto — away you go! A 25 pound container in your automobile is the best winter emergency equipment you can carry.
