

Marcia Rands Enters Finals in UN Contest

Marcia Rands, Heppner High school junior, will represent the school in the final speak-off in the United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth speech contest, on Sunday, March 10, at the Pendleton IOOF hall. The public is invited to hear the finalists give their original essays at 2 p.m.

Contestants represent most of the public high schools in Morrow and Umatilla counties. The winner will be given a month-long, expense-free, educational bus tour this summer to the United Nations. This pilgrimage is sponsored each year by all lodges of the Odd Fellow fraternity. District chairman for Morrow and Umatilla counties is Mrs. M. N. Kirk of Hermiston.

Miss Rands is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Groves, Heppner.

Holly Lodge to Serve Smorgasbord Dinner

Holly Rebekah Lodge, Lexington, will serve a Smorgasbord dinner in the IOOF hall Saturday, March 16, between the hours of 5:30 and 8 p.m.

The ladies are not only going to extra effort to have tempting and unusual dishes to offer at the smorgasbord table, but for those who find something that is unusually tasty, the recipe for the dish may also be bought at the dinner for 25c.

Dinner tickets will be sold for $1 to adults and 50c to children.

Mrs. A. A. Dunlap, Grass Valley, visited Monday through Wednesday with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Art Watkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Munkers accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Riley Munkers and family to Echo Sunday to visit at the Glenn Sherer home. Mr. Sherer is recuperating from recent throat surgery.

BOWLING BITS

By JO PETTYJOHN

SOME VERY interesting things are happening in the men's and women's bowling leagues this past week, and with six weeks of play left, things are a long way from being settled! How one team can be way up and the next week hit a slump—well, ask the Turner, Van Martner and Bryant gals.

Then take the Lexington Oil Co-op guys. They forgot the whole idea of the game until the last two weeks when they have jumped from seventh to fourth and now to second spot! Guess they wanted to give others a chance!

The Padberg gals started slow this half and since then have been "howlin'" everyone over while MCGG started off with a bang then decided they liked sixth spot so well the first half that they would try for it this half!

LAST WEDNESDAY Padberg Machinery took three out of four from first place Eagle Valley to move Padberg from fifth place to a tie with Sheets for second with a 19-13 record. Burns ended up with a tie for first with Eagle Valley after they swept past Turner all four games. Turner is in fifth with a 17-15 record and MCGG is still in sixth with a 16-16 record despite a 4-game win over Echo Meat Market last week. This week the gals will be bowling in the Echo city tournament and resume league play Wednesday with lots of fun and competition left!

Vesta Kilkenny (Turner) had high series and high game for them with a 464 and 176. She was really trying for that free case of Coke and missed by one pin, needed a 177. Jinxed maybe? Helping Padberg's cause was Iris Campbell with her 474 series and Joyce Espy with high game of 186. For the MCGG team Lois Hunt had high series and game of 422 and 172.

THE LEXINGTON OIL Co-op team came up with a clean sweep over the Heppner Elks, taking all four games. The hero up-holder for the Co-op guys was Vern Munkers who ended up with a 598 series of 222, 169, and 207. You might say he "carried" the fellows! Art Watkins (Elks) had high series for them of 509 and he tied Vern Viall for high game of 188. Bi-County won one and lost three to Brick's Supply to hold onto the cellar spot. Bob Kilkenny had high series for them of 503 and the high game of 223. In one of the games the "splits" sort of hit the team as Bob ended up with a 123 and Wes Mariatt squeaked out with a 99. Who was it said those splits were next to a strike? ?

Heppner Ponies End Good Year, Win 15, Lose 5

Junior high basketball closed out action here Saturday afternoon with a double win over Condon. This concluded a very successful season for the teams, with the eighth graders having a 7-3 record and the seventh grade team ending 8-2.

The two teams played round robin schedules with Pilot Rock, A. C. Houghton, Stanfield, Condon, and Ione. The eighth graders' losses were to A. C. Houghton, Condon, and Ione. The seventh graders lost to A. C. Houghton and Stanfield.

Scoring was fairly close between the Heppner teams and their opponents with the eighth graders having 306 as compared with 249 for the opponents. The seventh grade team had 222 to 211.

Individual total scoring had Jim Doherty, eighth grade first, with 90; Roger Leonnig, 68; Steve Wagenblast, 50; Mac Hoskins, 33; Jeff Turner, 28; Rick Johnston, 28; John Cox, 3; Nalbro Cox, 2; Bob Harris, 2. For the seventh graders, David Hall was high scorer with 101; Steve Pettyjohn, 37; Kit Anderson, 27; Russell Kilkenny, 18; Bill McLeod, 12; Bob Dobbs, 11; Gary Ball, 6; Earl Ayres, 4; Tim Loyd, 2. Others on the team were John Van Winkle, Ivan Adlard, and Mike Lane.

The boys will have two weeks rest before going into baseball and track after spring vacation. The track will be expanded this year with Don Cole handling the coaching duties. Tom Hughes will coach baseball with six weeks of action slated.

In the Condon game Saturday the Heppner eighth grade took off in high gear to lead after the first period of play, 18-9, and at half time 26-16. The third period saw the scoring a little closer, with Heppner canning 18 points to Condon's 12. Coach Clint Agee sent in his reserves in the fourth and they made two points to six for Condon. Final score was 46-34. The Condon team had previously handed them their second loss of the season. Jim Doherty led the scoring with 18 followed by Wagenblast, 8; Leonnig, 7; Hoskins, 5; Turner, 4; Johnston and John Cox each

LOYAL HUDSON of Redmond, a victim of cerebral palsy, has been named Oregon's 1963 Easter Seal child for the Oregon

Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Seals will be sold March 7 through Easter Sunday throughout the state.

Wayne Harsin Takes OSU Short Course

Wayne Harsin of Heppner completed a special three-day sewage works operator short school recently at Oregon State University's School of Engineering.

Ninety-four sewage treatment plant operators and city officials from across Oregon attended the course this year.

Thomsons Are Parents Of Second Daughter

A second daughter, Deina Leah, was born February 22 to Mr. and Mrs. Warren Thompson in a Portland hospital, weighing 6 lbs., 8 1/2 oz. She joins another daughter, Kelly Lynn, nearly three years old. Mrs. Thompson is the former Mona Howard, a graduate here with the class of 1957.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Howard, Heppner, and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Warren Thompson, Sr., Portland.

Mrs. Phil Mahoney and Mrs. Lowell Gribble were in The Dalles Monday on business and had lunch with Mary Van, former Heppnerite.

Program Headed By Redmond Boy

Loyal Hudson, a 12-year-old victim of cerebral palsy from Redmond, Ore., has been named for the Oregon Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

The smiling youngster, son of Mrs. Penny Lister, is well aware of what the public's purchase of Easter Seals each year does for the state's physically handicapped youngsters. He has attended Camp Easter Seal, the society's summer camp for physically handicapped youngsters, the past three summers.

The camp is located on Ten Mile lake, near Reedsport, Ore. The society's annual Easter Seal sale will get under way Thursday (March 7) and continue through Easter Sunday.

In addition to Camp Easter Seal, the society operates the Children's Hospital school in Eugene, where children from over 20 counties receive special education and therapy; two mobile therapy clinics which take physical therapy to areas of the state where therapy is not available, and an equipment pool, which supplies special equipment to the needy handicapped.

Miss Bracken estimated that 400,000 Oregonians will receive Easter Seals in the mail and she appealed to them to "give as generously as you can, remembering that every Easter Seal you buy helps a crippled child."

Mrs. and Mrs. Alva Bradley and family, of Dundee were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Eckman. Mrs. Bradley and Mrs. Eckman are sisters.

Mrs. Ben Anderson and Mrs. Clive Huston returned last Thursday from a week's visit in Portland and Albany. When in Albany they visited Mrs. E. R. Huston, now 91 years of age, but active and in good health.

Mrs. Max Buschke and Mrs. Carey Hastings accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Frank Connor to Portland Saturday to attend a buyer's market on Sunday. The Connors visited their sons and their families in Forest Grove. Mr. and Mrs. Roger Connor and Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Connor. Mrs. Hastings and Mrs. Buschke were also guests at the Roger Connor home.
