

School and Recall Elections Slated Monday in County

port the Lexington people who want to keep the Lexington grade school.

"I approve of the purchase by the school board of the 31-acre school site within the new Boardman townsite. However, I feel it would be a grave mistake to locate the Riverside High school on this site until we are more certain that it is to the best interest of all the north Morrow county people.

"More local control could be achieved if advisory board members were allowed and encouraged to represent their respective areas. The school board should define the purpose of advisory boards in relation to administration of the schools. I feel that the advisory boards should function as representatives of their areas by being called upon to assist in the preparation of the school budget and in making decisions concerning their local areas.

"I believe that more local control and less control from the county courthouse will do more than anything else to promote harmony and better understanding in the Morrow County schools."

Advisory board posts up for election in the various zones are these: 1. None on the ballot at Boardman; one to be elected; Ralph Skoubo, present member, not a candidate for reelection. 2. Irigton—William Schmeder, present member, opposed for the one position by Orville Buchanan. 3. Lexington representative to Ione—Charles C. Jones the only candidate for the position left by Mrs. Jack Barak, retiring member. 4. Lexington—Gene Majeske unopposed for reelection. 5. Lexington representative to Heppner—Homer Hughes, incumbent, seeks reelection unopposed. 6. Hardman representative to Heppner—Huston Leslie, appointed during the year to the post, candidate for election without opposition.

Polls are open from 2 until 8 p.m. (Daylight Standard Time) and polling places are as follows: Heppner High school cafeteria, Riverside High school, Ione school cafeteria, Lexington cafeteria, Rhea Creek Grange hall at Ruggs, Pine City school, and Irigton multipurpose room.

The polling places are the same for those voting in the community college district election. These are listed in another story in this paper. Brent Horn of Hermiston and Jack Hodgen of Pendleton are in a race for the one post on the board open at this time and Hodgen is the incumbent.

Student Council Goes To Regional Meeting

Student council members and two faculty advisers of Heppner High school motored to La Grande Monday to attend the spring regional meeting of the Oregon Association of Student Councils.

Registration started at noon, followed by a keynote address by Howard Anderson, dean of men at Eastern Oregon College. Sectional meetings discussed the duties and responsibilities of student body officers, with President Duane Boyd of Baker in charge. New officers for the coming year were elected and Pendleton High school chosen as host for the fall meeting.

Students attending, who have served as student body officers and council members, were Shan Applegate, Mike Smith, Jennifer Brindle, Gail Hoskins, Bill Sherman, Marti Dixon and Raymond Nichols. They were accompanied by Gordon Pratt, principal, and Pete Glennie, advisor.

Picture Display Set For Reunion Picnic

An added feature of the Morrow County Reunion picnic on Memorial Day in Heppner will be a gallery of photographs of early citizens and of Heppner and Morrow scenes, Don Turner, chairman, states.

Anyone wishing to add to the collection should contact Mrs. James Hager, who will be in charge of the display.

The reunion will be at the fair pavilion annex on Thursday, May 30, with registration starting at 10:30 a.m.

R-1 Board Agrees To Accept Corps School Contract

the John Day dam waters might be rising without the school building relocated.

In passing the motion to accept the contract, the board, on advice of Attorney Bob Abrams, added the word "sites" to the clause that said that "plans and specifications" could be changed by mutual agreement. Mann said that he did not know whether this reservation would be accepted.

The action followed a futile move by Irigton supporters to get the high school located midway between Boardman and Irigton. Mrs. LaVelle Parlow read a letter with 137 signatures asking for a midway location. "At the first public meeting held in Irigton in 1959 to discuss the consolidation of Irigton and Boardman," a portion of the letter read, "the people of Irigton were told that if they would sacrifice their high school for three or four years, in order to fill the Boardman high school, the county would gain a more spacious and costly building. The citizens of Irigton assured they would receive full consideration when the time came to locate the school."

The letter reviewed other steps taken in the long controversy and told of the Irigton advisory committee's action last year asking for a midway location that was rejected by the Boardman advisory board. "Inasmuch as the majority of the high school students come from Irigton, we do not feel that either town would have a legitimate complaint if the school is located in the middle, even though each town would naturally like to see the school within its own boundaries."

Director Warner moved that a mid-point site be chosen, but his motion died when it was not seconded.

Director Bob Sicard of Boardman then moved that the contract with the Engineers, specifying the Boardman site, be negotiated, and after lengthy discussion, it was approved.

Director L. E. Dick told the Irigton people at the meeting that their action is contradictory to their movement asking consolidation with Umatilla county and that one or the other proposals must not be in good faith, since it would seem pointless to build a new school to serve them if they are going to Umatilla.

To Irigton's feeling that the new town of Boardman may never develop, Dick asked, "Wouldn't we look just as foolish with a school midway between as we would in putting it in the townsite?"

Mayor Dewey West of Boardman was present and said that studies showed that at least 15 businesses will be relocated in the new townsite besides residences.

The board passed a motion to purchase the school site from the Northern Pacific Railroad at $100 per acre and agreed to send $100 as earnest money.

Friends Charivari Newlwweds Recently

Friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. William McClintock, who live between Heppner and Condon, with a charivari recently following the couple's marriage in March in Reno, Nev.

They took a wedding trip to the Hawaiian Islands and returned later in the month. Some 15 or 20 were present for the recent charivari.

Mustangs Blank Rockets to Gain First League Win

With Fred Harnden whiffing 15 batters, Heppner's Mustangs came through with their first Greater Oregon league baseball victory Saturday, blanking Pilot Rock, 2-0.

In chucking the 2-hitter, Harnden fanned at least two men in each inning except for the third in the seven inning contest. His achievement may be a new school record for Heppner, but records are too incomplete to say for sure.

Only scoring in the game was in Heppner's half of the first. Stuart Dick and Stan Applegate walked, and Harnden singled to load the bases. Dick Springer then followed with a single and tallied the only two to reach home during the game.

Harnden was a sly moundsman on base hits, yielding only a double to Buzz Quamepts of the Rockets in the fifth and a scratch single to Horn in the fourth.

Heppner was almost as hard up for hits, getting only the two singles in the first and another single in the sixth by Doug Dubuque.

The Heppner chucker had to fight his way out of trouble in the fourth when the Rockets had the bases loaded, but he managed to retire the side before a run scored.

With the victory, the Mustangs moved into a second place in the Greater Oregon league with Pilot Rock and Burns, all with 1-1 records. Sherman county leads with 2-0, and John Day Trails at 0-2.

In the second encounter, a five-inning kings-X game, the Rockets came back for a 7-1 win with Ken Smith hurling for the Mustangs. Coach Pete Glennie played all sophomores except for the pitcher.

Pilot Rock lost no time getting going with five runs in the first inning, and they picked up lone runs in each of the third and fourth frames. Heppner's lone run was in the third.

Each team got two hits, and Smith walked six and struck out five. Heppner's two bingles were by Sherril McDonald and Spencer Sampson, both singles.

Scores:
Heppner 200 000 0 2 3
Pilot Rock 000 000 0 0 2
Batteries: Harnden and Springer; Lankford and Winks.

Heppner 001 00 1 2 2
Pilot Rock 501 1x 7 2 1
Batteries: Smith and Daggett; Mikel and Winks, Case (4).

Golfers Schedule Men's Handicap

Men's spring handicap golf tournament will be on the Willow Creek course Sunday, starting at 12:30 p.m. Bob Cantonwine, chairman, states. Golf balls and other merchandise prizes will be given winners, and club members are urged to turn out for the event.

Those participating must have a handicap to play, but others are invited to come out and take part as scratch players. The tournament was originally scheduled for last Sunday but was cancelled on account of high water at the course.

Hale Takes Course

E. W. Hale, parts manager for Heppner Auto Sales, Inc., recently completed a course in parts merchandising at the San Francisco Ford Marketing Institute. He made the trip to the Bay City by air and the course was from April 22 through 24. The marketing institute, located at Burlingame, serves 11 western states as part of a nationwide Ford program to offer training in dealership management and selling.

Mustangs to Face Grant Union Here

Now deadlocked for second place in the western division of the Greater Oregon league, Heppner High's diamondmen will face Grant Union of John Day in a game on the Heppner diamond Saturday, starting at 1 p.m. Coach Pete Glennie announces.

Fred Harnden, who blanked Pilot Rock Saturday, 2-0, fanning 15 batters, is scheduled to take mound duty in the first game of the scheduled doubleheader. The second game will be a five-inning kings-X contest with Ken Smith slated for pitching action.

Practices Begin In Little League

Some 31 Little League baseball aspirants were on hand Saturday afternoon at the field for the final tryouts and selections. Fifteen boys were picked up and the others with the eight-year-olds will be on the farm teams to gain more practice and experience.

The boys named were Steve Hutchins, Dallas Harsin, Gary Watkins, and Steve Hedman. Terry Hughes, David Gundersen, Robin Duffy, and Jim Van Winkle for the Dodgers; Greg Greenup, Neils Platt, Bobby Warden, Duane Steers, and Gordon Scriver for the Giants. The coaches are slating practices for the next two weeks before the season opener. Farm team coach David Eckman has announced the first practice for May 11, 1:30 p.m. at the Little League field. All the boys not on teams are urged to attend so they may organize for games later during the summer.

The Little League opening game will be a doubleheader scheduled for Saturday, May 18, with the first game at 1:00 p.m. and the other to follow. A parade of the four teams will be through town with the possibility of the grade school bands participating to kickoff the league season.

Willow Project Transcript Out

Transcript on the public hearing held by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers has been compiled and released by the Engineer district at Walla Walla. The published mimeographed text contains more than 100 pages, giving complete oral testimony that was given at the hearing before Col. James H. Boddow, district engineer, here on January 14, together with letters and other written documents that were entered in the record.

Some of the written documents were entered after the hearing here. The transcript also lists all the persons attending and the mailing list to whom copies were sent. One is on file at the Gazette-Times for any who may wish to see it, and other copies are in the hands of the county and city officials.

Ex-Resident Dies; Final Rites Held

Mrs. Mike Gray and Mrs. Jessie Griffin drove to The Dalles Saturday to attend the funeral services for Francis Wesley Griffin, brother-in-law of Mrs. Griffin and uncle of Mrs. Gray.

Griffin, 68, was born in the Ione area and had resided here until he moved away 31 years ago. His wife survives, together with other relatives.

Others attending the services from this area were John Bergstrom and Mrs. Ben Anderson, both of Heppner, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Lindstrom, Carl Bergstrom and Carl Troedson, all of Ione.

Engineering Junior At OSU is Selected By Honor Fraternity

Mickey Van Schoelack, junior student at Oregon State University, has been notified of his selection for membership in Eta Kappa Nu, National Electrical Engineering honorary fraternity. Mickey will be initiated Sunday, May 5, according to a letter received this week by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Van Schoelack, Heppner. He was one of about 20 students on campus selected for the honor, limited to only top students majoring in electrical engineering. Mickey was a graduate of Heppner High school with the class of 1960.

Morgan to Speak At Chamber Meet

Milton Morgan of Ione, vice-president of the Oregon Wheat League, will be the speaker at the regular Monday luncheon meeting of the Heppner-Morrow County Chamber of Commerce in the Wagon Wheel Cafe, Harley Young, program chairman, announces.

Morgan will discuss the 1964 wheat program that will be voted upon by the farmers on May 21. Because of its effects on the economy of the area, the wheat referendum is of keen interest to businessmen, and a good turnout is urged by the president, Dr. C. M. Wagner, so that they may gain a better understanding of the matter.

Books are Added At City Library

Several books which should be of interest to adult and young adult readers have been added recently to the shelves of the Heppner Public Library, according to Mrs. Blanche Brown, librarian.

Books added in the adult section are: Where the Heart Is, by de Trevino; North from Rome, by MacInnis; Seek the Fair Land, by Macken; The Lady and the Deep Blue Sea, by Roark; Solomon and Sheba, by Williams; The Finest Heart, by Cloete; Tomorrow's Miracle, by Slaughter; Griffin's Way, by Yerby; The Garfield Honor by Yerby; Amos Jackman, by Doan; Mila 18, by Uris, and Mutiny on the Bounty, by Nordhoff & Hall.

New mystery books are: Like Love, by McBain; The List of Adrian Messenger, by McDonald; The Man Who Laughed at Murder, by Ashe; and Show Red for Danger, by Lockridge.

General interest books for adult and young adult are: C.I.A.: The Inside Story, by Tully; Winston Churchill: The Valiant Years, by LeVien and Lord; Scenic Geology of the Pacific Northwest, by Eckman; Wildflowers of the Pacific Coast, by Haskin; The Scent of the Roses, by Leslie; Sunken History, by Silverberg; The Amazing Mrs. Bonaparte, by Kane; No Time for Glory, by Fenner, and The Otter's Tale, by Maxwell.

Springer Wins At Science Fair

Dick Springer's entry on "The Effects of Cigarette Smoke" won the right to enter the Northwest Science Fair at the Oregon Museum of Science and Industry in Portland May 4 to 25 when he took honors at the regional science fair in Pendleton April 26 and 27.

Springer, Heppner High school senior and student of Don McClure, biology teacher, uses white rats in his exhibit. The exhibits will be on display through the month at OMSI.

McClure's biology students took both first and second in the senior division (grades 10-12) and first and second in the junior division (grades 7-9) at the regional fair.

Springer's entry was first in the senior division and second was the entry of Lee Daggett, sophomore, on "The Effects of X-Ray Radiation on Fruit Flies." First place winner in the junior division was Karen French, freshman, with her entry on "The Effects of Environmental Changes on the Growth of Various Bacteria," and second was Terry Hutchens with the project, "The Effect of Mild Acids on Shrimp Eggs."

Mike Bunch, also a freshman, took second place in the junior division (physical), with his entry, "Infrared Detector."

Patty Holt, pupil of Don Cole in Heppner Elementary school, was another gold medal winner in the intermediate physical division.

Springer's entry was one of 14 in the region to be chosen from 150 entries judged at Pendleton to go to Portland. With the others, he will be treated to a field day trip by the Pendleton Junior Chamber of Commerce on May 11 to the Northwest Fair. Projects will be judged on that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Blevins and small daughter Patty returned Tuesday from a week-end trip to Superior, Montana, where they visited Mr. Blevin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blevins. It was the first opportunity for the grandparents to become acquainted with the new granddaughter.

Students Serving As Honorary Pages

Representative Jack Smith, D-Condon, states that educating our youth in the affairs of our state government and civic responsibilities is a very important aspect to the future of good government through an informed electorate. To further this concept Representative Smith has honorary pages scheduled throughout this session. These students are chosen by their school as outstanding students and deserving to represent their student bodies.

On Friday, April 19, Representative Smith's honorary page was Cheryl Ann (Tass) Morrison of Ione. Tass was selected by the Ione High school faculty to receive this honor and was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Jodie Morrison.

Douglas Alvarez, a sophomore at Stanfield High school and member of the student council, was honorary page for May 22. Doug and his father spent Monday in the House of Representatives viewing a quite average day.

Guests of Rep. Smith on Wednesday, April 24, were four student body officers from Pendleton's Helen McCune Junior High school, and on Tuesday, April 23, he had as honorary page John Langenwaller, a freshman at Hermiston Junior High school.

Two Heppner Girls Help Win Awards

Shorthand classes of Eastern Oregon College, under the instruction of Dr. Sarah C. Stein, were awarded recently a Certificate of Honorable Mention in the International Gregg Shorthand Exhibit for the Order of Gregg Artists. The certificate plaque is the second honorable mention that has been received by the stenography classes at EOC, the first one being awarded in June, 1962.

Among the advanced students participating and making possible winning the awards were Miss Jeanne Schmidt and Miss Leonore Leonnig, both Heppner High graduates.

Reasonable prices on business cards at the Gazette-Times.
