Carol Hynd Home; Goes to New Post

Carol Hynd of the WAC arrived home last Wednesday night for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Hynd of Cecil, on a delay en route to a new assignment at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, which will be her permanent duty station. She has been at Fort Ord, Calif.

She left for the new assignment Tuesday. At Fort Leavenworth she will be assisting in surgery after completing her training as a medical technician.

Carol, who has become an ardent parachute jumper since she joined the WAC last year, said that she had a real scare recently on a jump when one of the shroud lines of her main chute caught over the top of the chute, creating a "Mae West." When she pulled the ripcord of the reserve chute, it opened under the main chute and she descended at a much faster speed than normal. She took quite a bump when she hit the ground but came out of it unhurt.

Carol said that she plans to go up for another jump soon to convince herself that she hasn't lost her nerve and hopes to continue the hobby in Kansas.

Lexington Women Attend District Church Meeting

By DELPHA JONES

On Wednesday of last week several members of the Women's Fellowship group of the Lexington Christian church motored to Hermiston where they attended the district convention of State Women's Fellowship. A lovely dinner was served at noon at which time State President Janet Quackenbush was introduced by the president of the Lexington group, Mrs. C. C. Jones.

Different committees of the state group sponsored instruction classes for the local chairmen. Our local chairmen participating were Mrs. Bill B. Marquardt, worship chairman; Mrs. Florence McMillan and Mrs. Roy Campbell, service chairmen, and Mrs. Jones attended the instruction class for presidents. All main classes in the church were conducted as skits which were most interesting. Following the dinner a worship service was held in the auditorium of the church.

The Padberg Bowling team bowled in the Umatilla County Bowling tournament on Sunday evening, sponsored by the East Oregonian. Those bowling from Lexington were Mrs. Roger Campbell, Mrs. Johnnie Ledbetter, Mrs. Joyce Espy, and Mrs. Mary Snider of Stanfield, who substituted for Mrs. L. E. Ruhl who was unable to be there, as she had burned her hand quite painfully on Sunday morning.

The High school class of the Christian church motored to Lehman Springs on Sunday morning. Those going were Janette Ledbetter, Theresa Munkers, Mike Palmer, Kenneth Jones, Billy Klinger and their teacher, Carl Marquardt. Also going over for the day were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Messenger and children, Carroll Messenger, and the Johnnie Ledbetter family.

Mrs. Al Fetsch served in her station of Vice Grand and was fortunate to help initiate her mother, daughter, and daughter-in-law. The work was done by the ladies dressed in long white formal, with the drill captain LaVerne Henderson in charge and musician Mrs. Merle Cornelson assisting at the piano. Visitors were Mrs. Clell Rea of Ione and Mrs. Vernon Munkers. Refreshments were served in the dining room.

Mrs. A. F. Majeske, Mrs. Florence McMillan, Mrs. Oris Padberg, Mrs. Alonzo Henderson, and Mrs. Bertha Hunt are spending this week in The Dalles where they are attending the Rebekah Lodge state convention. Also accompanying the ladies were Mrs. Pete McMurry of Heppner.

Rockhound Corner

By BETTY WAGNER

It's been quite a while since my last visit with you, so will have to bring you up to date on all the activities of the rock club. First of all, we now have a showcase full of rocks on display at the court house. We hope to change this display once each month, so better make a quick trip up to see the May selections soon.

At the February meeting a report on crystals was given by Rachel Harnett which tied in with the film "Around the World in Calcite." Ed and Eleanor Gonty hosted the club to a delicious dessert following the film.

On March 23 our program chairman showed slides of the Friday Ranch near Madras. This is an area of 17,500 acres with several different beds of all types of agates. It is famous for its plume agates. Walter Edger discussed the characteristics of agates and the theories on how they are formed. An invitation to join a Portland geology club at Opal Butte in June was read. This would certainly make for an interesting field trip! Refreshments were served by Rachel Harnett and Ellen Moore with our jeweler (guess who) walking off with the door prize, a tumble-polished agate on a chain.

Early in April several of our club members met with the Pendleton Rock club to view a demonstration presented by Marvin E. Carr of Fiberlay, Inc. Mr. Carr showed how to use a new resin with the rock slabs and pieces for making table tops, pictures, planters, trivets, etc.

Rock shows will be in abundance over the northwest during the summer months and the Prineville Pow-Wow held during the first few days of July is highly recommended—especially for the wonderful field trips sponsored by the Prineville Rock club.

For the April meeting each member brought a specimen of petrified or agatized wood and mentioned the locality where found. The film "100 Miles of Agate on Oregon Coast" was shown followed by refreshments served by George and Ruby Miller.

Saturday night, May 25, we meet again at the City Hall annex. Hope to see you there at 8:00 p.m.

Those initiated were sophomores: Barbara Blake, Carl Bauman, Lee Daggett, Tony Doherty, Stuart Dick, Jean Stockard and John Wagenblast; one junior, Marti Dixon, and two seniors, Leanne Joynes and Shannon Mahoney.

Trout Added To Local Waters

With the planting of 1,000 additional fish in Willow Creek, Rhea Creek and Cutsforth pond by the Oregon State Game Commission on Tuesday, sports fishing should be improved, according to Glen Ward, state game agent. The fish measured up to 12 inches in size.

About 2,000 are on order for Rock Creek, with delivery to be made sometime next week. Additions will also be made to the above three waters, Ward states.

Good fishing is reported at Bull Prairie reservoir, with around 100 fishermen taking advantage of the good weather over the week-end.
