WHAT IS the word for summer fun and eating? I think one of the most enjoyable times is a get-together of family or friends for an outdoor barbecue. Our family has already enjoyed several barbecued meals and now the youngsters are old enough to help with the preparation. In looking through the June issues of several magazines, they feature cool and quick cooking food ideas, like barbecuing. If you are planning a new outdoor area, keep in mind outdoor eating. Even the all-American hamburger tastes even better when it is barbecued!

SPEAKING OF barbecues, the Elks are having a pit barbecue dinner and dancing, Saturday, June 15, starting at 7:30 p.m. Before the dinner, take the family out to see the double-header Little League baseball games at the league field starting at 1 p.m.

MARY McLEOD entertained the Bridge Biddies with three tables of bridge at her home Tuesday evening. Guests were Rita Hedman, Marian Jonsson, Kay Robinson, Donna Gordon, Jan Aaga, Bebe Munkers, Mary Jean McCabe, Gwen Healy, Janina Johnson, LaFyrne Pratt, and Mary McClure. Marian had high score, Donna, second; Jan, third; and Mary Jean the traveling prize for Jack high.

ESTHER BERGSTROM won high Friday afternoon when Hannah Anderson entertained the Pinochle club. Hannah won low with a score of 6,000! What scores they must have had. Esther's score was 10,000. Others playing were Ola Ruggles, Pearl Wright, Carrie Beckett, Gladys Beckett, Doris Watkins and Mary Harris.

TWO TABLES of pinochle were in play Tuesday night at the home of Mickey Mollahan. Her guests were Marge Eckman, Beverly Sherman, Jackie Allstott, Joyce Whitely, Carolyn Cole, Gail Burkenbine, and Myrna Sutherland. Jackie won high; Marge, low; and Beverly the door prize. What to do with only seven members? Go out and find the eighth one! Joyce was the one. They had to drive through a band of sheep but finally got there, somewhat late!

LAST LADIES Night for the year at the Elks lodge was held Thursday evening. Hostesses were Donna Orwick, Cherry Herrmann, Erlene Miller, Gladys Van Winkle, Erlene Padberg, and Lorine Ledbetter. Three tables of pinochle and six of bridge were in play. Edda Mae Lovgren won high in bridge; Daisy Collins, second; and Laurel Van Marter, door prize. Ola Ruggles was high in pinochle; Laura Richards second; and Jean Ann Turner, door prize. The next get together will be the first Thursday in September.

THE BILL Brindas were honored at a going away party Friday evening at the Eddie Thorpe home. Co-hosts were the Hubert Wilsons. Guests for the evening of cards with cake and ice cream served later were the Ray Balleys, Robert Stevens, Edgar Morris and Clayton Sweeks. The Brindas moved to Pendleton over the week-end where they will operate a service station. They have been Heppner residents for about eight years.

QUITE AN interesting coincidence happened while Wavel Wilkinson and her granddaughters, Jody and Jill, were vacationing in California last week. They went to an alligator farm on one of the sight-seeing trips and saw the same alligator that the girls' mother, Shirley Rugg, had seen 20 years ago! Wondering how long an alligator lives? According to trusty encyclopedias, they live 50 or 60 years.

EGGS CONTINUE to offer budget meals. Good weather, picnics, and deviled eggs go together. Use eggs often while the price is low to really stretch the budget. June is Dairy Month. Watch the markets for specials on these items, such as cottage cheese. Beef continues as the best buy in the meat department. Pork is higher priced now because of sharp reduction in supplies. This is still the in-between season for fruits. Cantaloupes and strawberries are coming in from California. Local berries are expected around the 15th of June and local canons in late July and August. Best buys in vegetables now include: potatoes, head lettuce, cabbage, celery, and carrots. You will also see favorably priced corn from California.

Randall Martin and Marie McLeod were married June 8 at the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Taylor, Kelso, Wn. Their only attendants were his brother, Willard, and her sister, Mrs. Alvin Wagenblast. They have one daughter, Janice Wheelhouse, and grandson, Greg, living in Arizona.
