Read These Rules Carefully

The campaign territory will be divided into two districts. Those workers living in Heppner will be in District One. Workers living outside the city limits will be in District Two. Workers may sell subscriptions in any district, these divisions being made only to assure fairness in awarding the prizes. Grand prize will be awarded to the worker in either district finishing the campaign with the highest vote score.

The worker in each district finishing the campaign with the most votes in his own district after the grand prize award has been made will receive a District Capital Prize. Other prizes will be awarded to the next highest workers in any district by choice.

No employee or near relative of any employee of The Gazette-Times is eligible to enter the campaign. Correspondent's families will be allowed to compete. Children under 16 years must have written consent of their parents or guardian who will be expected to help the children.

In event of a tie, each tying candidate will be given a prize identical in value.

A bonus of 2,000 votes will be given each candidate turning in 3 or more subscriptions (either old or new) on the opening day of the campaign, and an additional 3,000 extra votes will be given to the candidate turning in the most subscriptions. These same bonus votes will be given for the next three report days.

To insure absolute fairness the campaign will be brought to a close under the sealed ballot box system. All subscriptions and money collected the last three days of the campaign must be in the sealed ballot box when the campaign closes.

Wednesdays and Saturdays will be known as report days and all candidates are positively required to hand in all their subscriptions on each of the report days.

Votes will be issued on both new and old subscriptions. Credit for extra votes will be issued at the convenience of the campaign manager.

Workers collecting more than one subscription required to qualify his nomination before the opening day will be barred from the campaign. Candidates living outside the city may bring or mail their Saturday's reports on Mondays and their Wednesday's reports on Thursday except the last report which must be on the last day.

Prizes must be won in accordance with the conditions of the campaign and no candidate will be promised a certain prize for so many subscriptions or so much money.

Workers are not confined to their own town or neighborhood to sell subscriptions, but may get orders from any person at any address.

Only one member of a family will be allowed to enter; but all members of the family are urged to help their workers.

Cash must accompany all subscriptions. The management reserves the right to add to these rules for the protection of this newspaper and candidates.

After the Grand Prize and capital prizes are awarded, the candidate having the next highest number of votes will get first choice of the prizes. The second highest the next choice, etc. Those winning commissions will have checks mailed not later than the following Tuesday.
