Outdoor Fashion Show Has 'Twist' Theme for Fair

"Twist Into Fashion" is the apt theme of the 1963 4-H Style Revue of the Morrow County Fair to be held on Wednesday night, August 21, 8:00 p.m., in the Little League grounds, announces Esther Kirmis, Morrow county extension agent.

Staged in the outdoor arena, over 60 girls will model the 4-H garment or costume they have constructed this year. Mrs. William Rawlins, 4-H clothing leader, is writing the script and will do the narration before proud parents, grandparents, and friends.

A decided change has been made in the 4-H clothing program in Oregon these past two years, says the agent. Clothing has been divided into seven phases with each girl working on a "warm-up" article first and then going on to the main article which will be exhibited. Some lessons in grooming, buying, and repair have also been added to give girls a well-rounded schooling in clothing for their age level.

The main articles to be exhibited for each phase include: Phase 1—Barbecue placemat or traveling kit; Phase 2—An apron or a gathered skirt; Phase 3—School dress or skirt and blouse; Phase 4—Also a school dress or skirt and blouse; Phase 5—Skirt and weskit, jumper, or dress; Phase 6—Tailored dress or date dress; Phase 7—Costume or dress showing advanced sewing.

Each phase will be judged in its own unit, says Miss Kirmis. Modeling for judging will be done Wednesday morning, August 21, before judges, Mrs. Russell McKennon, Pendleton; and Mrs. Kenneth Waud, Othello, Wn. The revue that evening is for the public's enjoyment and a way to acquaint them with the 4-H clothing projects offered to all girls between 9 and 21.

A champion will be named in each phase, beginning with phase 2, she continues. Eligibles to model at the State Fair, Salem, August 31, will be chosen differently by the judges, however.

Girls with wearable knitted garments are asked to participate in the Revue also, invites Miss Kirmis.

State Fair Style Revue

There will be two style revues at the State Fair this year—divided on the basis of age. Twelve through 14 will be in the intermediate revue, and 15 and over will be senior, explains the agent. (All ages are reckoned from January 1 of this year).

Morrow county, because of its less than 500 4-H enrollment, is allowed one entry in each revue, the agent continues. There are plans to have the girls judge
