

Brubacher Family Has Wide Range Of Activities

was appointed to the Morrow county position.

The new administrator, who has a ready smile and a friendly interest in things about him, was active in athletics until he injured his lower back in a toboggan accident some 25 years ago. He participated in all sports in high school and lettered in track in college.

"Hunting and fishing over the years have been my favorite recreation," he states. "But trying to raise four daughters has cut down on being able to indulge in my favorite pastimes and hobbies."

Mrs. Brubacher was first a beauty operator after finishing high school, but this career was ended with her marriage 25 years ago (silver anniversary is imminent this month).

Her favorite hobbies are cooking and "keeping tabs" on the girls. If she has a moment, she likes to read.

There was a time when she enjoyed camping and horseback riding—before the family came—and she still hopes to get back to do some riding.

Margaret, the airline stewardess, attended Whitworth college and worked in an insurance office before taking her present position. She relaxes by sketching and reading. When she was in high school she was editor of the school newspaper.

During the summer this year Joan has been working in Seattle, but she will go back to Idaho State in the fall. She was a cheerleader for two years in high school and had the honor of being a delegate to Girls' State in her junior year.

According to Linda Sue, Heppner kids are "super." She was a yell leader in high school last year, and her hobbies are along the home economics line. She likes to cook and sew, and for sports, she likes dancing, swimming and athletic contests.

Kris' real name is Barbara, but friends dare not call her anything but "Kris." She is fond of dogs and cats, has a great desire to have a Dachshund of her own, a matter to which her dad has given conditional consent of a "soon, maybe" basis. Kris likes to swim, to eat, and to play with her girl friends, according to her father. She also likes the Heppner kids.

Although the family includes four daughters, only the two younger ones have been home much this summer because Margaret is busy with her job with Pacific Northern Airlines which serves Portland, Seattle and Alaska and has been spending the summer in Anchorage, and Joan has been busy with the position in Seattle. She will be home this week-end for a short time before leaving again.

Mr. Brubacher is a member of the Masons, of the Elks, and the Chamber of Commerce. He was a Rotarian for many years but there is no Rotary club here. In Wallace, the family attended the Congregational church but also find no Congregational church here.

One thing is sure—with the wide variety of interests the Brubacher family is going to be a busy group in Morrow county.

Family Day Plan Popular at Event

Family Day plan at the Pendleton Round-Up and Happy Canyon has proved popular in the two years of its existence. Ford Robertson, publicity director, states:

This year it will be on September 11, first day of the big 4-day show. The entire family gets reserved seats for both the Happy Canyon and the Round-Up at a minimum price of $12.50 for all. For those who wish to go only to the Round-Up and barbecue the price is $8.75 per family.

Jub Corcan, chairman of the barbecue, says that they expect to feed 6500 persons this year in one hour.

Last year schools in the area excused students for Family Day, and it is expected that the same plan will be followed this year.

There will also be free entertainment and rides during the barbecue. All of this is put on in the arena immediately after the last event of the opening day's show.

Cochran urged that tickets be ordered early as 1000 families are the maximum that can be handled. Ticket sales close the night of the Dress-Up parade, September 7.

2 Seriously Hurt In Auto Accident

One man was listed in "poor" condition and another in "fair" condition in Pioneer Memorial hospital Thursday morning from injuries sustained in an auto accident about three miles north of Heppner on the Willow Creek highway late Monday night.

Paul Breeding, 25, Heppner, underwent surgery Wednesday night for internal injuries, and his condition remained poor Thursday. Jerry Davidson, 18, son of Anna Marie Wilson, Heppner, was said to be in fair condition. He has a broken neck and possible broken back.

Sheriff C. J. D. Bauman said that their car traveled 700 feet out of control before coming to rest in a demolished condition. The accident happened along a comparatively straight stretch of highway about a half-mile north of the Kinzua mill.

The auto struck a roadside bank, nosedived through the air about 50 feet, traveled broadside down the center of the road, then went into the ditch, finally flipping over a 15-foot embankment.

Sheriff Bauman said that he does not know which man was driving, but thought it was Breeding.

The accident was another in a series of many serious mishaps that have occurred in the same area during the past year.

Extension Fund Donations Sought

With the campaign just getting well under way, more than $1000 has been contributed towards the needed $3400 to restore the county extension budget to its original $11,650, Mrs. E. Markham Baker said Thursday.

Contributions to the fund are solicited from the general public, and those interested in helping are asked to send checks, payable to the "Emergency Extension Fund" to Kenneth S. Smouse, treasurer, Response from the public will help expedite the work at a time when those involved with the solicitation are busy with fair, rodeo, harvest and other work.

It is hoped that most of the contributions will be in minimum denominations of $25 or more in order to eliminate book-keeping on smaller amounts. The money will be placed in escrow in the bank to be held until the funds allowed by the county budget committee for the extension service are exhausted. When this time comes, it is hoped that the county court will reimburse the extension service for the balance of the year from the county's emergency fund. But if this is not done, it will be necessary to use the contributed money. Should the county use emergency funds, the donations will be returned to the givers.

The state extension service set a deadline of September 1 as the time when assurance would be needed that the $3400 will be provided in order that one extension agent of the staff of three may not be taken from the county. Thus, it is imperative that the solicitation be concluded soon.

The $3400 was removed from the extension service budget at the county budget hearing. This action aroused a storm of protest from many citizens but it could not be restored because the budget had been finalized at the hearing.

Dinner Slated For Rodeo Court

Morrow county's Fair and Rodeo court and visiting courts on rodeo week-end will be guests at a luncheon in the Elks club on Saturday, August 31, from 11:30 to 12:30. Hillard Brown, chairman of the Heppner-Morrow County Chamber of Commerce banquet committee announces.

The luncheon will be held in lieu of the county picnic tent has been held at the courthouse lawn in the past on the Saturday of the rodeo. During recent years, only a small number has attended the picnic because of the conflict of activities, and it was decided that this year the event would be changed to the luncheon for the courts and visiting dignitaries.

County Judge Oscar Peterson, will be official host and other officers of the Chamber of Commerce will attend to greet the guests. Mrs. Fred Ott will prepare the luncheon. Brown said.

Football Fever In Sway Saturday For Star Classic

"Football fever" will grip this area Saturday with the Shrine East-West all-star high school game set for Saturday night at the Round-Up stadium in Pendleton.

Local fans have much to capture their interest this year. One of the players for the East team will be John Porter, Heppner High school star griddler, and another will come from Riverside High of Boardman-Irigoien, Johnny Partlow, a football hero there prior to his graduation in the spring.

Morrow county contributes the top-ranking royalty to the big game this year with Queen Joan Healy, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Healy, wearing the crown, robes and carrying the royal scepter.

One of her official duties will be to greet "Little Joe" of Bonanza TV fame (Michael Landon in real life) when he arrives Saturday morning at about 11:30. "Little Joe" will add a great deal of interest to the football classic and surrounding pageantry.

Forty will play in the Heppner band, directed by Carol Miller, the seventh through the twelfth grades. Twenty in the drill team will also attend, entering with the band as one unit. The Heppner group will leave at 11 a.m. and will compete in the A-2 division.

Riverside High's band will not play in the parade but will leave at 5:30 p.m. with 30 members taking part.

Heppner school band, under the direction of Arnold Melby, will participate in the ceremonies throughout the day and the pageantry at the stadium in the evening. Also scheduled to take part are the lone school band, directed by Carol Miller, and the Riverside High band, directed by Al P. Reeves Jr.

Ticket sale has been progressing very briskly at the Turner, Van Marter and Bryant Insurance office here. Out of 269 tickets only 24 were left early this week, but Larry Cook of the Shrine club said that he planned to get some more to have on hand for late purchasers.

Big parade is scheduled to start at 2:30 and the pageantry at the grounds is slated to commence at 7 p.m. with the game following. Cook said that 44 bands have signed to take part in the classic.

Queen is Crowned At Coronation Saturday Night

It's official now. Pretty Sandra Eubanks, who has represented Morrow county for several months as queen of the fair and rodeo, was crowned in coronation ceremonies Saturday night, a part of an open-air program on Heppner's main downtown corner.

Ed Gonty, president of the city council, did the honors in the absence of Mayor Al Lamb, who was unable to attend. Gonty also presented corsages to the queen and to her mother, Mrs. John Eubanks, chaperone of the rodeo court.

Mike Whitesmith, chairman of the coronation program, presented corsages to Princesses Shannon Mahoney, Nancy Cleveland, Sharon Donovan and Louise Pointer.

Bill Barratt, lively master of ceremonies, had a difficult task when it turned out that featured entertainers were unable to appear. From a long repertoire of stories and jokes, however, he provided an impromptu program of his own that entertained the god-sized crowd.

One interesting part of the program was a competition to find the "cowboy coming from the farthest distance." It seemed that Michael Dugdale of Newton, Montgomeryshire, Wales, then visiting the Barratts, had the honors won hands down until Tom Reich of Santiago, Chile, worked on the Grinch ranches, presented himself as a candidate. Then came the difficult task of determining which was from the farthest distance. In order that there be no dispute, each was awarded with a kiss by Queen Sandra Reich is a senior at the University of Portland. Another University of Portland student, Manuel Hernandez of Havana, Cuba, is working at the Don McElligott ranch, but he was not present for the coronations.

Music for street dancing was furnished by Roy Quackenbush with Al Bunch and Oma Cox. Couples were reluctant to dance. The coronation program was but the music was entertaining, preceded by a short parade, featuring the rodeo court on their horses, together with members of the Wranglers club, 4-H riders, and a few other children and adults.

Whitesmith was assisted in arrangements for the program by Fred Gimbel and Harley Sager. Tri-county Equipment Co. furnished the truck used as a stage, Tum-A-Lum Lumber Co. supplied other properties and Heppner Flowers provided the backdrop.

After the coronation, the Queen's Dance was held in the fair pavilion, the last in the series of dances until the Rodeo dances scheduled for the night of August 31.

Three Plead Guilty On Larceny Charges

Three men accused of taking three chain saws and other goods aggregating more than $1000 in value pleaded guilty before Judge William Wells in Morrow county circuit court Thursday and each was placed on three years probation.

They are Harry Lee Badget, 23; William Arthur Reynvaan, 18; and Norris Dean Dooney, 19, all of Mitchell.

The three were arrested August 15 in Mitchell. State Police Officer Jim Gordon said. They were charged with stealing the chain saws, property of Mrs. Nona Leathers, from a shed at Reid's mill. Other tools recovered included those taken from two construction sites in the Mitchell area.

Officer Gordon brought the men to Heppner where they were lodged in jail in lieu of posting $1500 bail each.

They were charged with larceny from a dwelling. Two of the chain saws were recovered, but the other was said to have been traded in on a car by Reynvaan. The men agreed to reimburse Mrs. Leathers for the saw.

Swim Pool Closed All Day Saturday

Heppner's municipal swimming pool will be closed all day Saturday because of the Shrine football game and parade. Tom Hughes, life guard announces.

The pool staff expects to attend the classic in Pendleton.

Number of swimmers at the pool has climbed up to near a normal summer average during August with about 200 per day coming to swim. In the earlier part of the summer, however, the cool weather held attendance far below number with the average running only about 140 per day.
