CORNETT GREEN, a crowd favorite in the Morrow county calf roping at the 1963 Morrow County Rodeo, had to be content with third place, and he receives the award from Queen Sandra Eubanks. The certificate in his left hand is good for a Stetson hat from Wilson's Men's Wear. Heppner, Cornett, who broke his neck in a fall a few months ago, wore a brace in the calf roping event but this didn't prevent him from roping and tying his calf in jig time in each of two go-arounds. Despite the bumper crop of entries and the tremendous job of organization and working out details, the rodeo went off without a hitch. Chuck Blaylock and Benny Bidwell, Redmond clowns, performed during the afternoon shows and Bill Jones of Lariat publications, Vancouver, Wn., was announcer. Judges, chosen by the cowboys, were Bill Smothers and Don Griffith, and timers were Archie Munkers and Thelma Smethurst. Raymond French worked on the calf chutes, and Gerald Swaggart was field judge. Pickup men were Jim Van Belle and Pete Pederson.

Busiest of all was Bert Huff, secretary, who had all the entries bookwork and finances to handle. Members of the rodeo committee, headed by Chairman Jones, were all very busy, too, each in their separate departments, including, besides those mentioned, Bill Smethurst, John Eubanks, Fred Mankin, Al Fetsch, Everett Struckmeier, Wes Sherman and Fred Gimbel.

Bringing entertainment throughout the event was the Cascade Amusement Co. carnival, and members of the American Legion and auxiliary operated refreshment stands.

Irrigon Reunion Brings Together Many Graduates

By LaVELLE PARTLOW
 IRRIGON—A large crowd attended the 3rd Annual Reunion of Irrigon High school alumni held at the school August 25. There were 125 persons registered, with representatives from Idaho, Washington, Oregon and Colorado. The school was open at 12:00 noon for registering and visiting, with the potluck meal served at 1:30.

Following lunch, the group adjourned to the upstairs gymnasium for the afternoon program, which began with several musical selections by Mrs. Perry Pummel, Donna Kay and Anita and Mrs. Albert Partlow and Sheryl. This was followed by recognition of the classes.

The classes of '55 and '56 tied for the largest representation, each having 6 alumni present. Joe Mann of Denver, Colorado, received the award for coming the longest distance. Speaker for the afternoon was Les Rucker, class of '42, who is an instructor at a correctional institution at St. Anthony, Idaho. The program ended with a tour of the new A. C. Houghton building.

Miss Donna Isom was general chairman for this year's reunion, and Mrs. Earl Isom was the program chairman. Next year's chairmen are: general chairman—Mrs. Earl Watson, program chairman, Mrs. Perry Pummel; food preparation—Mrs. Jim Schuman; cleanup—Miss Judy Berger; publicity—Mrs. Don Leighton and Jerry Ross.

School Cooks Hold Workshop
 A "Cooks Workshop" was held at A. C. Houghton school Wednesday, August 28, with school cooks attending from Morrow, Gilliam and Umatilla counties. The day began with registration and a coffee hour, with the cooks from Heppner serving coffee and donuts.

The social hour was followed by a welcome address by Michael Tolar, A. C. Houghton school principal. A skit, "Dead at the End," was presented by Lucille Hobbs, Ardith Chaney, Beulah Harover and Myrle Jensen. The skit was directed by Ruby James. Miss Jean Davis and Miss Butterworth, assistant school lunch directors of Salem, spoke on lunch scheduling. Mrs. Elsie Gagle, A. C. Houghton school teacher, gave

Sectional Meeting Calls Women Here; Guest Speaker Coming

Women's Missionary Council of the Assembly of God church, Heppner, was host Tuesday to representatives from ten area churches for an all-day sectional meeting. They met at noon for a picnic lunch at the Courthouse park, with more than 60 in attendance. Mrs. Ray Barnett, lone, local president, was in charge of arrangements. Also present was Mrs. John Kenny, sectional head, wife of the Assembly of God pastor in Irrigon.

Guest speaker for the afternoon program was Mrs. Robert Ruark, wife of the newly appointed missionary to the Umatilla Indian reservation east of Pendleton.

Delegates were present from Stanfield, Irrigon, Horniston, Umatilla, Weston, John Day, Prairie City, Pilot Rock, Spray and Heppner.

Special guest speaker Sunday, September 15, at the Heppner Assembly of God church, will be the Rev. Bruce Manning, recently appointed as a missionary recruit to the South American countries. He will speak at the 11 o'clock morning worship service. Rev. Bill Alsop, pastor, announces.

a talk entitled "Art in the Cafeteria."

The luncheon was sponsored by the Irrigon Kindergarten mothers, with Mrs. Al Reeves in charge. Following the luncheon, entertainment was provided by Mrs. Perry Pummel and Donna Kay and Mrs. Albert Partlow and Sheryl. The ladies made several varieties of sandwiches in the afternoon, and later held a discussion comparing the lunch programs at the various schools. At the completion of the workshop, refreshments were served by the A. C. Houghton cooks, Mrs. Earl Isom and Mrs. Lloyd Cooley.

TRAVEL BUG?

places to go... things to do

by Bob Kyle

Travel Bug column is sponsored by the Oregon Welcome Committee. Purpose of the column is to provide readers with a weekly calendar of events and feature highlights of "places to go and things to do" in Oregon. Contributions may be sent to "Travel Bug," 522 Pittcock Block, Portland, Oregon.

Suggestion for a late summer week-end trip would have to include one of Oregon's famous mountain passes. Across the Cascades, for example, via Mt. Hood Loop in Highway 26, or the North Santiam on Highway 22, the McKenzie Pass on Highway 126, or perhaps Highway 58 over the Willamette Pass.

Scenic interest along these mountain routes includes panoramic views of towering Cascade peaks, sparkling mountain lakes and streams, mighty stands of timber affording coolness to woodland recreation areas and, of course, the smashing beauty of flaming leaves as foliage turns to hues of yellow, red, lavender and gold to welcome the fall season.

For something to do, the Cascade passes offer some of the finest camping, picnic and recreation facilities in the world—provided by state and federal parks.

Three big events, any one of which might be fun to attend during the week are the Pendleton Round-Up and Happy Canyon Pageant opening Wednesday, September 11 and roaring through Saturday; Sherman County Fair and Rodeo at Moro, and the annual "Indian Style" salmon bake at Depoe Bay on Saturday, September 14.

Who said there's nothing to do this week-end? Roads throughout the state are in excellent shape, weather seems to be moderating, and school starts soon, so you'd better get out and enjoy yourself while you have a chance.

HARD TO BELIEVE, but did you know Oregon's out-of-state tourist business brings a total of around $217 million into the state each year? We had close to 12 million visitors in 1962. And that's not all—right here in the state, we spent $184 (in fact, almost $185) million during the same period.

Our tourist business is the state's third-largest industry, and running hard for second place.

The Oregon Welcome Committee is a volunteer committee assisting the Travel Information Division of the Oregon State Highway Department in tourist promotion activities. Oregon Welcome chairmen have been appointed throughout the state by Governor Hatfield, and this year's program, according to Dick Turner, chairman of the committee, has been highly successful.

Everyone can help in this program. Just greet our visitors with a big smile and warm handshake. Be friendly and helpful—make them feel at home.

Cattlemen Slate Annual Conclave

A half a century of leadership will be the theme for the 50th Annual Convention of the Oregon Cattlemen's Association according to Walt Schrock, President.

The annual meeting, to be held in Baker, November 6-7-8 this year, will commemorate the founding of the Association in that city in 1913.

Plans are shaping up very well to make this program the best ever. Tribute and recognition will be given to those early day cattle producers who had the foresight to organize such an association and to those who have throughout the 50 years given so unselfishly of their time and talents to make the Oregon Cattlemen's Association a success and a leader among the cattle associations of this nation.

President Schrock stated that plans have been completed by the committees of the host county of Baker for housing, registration, buckaroo breakfast, banquet, as well as entertainment each night for everyone's pleasure. The business program outlined by the officers of the Association is nearly complete also. It will be a real working session according to Schrock, with more time devoted to committee meetings and association business and less time to speakers.

Fire Report Errs

A recent report on a fire at the Phil Mahoney place stated in this paper that Bob Mahoney and Harold Evans were doing some burning when the fire spread out of control. However, Mr. and Mrs. Evans report that they were on vacation when the fire occurred and had nothing to do with it. They asked that a correction be printed in the paper.
