WHEW. IT is taking some doing to get back into the routine of things after a pretty fast and furious summer! Still a few more nails to nail, paint to paint, and floor covering to put down, but the "project" is beginning to near the end. Of course, in two weeks there will be time out for deer and elk hunting, but soon I have hopes of getting dishes out of hanging wall cupboards again and climbing the out-of-doors without slipping on a chair! Meanwhile, back at the job! The social activity is beginning to pick up. If I have missed your club or lodge in the calendar, give me a call so I can get it next time. Also call in your card parties, showers and birthday parties, Tuesdays each week, thank you!

AN AFTERNOON coffee was held Wednesday for Joyce Whitley, who left with her husband, Dean, and family for their home in Corvallis. Dean will complete his senior year at Oregon State University. He has been employed by the Heppner school system for the past two years. Janina Johnson held the coffee at her home, and guests came by to wish Joyce well and presented her with a money tree. The guests included Velma Cantonwine, Pat Brindle, Jackie Brindle, Lila Porter, Jan Agee, Donna Gordon, Carolyn Cole, Myrna Sutherland, Mary Ann Johnson, Rosalee Porter, Louise Clark, and LaVonne Bloodsworth.

THOSE who have not seen the newly completed Heppner High school or who have not met all of the teachers in the schools here are invited to attend the teachers' reception and open house to be held September 18 at 8 p.m. Here is your chance to see the wonderful building and meet "Johnny's" or "Mary's" teacher! When my sister, Rieta, and her husband were here during the rodeo we got a grand tour as Gordon Pratt and family arrived minutes behind us with the Jim Mallon family from Hood River to see the school. We decided we would like to attend high school again, but wonder if we could keep up with the kids? Oh, that chemistry and biology lab!

BONNIE BUSCHKE entertained the Pinochle club last Wednesday evening with two tables in top floor. Flo Connor came up with play score again for the evening to make it four times in a row! Say, gals, does she bring her own deck? Punky McDaniel won second high and Judy Buschke won the door prize. Also playing were Jeanne Berry, Lillian Key, Marlys Phegley, Jackie Allstott, and Bonnie.

A NIGHT to remember is this Saturday night when the Elks lodge is to have a family potluck dinner and entertainment later. Dinner starts at 6:30 p.m., so get together with your friends and come out for a family style dinner.

A DELICIOUS ham dinner preceded the first fall Ladies Night at the Elks last Thursday with the pinochle gals outnumbering the bridge gals, 12 tables to four, probably the first time! Earlene Miller won first with a terrific score of 6580, including a 1500 trump with partner, Esther Bergstrom. Shirley Marlatt won second, not too far back with a 6470 score, and Rita Worden won the door prize. Daisy Collins was high in bridge; Helen Cohn, second; and Marjorie Worden won the door prize, keeping them in the Worden family! Hostesses serving homemade cookies and coffee were Marge Eckman, Beverly Sherman, Lillian Sweek, and Bebe Munkers. Next Ladies Night will be October 3.

THE REBEKAHS held their first meeting of the fall last Friday night at the hall. They made plans to have the United Nations winner, Marcia Rands, tell of her trip taken this summer. It is slated for an October meeting which will be open to the public and the exact date will be given later.

GLADYS BECKETT entertained two tables of the Friday Afternoon Pinochle club last week with Mary Harris winning high. Hannah Anderson won low and Mary joined Beulah Mankin to win the pinochle. All of the club were there including Pearl Wright, Millie Evans, Doris Watkins, and Carrie Beckett.

DO YOU ALL have your winter supply of peaches canned? We're just about half done and will go after the rest of them this week-end. Many families picked and canned peaches last week-end, including the Creston Robinsons, Ned Sweek, Riley Munkers, and Jack Ployhar families. Jack and Colleen Ployhar are "newcomers" to this canning bit. After a few quarts, you begin to feel like a peach, but do they taste good this winter! In fact, Jack and Colleen liked the canning so well, they're going after huckleberries this week-end!

MOTHERS' CLUB members and their husbands will be guests at the Herman Winter home for a barbecue Sunday. Their first meeting will get underway October 7 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Abrams. Plans for the year will be laid out and meeting places set up. The meetings are held the first Monday of each month through the school year.

DUPLICATE BRIDGE was in session here Tuesday evening for the monthly unit party held at the Elks lodge. Five tables were going and the Howell movement was used in the scoring. Daisy Collins and LaVerne Van Marter won high; Jim and Bobbe Driscoll were second; Isabelle Davis, Condon, and Gordon Hutchens were third; Phyllis Hutchens and Edda Mae Lovgren were fourth. The unit parties will move to the first Sunday afternoon of each

THE ENGAGEMENT of Karen Rae Lundell, Ione, and Francis Paul Stack, Big Sandy, Montana, is announced to friends by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Lundell.

Parents Announce

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Lundell of Ione announce the engagement of their daughter, Karen Rae, to Francis Paul Stack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand P. Stack of Big Sandy, Montana.

The young couple will be enrolled at Pacific Lutheran University in Tacoma, Wn., where she is majoring in chemistry and he is a biology and chemistry major.

Miss Lundell is a 1960 graduate of Ione High school. A December wedding date is planned.

month starting with the session on October 6 at 2 p.m.

THREE COUPLES went to Pendleton Wednesday night for the monthly Masterpoint play and all six came home in the "money" points, that is! Going were LaVerne and Laurel Van Marter, Jim and Bobbe Driscoll, and Bill and Daisy Collins. Bill and Bobbe won second, east-west; Jim and Laurel, third east-west; and LaVerne and Daisy, third north-south.

SIX ELKS officers went to Milton-Freewater Sunday for an all-day district deputy fall clinic with district deputy George Stadelman, The Dalles, in charge. Ten lodges in this area form the district and this meeting is held to plan the year's work. Going from here were Bob Flatt, Bob Brindle, Jerry Daggett, Clint Agee, Darrell Padberg, and Dr. W. H. Wolff.

WORD WAS received here by Hubert Wilson from the Conley Lanham who are now in France. They plan to attend classes there and they told Hubert to send their mail!

THE GERALD Jonassons entertained the Couple Duplicate bridge club Friday evening with three tables in play. Those enjoying the play were the Bill Blakes, Jim Gordons, Jim Driscolls, Bill Collins, and LaVerne Van Marters. Shirley Blake won high and Jim Driscoll was second. The play followed a potluck supper earlier in the evening.

IN MORE bridge action and the card clubs starting up after summer close downs, Marian Jonasson had the Bridge Biddies at her home Tuesday night. Kay Robinson was a guest and came up with high score for the evening, Mary McLeod won second, and LaVerne won the traveling. This was given this evening for the one having bid and made the most games. Others in on the play were Mary Jean McCabe, Jan Agee, Janina Johnson, Donna Gordon.

REMEMBER TO call or write in the name of your college student and where he or she is going so we may use it in a future story.

ENJOY THE many fresh fruits and vegetables in the markets now before the winter months are here—cantaloupes, grapes, watermelons, peaches, and pears. When picking a peach for canning, look for a creamy yellow color for ripeness; pears are picked when green and ripen quickly at room temperature for best results. In the vegetable department there are beans, beets, cucumbers, corn, lettuce, squash, cabbage, tomatoes, and peppers. Not much change in the beef market, a few specials on the round and chuck. Chicken is more economical than many meats and provides generous quantities of protein without excess calories. Enjoy some today with a crisp salad and fresh peaches for dessert!

Honored on Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hughes were hosts Friday evening, September 6, for a birthday dinner honoring their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Tom Hughes. Others present were Mr. Hughes and children, Pam, Tommy, Mike and David.

Tell the advertiser you saw it in the Gazette-Times.

Officers Installed At Legion Meeting

Officers of American Legion Post No. 87 and auxiliary were installed at a joint meeting following a potluck supper Monday night in the Legion hall with 40 persons present.

Frank Rehberg, Pendleton, district No. 6 commander of the Legion, and Mrs. Lois Rogers, La Grande, district No. 6 auxiliary president, were installing officers. Each also spoke briefly.

Legion officers installed were: Don Munkers, commander; Riley Munkers, first vice commander; Bill Heath, second vice commander; Don Bennett, finance officer; Elmer Heath, chaplain; Frank Hamlin, sergeant-at-arms; and C. J. D. Bauman, service officer.

Auxiliary officers are: Mrs. Frank Hamlin, president; Mrs. Sybil Wells, first vice president; Mrs. C. J. D. Bauman, second vice president; Mrs. Don Munkers, secretary; Mrs. Earl Soward, treasurer; Mrs. Etta Parker, chaplain; Mrs. Riley Munkers, sergeant-at-arms; and Mrs. Bill Heath, historian-at-arms.

A varied program is planned for the day, beginning with a devotional service by the host pastor, Melvin Dixon. District officers will preside. Of interest will be an officers training clinic and a review of study courses to be offered during the year. All Methodist women are urged to participate.

Two Exchange Vows In Monument Church

MONUMENT—The marriage of Miss Mattie Louise Stubblefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Stubblefield of Monument, and Leonard Osborne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Osborne of Fox, was performed at a double ring ceremony in the Monument Community church Saturday, August 24. Justice Jess Allen of Canyon City read the wedding vows at 10:30 a.m. Organist was Mrs. Riea Cupper, aunt of the bride, and accompanied Wayne Leathers, Jr., when he sang, "I Love You Truly."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a winter white long sleeved sheath dress of cotton brocade. She carried baby pink rosebuds on a white Bible, gift of her grandmother when she was a child. Her veil was shoulder length of white nylon net and she wore a birthstone necklace.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Dixie Reynolds of Monument, sister of the bride. Her dress was a powder blue jersey and she carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations, with spider chrysanthemums.

Serving as best man was Richard, from Fox. Richard Leasy, cousin of the groom, from Fox.

Mrs. Stubblefield, mother of the bride, wore a princess style green and white summer dress, with beige accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Osborne, chose a pastel print on white silk dress, with white accessories. The couple greeted their friends at a reception in the church parlors. A beautiful 3-tiered wedding cake, baked by Nelda Martin and decorated by Mildred McGirr and Ruth Piquet, all of Long Creek, was presented to the newlyweds as a wedding gift. Cutting the cake was Mrs. LaVelle Shank, aunt of the groom, and Mrs. Ruth Peterson, aunt of the bride, poured punch. Louise Hunt, cousin of the groom, served coffee and the guest book was passed by Mrs. Sharon Leasey of Fox.

For her going-away, the new Mrs. Osborne chose a red knit suit. Following a short wedding trip, they are now at home at Fox where he is employed for Alton McBride.
