

Directors Hear Activity Bus Plea At Board Meeting

orized on the system's salary schedule.

Bus Policy Asked

Supt. Wayne Brubacher asked that the bus transportation committee draw up a policy so that it can be determined to which garages Heppner buses should be taken for repairs, and he also asked that North end bus routes and drivers' salaries be analyzed as has been done in the rest of the county.

Acceptance Meet Set

Date of September 12 (today) at 2:30 p.m. was set for a special meeting for formal acceptance of the Heppner High school building. Stewart Tuft, architect, is to be present for the meeting in order that it may be determined if work has been satisfactorily completed for acceptance from the contractor, The Timber Co. of Hermiston.

The board also made plans to attend a meeting sponsored by the Oregon School Boards association in Pendleton on Wednesday evening, September 25, at 6 p.m. This meeting is for board members in Umatilla and Morrow counties and will open with a no-host dinner. Particular matter for consideration will be a study of the implications of the income tax referral to education.

Boardman Deed Eyed

Deed to 28.2 acres of land in the Boardman townsite was presented from Northern Pacific railroad. An option on the property had been taken by the "old" board earlier this year and earnest money paid.

Director Harvey Warner said that he felt it necessary to have property in the townsite for a school location, whether it be for a high school or grade school. He has been the board's leading exponent for moving Riverside High school to Irison but made clear his feeling that the district should have property for school purposes in Boardman.

The board deferred any action towards signing the deed for conveyance to the district until the matter is reviewed by the district's attorney.

Band Room Plan Coming

Principal Pratt said that he had discussed the matter of completing the band room at the new high school with Architect Tuft and was advised that the architects may be able to work out feasible alternates within the district's ability to finance. Plans will be drawn up for later presentation. As well as the band room, plans for a shop are being considered under the high school gym.

Supt. Brubacher reported on meeting with the city council in regard to supplying more water at the new high school and said that a special joint meeting of the council and school board will be called when the city has a proposal to present.

Water Shortage At New School Eyed by Council

Some discussion centered on two farms above the new city well which will be without domestic water if pumping from the upper well is discontinued as has been planned during the winter months.

Councilman Ed Gonty said that he felt the matter should be reviewed with the Everett Harshmans, and it was reported that Dick Wilkinson had called to say that the other house served will be moved closer to town. In the meantime, he asked if it would be possible to pump water to the house for an hour or two each week to fill the reservoir. Bridge Repair Asked.

Hager's Dairy in a letter called attention to the fact that a bridge on Kirk street needs attention and asking for gravel to be added to a section on Cannon street. Councilmen concurred that they would assume no responsibility for either matter.

Placement Exams Billed at College

Educational counseling will be available throughout the week to assist students in setting up courses of study and planning for their educational future.

For any questions regarding testing, class schedules, courses of study, and questions about the opening of Blue Mountain Community College for Fall classes call the Admissions Office, Pendleton, 276-1291.

Punt, Pass, Kick Contest Billed For Boys, 8 to 11

Sponsored locally by Heppner Auto Sales with the Ione Lions club cooperating, a punt, pass, and kick football contest for boys 8 through 11 is scheduled to be held early in October, according to Earl Ayres of the Heppner firm.

The Lions will manage the contest and will furnish the manpower to stage it, and Don Linnell is chairman for the club. Boys who wish to participate for prizes offered are invited to sign up now at Heppner Auto Sales or Jim's Chevron Station. Signup deadline is October 11, and the contest is scheduled in Heppner for Saturday, October 12.

Three fine prizes are offered to winners of each age. First place winner for each of the years represented (8, 9, 10, 11) will get letterman-type jackets. Second place winners will get helmets and third place winners will receive footballs. Dave Barnett, sales manager of Heppner Auto Sales, said.

Boys must be accompanied by their parents when they sign up for the contest and full details will be given them then. Winners locally have the opportunity to compete in a regional contest, and the winner there will go to San Francisco for a football game with the 49ers and participation in a halftime contest at one of the pro games. Eventually the national winner, to be chosen at a competition in Detroit, will go to Washington, D. C., and meet President John Kennedy.

Any boy who is eight before the year 1963 or over is eligible to take part, and the maximum age includes boys who do not attain age 12 before the year ends. Additional details are in an advertisement on page 1, section 2, of this paper.

'Doctor of Motors' Clinic Held Here

Sponsored by Heppner Auto Parts with the cooperation of the Perfect Circle piston ring company, a "Doctor of Motors" clinic was held in the Auto Parts store Monday night with Jerry Miles of Portland's Perfect Circle factory representative, in charge.

Forty-four mechanics from local service stations and garages were on hand for the event, R. C. (Pete) McMurtry, owner of the auto parts firm, said. Attracting considerable interest was a "piston nerolizer" which the local store has purchased. An instruction film was shown by Miles and he also showed films of the Indianapolis 500 race, Riverside Stock Car races and others.

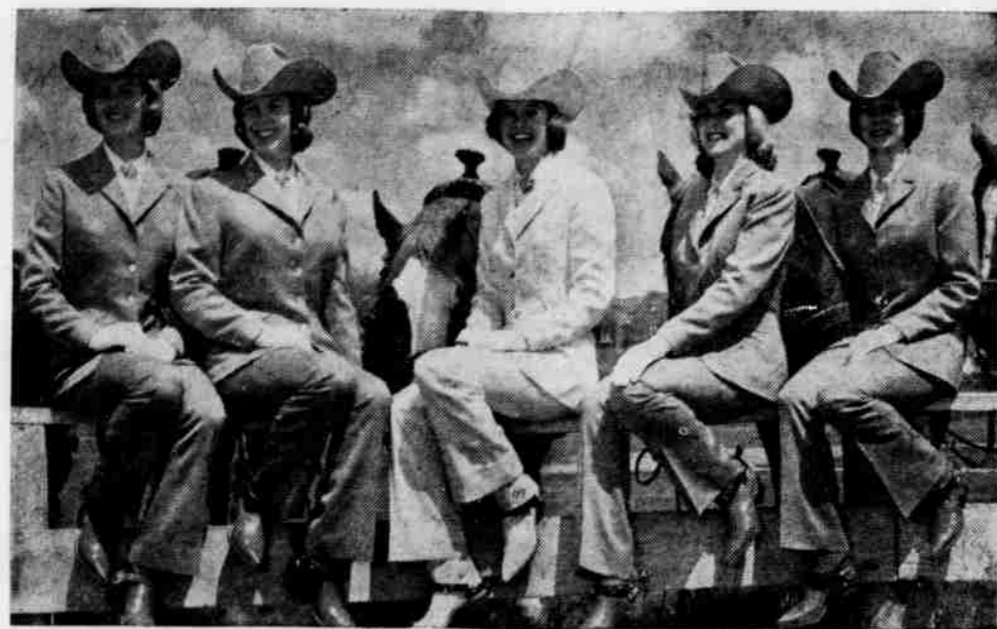

Miles showed the race films as an entertainment feature at the Chamber of Commerce at luncheon also on Monday, and they were very much enjoyed by the 30-some members present.

Attorneys to Meet At Annual Conclave

Attorneys from throughout the state will convene at Portland's Hilton Hotel on Thursday, September 19, for the Oregon State Bar's 29th annual meeting. Attending the 3-day session from Heppner will be Bob Abrams and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Winter.

The visiting lawyers will spend three days studying new procedures in state and federal jurisprudence, hearing three major speakers, attending three continuing legal education courses, hearing reports from nine of the Bar's committees, and making the 1962-63 Bar-Press award.

Convention activities wind up Saturday when delegates will attend the 5th annual Portland Open Golf tournament and the Oregon-Penn State game.

RIDIN' THE OLE rail fence at the Pendleton Round-Up grounds and ushering in the 1963 Round-Up season is Queen Kelly Ann McCormack in the center in white; Princess Barbara Moore of Hermiston, and Princesses Kay Brunner, Mary Ann Storie and Janet Horne all of Pendleton.

Round-Up Season In Full Swing

The 1963 Pendleton Round-Up season officially opened on Saturday, September 7, when the whole town went "western" donning cowboy hats and joining to produce the colorful Dress-Up parade.

The four-day Round-Up opened Wednesday, September 11. Queen Kelly McCormack and her princesses Barbara Moore of Hermiston; Janet Horne, Mary Ann Storie and Kay Brunner all of Pendleton are ruling over the event.

The Happy Canyon pageant is staged nightly at 8:15 from September 11-14 in the Canyon arena followed by a Cowboy Shuffle. One of this year's Canyon acts will be the appearance of Monte Montana, Jr., and his family, who will do trick riding and fancy roping acts.

The Westward Ho parade of historical vehicles from covered wagons, Mormon carts and gaily costumed Indians from many Northwest Indian tribes, is at 10 a.m., Friday, September 13 through downtown Pendleton.

Committee Agrees To Land Transfer

"A crucial transfer of land between the Federal Government and the State of Oregon has been given the go-ahead," Congressman Al Ullman announces. "It will allow the State to complete its agreement with Boeing Corp. on the development of Boeing Space Age Industrial Park." The approval of the House Interior Committee was required for a withdrawal of 689 acres of public domain land by the Corps of Engineers who could then arrange to transfer the land to the State.

Congressman Ullman stated that he personally went to Congressman Wayne Aspinall, chairman of the Interior Committee, and that Mr. Aspinall consented to expedite committee approval. "Time is extremely important," Ullman stated, as the state has an October deadline to meet with Boeing. "Normally that approval would have taken several weeks. However Mr. Aspinall is aware of the great local support for the Boeing project and the need for the Park. He agreed, after listening to my explanation of the need for haste, to approve the transfer of land to the Corps without further delay."

The Eastern Oregon congressman praised Aspinall for his foresight and said, "Oregon should be very grateful to the chairman for his cooperation. With the approval of the land withdrawal, the Corps can go ahead and, after a proper time for public notice, complete the sale to the state. This should allow Boeing to begin the development of the Park by late fall."

Ullman was commended by Sam Mallicoat, director of the State Planning Department in Washington, representing the state. Full cooperation and effective action in expediting this transfer is now underway.

69 Youngsters Start First Grade Careers

Parents in a number of local families probably had some sentimental moments when school started on September 9.

From some 69 households in Heppner and Lexington came first graders starting their school careers. In some cases, the youngsters were the first from their families to hike off, making it a day of special significance. In other homes, however, other brothers and sisters had preceded them, and it was a more routine procedure.

Heppner elementary school lists 56 first graders and there are 13 at Lexington. Another 24 entered school in Ione and are listed in the Ione news on another page.

Labor Council Hits Proposed River Closure

Responding to the threat posed to Columbia River commercial fishing by an initiative recently filed in Salem, the Clatsop County Central Labor Council AFL-CIO last week passed a resolution condemning the proposed measure.

The labor body accused the sponsors of the initiative, which would force commercial fishermen off the Columbia, of being "a selfish minority who are continually attempting to establish a monopoly of a resource that rightfully belongs to all the people of Oregon." The labor resolution was announced by Walter Lofgren, secretary of the county organization.

Lofgren asserted that closing the Columbia to commercial fishing would destroy the local gillnet and canning industry, causing the loss of large investments and hundreds of jobs directly related to or dependent on the century-old industry.

Labor groups that would be directly affected by the proposed legislation are the Columbia River Fishermen's Protective Union and the United Packinghouse Workers.

The Oregon State AFL-CIO organization, the resolution specified, will be requested to support the stand of the Clatsop County Labor Council when the statewide body holds its annual convention.

Mrs. Abram's sister-in-law, Mrs. Henry Morrow, and her two children of Palo Alto, Calif., who returned home by train after enjoying the county fair.

Bags Buck with Bow

Clarence Wise already has his buck deer and there is nothing illegal about it, even though general deer season is still some time away. He shot a forked horn with bow and arrow in the Keating special hunt area in the Wallowa mountains last Thursday. In the party with Clarence were his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Pirl Howell. Wise said that he has shot six or seven bucks with his bow and arrow since he took up the sport. Pirl, who has a good record with bow and arrow during the past few years, failed to score this year.
