

Curriculum Group Hears Dr. Kelley

An address by Dr. Earl C. Kelley, professor of education from Wayne State University, Detroit, Mich., highlighted the annual fall conference of the Oregon Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, for the Eastern Oregon area, in Pendleton, October 23 and 24.

Teachers from Heppner Elementary school attending were Mrs. Wayne Cacek and Mrs. Floyd Jones.

Dr. Kelley spoke at a dinner in his honor Wednesday evening. His address was entitled, "A Philosophy for Today's School," and he stressed that the most important thing in the world is people. These people need freedom from which can result creativity, he said.

"When any person is lost, every person loses," he concluded.

Thursday morning's sessions consisted of very lively group discussions. Various questions concerning education were considered and later were directed by the group leaders to Dr. Kelley during the ensuing panel discussion.

Thursday's sessions were held in the Vert club room. Dr. Kelley also gave an interesting report about "A Workable Concept of Self."

Early Day Editor's Daughter Succumbs

Mrs. Lila Hicks Adams, daughter of an early day editor of the Heppner Gazette, died in a Longview, Wn., hospital October 24 from cancer, according to information received from O. M. Yeager of Castle Rock, Wn., former long-time resident of Heppner.

Mrs. Adams, 68, had many friends in Heppner and Lexington. Her father, A. J. Hicks, came to Heppner in 1891 and purchased the Gazette, then sold out and edited the Cowlitz County Advocate at Castle Rock, Wn. In 1910 he returned to Heppner, bought the Heppner Times from E. M. Shutt, and edited that paper for a time.

Mother of Mrs. Adams was one of the McMillan family of Lexington.

The Hicks family lived in the old Park Garrigues home at the corner of Gale and Church streets, across from the Episcopal church, in 1910.

Yeager recalls that while they were living in that house, Mr. Hicks hired a woman to keep house for them and bought a three-burner kerosene stove. The first time she lit the stove, it exploded and burned her to death.

Cards Bash Bucs; Take Sixth Straight Crown

Ione's Cardinals pulled all stops Friday to defeat the Riverside Pirates and take their sixth consecutive Umatilla-Morrow league football crown. The game was played on the lone turf, and the fans got their money's worth before the afternoon was over.

Riverside drew first blood in the match when Steve Partlow took the opening kick and flashed 78 yards for the score. The conversion was good and the Pirates were in the lead 7-0 with less than a minute played in the game. At this point it looked as though the Cards were in for a long afternoon on the gridiron.

The Cardinals had a different idea on the matter and set out to even the count. They pulled to within one point of the Bucs in the latter stages of the first stanza as Ken Klinger wheeled through the Pirate defense for 15 yards and paydirt. The PAT attempt was missed, and the Riverside club held a slim 7-6 margin.

The second quadrant was a scoreless affair as both teams got stubborn on defense and allowed no points to be scored. At the rest break the Pirates were still on top of the scramble for the championship.

The third period was a duplicate of the second as both defenses continued to be miserly and refused to budge. At the end of the period it appeared as though the Pirates would make their one-point advantage stand for the victory.

In the fourth quarter the Cards cranked their offense into gear and drove for the victory. They scored their second TD of the day when Klinger again packed the mail across the goal line. This trip covered five yards. Tom Heimbigner toed the pigskin through the uprights for the extra point and the Redbirds had their first lead of the day at 13-7.

Later in the final stanza the lone eight struck again. The climax to the drive came with Jay Ball plunging over from 3 yards out. Heimbigner was on target again for the conversion attempt and the Cards held a 20-7 lead. From this point their defense took over and made the margin good for the victory against their cross-county rivals.

Riverside's Partlow gave the home crowd some anxious moments in the final quarter when he broke into the clear and headed for the end zone. His effort was foiled when Leon Maggill, a defensive ace for the Cardinals, nailed him from behind.

The win gave the Cards the chance to play Mt. Vernon for the district championship and a berth in the state playoffs. The game will be played Friday, November 8, on the Mt. Vernon field.

Statistically, the Pirates were the leaders as they accounted for 217 yards and nine first downs. The lone club had 182 yards and eight first downs.

The win came at a great expense to the lone team as Ken Klinger, the Cardinals' prize back, sustained an injured knee. It is not known yet whether he will be ready for the playoff with the Bears.

Ione to Meet Fossil In Non-League Game

Ione's league champion Cardinals will travel to Fossil Friday to tangle with the Falcons in their last regular season football action. The Cards will use the game to sharpen for their battle with Mt. Vernon's Bears on November 8 to decide the championship of district 8-B.

The Cards will make the trip without their ace back, Ken Klinger, who was hurt in the Riverside scramble. Many other varsity men will not make the trip but will instead save their talents for the district championship contest. With so many injuries the Cards can't afford to lose any more varsity players.

An overnight guest of Dr. and Mrs. A. D. McMurdo Wednesday was their son, Dr. Bernard H. McMurdo, a dentist in Burlingame, Calif. He flew into the Lexington airport Wednesday in his own plane, leaving Thursday morning for British Columbia to take part in a moose hunting trip.

Boys' State Pair To Speak At Meet

Legionnaires will furnish the meat dish and all members are asked to bring potluck dishes for the dinner which starts at 7 p.m.

American Legion Auxiliary dignitaries making their official visit at the dinner and auxiliary meeting are Mrs. Lois Rogers, La Grande, district 6 president; and Mrs. Rachel Moore, Athena, district 6 vice-president. All members and their families are urged to attend.

All Ione Legion and auxiliary members are invited to attend the dinner and meetings.

Turner Honored As Senior Agent

Frank W. Turner, who has the distinction of having the longest continuous service as an agent of Oregon Automobile Insurance Co., was honored at the annual meeting of the company in Portland Friday with some 400 attending.

He was called upon to speak to the group at the annual banquet in the Multnomah hotel Friday night and reminisced for several minutes.

Turner became an agent for the company in August, 1927, which gives him about a year's seniority over the agent with second longest service. The Heppner man is probably the oldest senior agent in point of age, too.

After attending the meeting, Turner went to the Oregon-Washington football game on Saturday.
