

Grain Growers Review Progress At Annual Meet

be loyal to them and work for them in his talk as speaker of the evening.

"Educated and well-informed directors are among our most important assets," he said.

He pointed out that North Pacific's profit last year was only $14,000 but he is hopeful that it will be able to return a good dividend next year. The lack of a high profit, however, was discounted because the first obligation is to handle the grain for the growers.

North Pacific's goal is to market 50% of the grain of its growers, Tanke said. It is now handling between 30 to 35 million bushels.

The cooperative's new elevator at Kalama, Wn., is "operating beautifully" and is a great source of pride, he said.

Grain growers must be alert to change and face up to many questions coming up in the year ahead, concerning the wheat program, sales abroad including Russia, and whether there is to be less government restriction and more on the road to free markets, Tanke said.

Future for the Northwest in wheat appears bright, he declared. The geographical location "at our back door" is a considerable advantage. At the same time the Northwest is capable of producing top quality wheat. Grain cooperatives, working together, can be effective, he said.

Tanke showed colored slides of a recent trip to the orient in the interests of wheat marketing, including shots of Japan, India, Thailand, Pakistan and the Philippines. They showed wheat being done to promote wheat in those countries.

Three directors of the Morrow Grain Growers were re-elected unanimously. They are E. H. (Ted) Miller, Jr., Walter Jacobs and Elmer Palmer, all for three-year terms. Associate directors elected for one-year terms are Ray Lundell, Larry Lindsay, Leo Ashbeck, Gene Majeske, Al Fetsch, Archie Becholdt and Charles Doherty.

Door prizes winners included Prudy Casebeer, Walter Edger, Cecil Lutkins, Jenny Smith, Mrs. Gene Majeske, Mrs. Bob Jepsen, Mrs. Paul Jones, Barton Clark, Roice Fulleton, Lonnie Edmondson, Phil Emert, Mrs. Vernon Munkers, Jean Marie Damon, and Dr. A. D. McMurdo.

Kenneth Smouse was presented an award by Lamb as top grain exhibitor.

Enjoys Utah Trip

Mrs. Phebe Bartholomew of Butter Creek is home again after taking an airplane trip to Salt Lake City, Utah, with her daughter, Mrs. A. T. Sether of Seattle. They attended the installation of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Bartholomew as worthy patron and worthy matron of the Order of Eastern Star in a lodge in Salt Lake. Mrs. Sether spent about two weeks with her mother here and returned to Seattle Saturday.

Drill Team Performs At National Grange

Cheryl Corley, daughter of Mrs. Eulenna Corley, Ione, participated with the Benton county drill team in its performance at the close of the talent contest at National Grange convention in Portland Friday night. Two counties from Oregon had drill teams participating, but they were not in the talents to be judged. The Benton county team had won second place honors at the State Grange meeting on June 10 in Oregon City.

Accompanying Mrs. Corley and Cheryl to the national meeting were Sue Townsend and Mrs. W. G. Seehafer of Boardman. Mrs. Corley had joined Mountain View Grange at Lewisburg while they lived in Corvallis last year, but has now transferred back to Willows Grange.

Accident Takes Life Of Jimmy Bryan

KINZUA—Mr. and Mrs. James Walker returned home Saturday evening from Canoga Park, Calif., where they were called Wednesday morning by the death of Mrs. Walker's son, Jimmy Bryan. Jimmy was killed Tuesday afternoon in a construction accident when the cat he was running overturned with him.

Funeral services were held at Canoga Park Friday afternoon. He is survived by his wife and stepson of Canoga Park; his mother, Mrs. Walker; his father, Harold Bryan of Portland; a sister, Mrs. June Webb of Mayville, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Perry of Fossil.

Born March 31, 1932, at Yakima, Wn. he attended school in Portland, graduating from Benson Tech. He was well known around here for his playing and singing of Western music. He made club appearances and worked on radio and television and also appeared at the World's Fair last year in Seattle. He had formerly worked and lived at Camp 5 before moving to California.

Hamiltons on TV During Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Hamilton and Bobbie returned last Monday from a two weeks vacation spent mostly in southern California, visiting Mr. Hamilton's daughter, Mrs. Phyllis Guttry of Santa Barbara, and his mother, who resides in Grass Valley, Calif.

Mrs. Guttry accompanied them on to Los Angeles where they toured Disneyland and other places of interest. The trip was highlighted by attending the taping of a "Truth or Consequences" television show.

They were well rewarded as Mrs. Guttry was one of those singled out to answer a question, winning $20. The program was shown on local television last Friday and there were several good views of the Hamiltons.

On the return trip they stopped in Portland where they visited their daughter, Judy, who is attending Portland State College.

Beach Reelected State Farm Bureau President

Harold Beach, Hermiston, was unanimously re-elected State President of Oregon Farm Bureau Federation at the 3-day convention at the Marion Hotel in Salem last week. Gene Cutsforth, Lexington, who has served as regional director for the bureau for several years, was also re-elected by unanimous vote.

During business sessions, much discussion was centered on the national farm program, with delegates indicating that they believe farm programs, with reference to wheat and feed grains, should be changed. They feel the present supply and export situation offers the farmer an excellent opportunity to make an orderly transition from government control. They also voiced opposition to grazing on diverted acres.

"We believe that compensatory payments pose a real trap for farmers. They would make the farmers directly dependent upon the federal government for a large portion of his income. We are opposed to compensatory payments for wheat."

"The Oregon Farm Bureau Federation endorses the principles of the Quie-Dole bill, which are as follows:

"First. It would be voluntary. Price support and diversion payments would be available only to those who retire acreage from production.

"Second. It would require land retirement and conservation as a condition of eligibility for program benefits. A minimum 20% would be required with an optional and additional 30% reduction allowed.

"Third. It would use only payment-in-kind for making diversion payments. The secretary could, however, advance the producer cash in anticipation of the sale of grain, but there would be no direct payments, as provided under the 1963 feed grain program.

"Fourth. It would be based on a market economy. The CCC release price for surplus grain in inventory could not be less than 105% of the current support price, plus reasonable carrying charges. When the supply is back to a 'normal supply', this release price would be 115% of the current support price, plus reasonable carrying charges, and CCC would be required to make equivalent market purchases for grain which has been sold as being 'out of condition'."

The convention opened with the traditional vesper service at the Salem Presbyterian church with Rev. John R. Stewart giving the sermon. The Women's Regional Council, under the leadership of Mrs. Grant Henderson, closed the vesper service with a candlelighting ceremony and the Collect, sung by Sandra Beach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beach.

Main speakers for the convention were nationally known personalities who added much to the enrichment of the convention. Guest speaker at the Tuesday night banquet was Dr. Ernest Wilkinson, president of Brigham Young University. Walter Cousins, Jr., assistant to the publisher of McCall's magazine spoke at the Farm Bureau Women's luncheon on Tuesday. Another dynamic speaker was Bob McLain, past president of American Farm Bureau Young People's Committee.

Voting delegates went on record as recommending a sales tax as a property tax offset. Also, it was recommended that the basic school support fund not be dropped below $120 per pupil with a cigarette tax added to keep the $120 basic school support.

Those attending the convention from Morrow county were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lindsay, Herman Bletell, Mrs. Jack Barak and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beach.

Directors Talk College Cutbacks At Blue Mountain

The Blue Mountain Community College board covered a lengthy agenda of some 22 items in a two and one-half hour session at the office of College President Wallace McCrae on Tuesday night, November 12.

Considerable discussion centered on possible budget cuts and President McCrae expressed the thought that a four to five per cent cut might be made in programs other than vocational-technical, where federal funds are provided.

College official Robert Hawke noted that in event there are cutbacks in the budget, these would possibly be in teachers salaries in evening classes; in instructional travel and new equipment.

McCrae said it was a sad commentary that new equipment might be allocated to the college without buildings in which to locate such equipment for instructional purposes.

In his report on the availability of both federal and state funds, McCrae noted that a concerted effort must be made by the community colleges in Oregon, as well as here, to obtain such funds. He expressed the feeling that if federal monies are allocated to Oregon, Blue Mountain Community College would get a fair share.

The board unanimously approved consideration of filing a housing and home finance agency application for building funds.

A report by Dr. Walter Palmberg, dean of the college transfer program, covered curriculum proposals and enrollment projections for winter term. He also explained the cooperative educational counseling and pre-testing program.

Board chairman Ralph McEwen commended the college administration on their plan of counseling up for students in maintaining quality education and still not excluding any student from the college.

HOSPITAL

Patients admitted to Pioneer Memorial hospital for medical care during the past week are the following: Maude McRobert, Heppner; Edwin Brandenberg, Heppner; Joe Struthers, Heppner; Norma Way, Lexington; John Hopper, Spray; Frank Robinson, Lexington.

Hough Services Set for Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Donald (Estella) Hough, age 52, will be held Friday morning, November 22, at 9:30 a.m. at All Saints' Episcopal church, with Father C. Bruce Spencer officiating. A requiem mass will be read at 7:30 a.m.

Mrs. Hough died about midnight Wednesday, November 20, in St. Anthony's hospital, Pendleton, after a lingering illness. She had undergone several surgical operations both in Pioneer Memorial hospital and after her transfer to St. Anthony's hospital.

The body will be transported to Gooding, Idaho, where interment will be Saturday in the family plot, Burns Mortuary, Hermiston, in charge of arrangements.

Survivors include her husband, Donald, and several sons and daughters.

Clowns Tip Stars In Funball Game

The Morrow All-Stars fell victim to the antics of the Harlem Clowns Monday night by a score of 61-57 in a basketball tilt that saw some clowning and a little serious ball playing.

The Clowns jumped to an early lead in the contest as they harassed the local team and brought a rise from the home rosters. Their start provided the pattern for the evening and the home folks and team had to be content with being entertained.

Although the Harlem five seemed to breeze to the victory, it appeared that at times they had to play some serious ball to stay ahead of the local maple crew. One of these times was in the initial stages of the third stanza when Heppnerite Clint Agee added his 6' 7" frame to the Heppner effort. His timely defensive work made a few of the clowns eat leather.

At times the Harlem ball handling effort seemed a bit sloppy as the ball was bobbed and fumbled away.

Playing for the home team were Don McClure, Bob Cantonwine, Clint Agee, Dick Strait, Pete Glennie, Harley Sager and Jerry Jonasson.

Many County Benefits Accrue Through TB Seals

Christmas seals will soon go into the mail to homes in Morrow county, starting the 57th annual Christmas seal campaign. As in the past year, 74% of the money raised will stay in Morrow county to help combat TB and other respiratory diseases.

During last year there were 417 new cases of TB in Oregon. This means 417 persons had to leave their homes and families to be treated for this disease.

Many projects were completed in Morrow county last year through the TB and Health Association, made possible through the purchase of seals by residents of Morrow county.

Records show there were 280 4x5 chest x-rays made at Pioneer Memorial hospital, a free service to our county residents available on the first Wednesday of each month. Twenty 14x17 chest x-rays were also made. 87% of the pupils in grades 1, 7 and 12 received Tuberculin Six skin tests in February. Six graphic film holders were purchased for use at Pioneer Memorial hospital in connection with the x-ray program.

Other projects include subscriptions for the magazine, "Today's Health" for all schools in the county and the hospital; $25 scholarship to a teacher attending graduate course on smoking and health; posters and pamphlets were distributed in the schools.

A flu clinic was sponsored by the Boardman Mother's club, with services of a doctor and for administering immunizations paid for by the association. A total of 221 persons received inoculations, and a similar clinic is planned for this year. At a Mobil Unit station in Boardman-Irrigon communities in April 162 persons received miniature chest x-rays.

Mrs. Herman Stroeber is again serving as county chairman. Serving as community chairmen are Mrs. W. L. Cox, Heppner; Mrs. Paul Tews, Ione; Mrs. Gene Cutsforth, Lexington; Mrs. Dewey West, Boardman; Mrs. Ruth Coy, Irrigon. If seals are not received, any of these chairmen may be contacted.

Pacific Gas Pays $69,628 in Taxes

Pacific Gas Transmission paid $69,628.32 in taxes Friday on its Alberta-California pipeline properties in Morrow county.

The tax money is for 34.4 miles of pipeline, meter stations, microwave communication stations and related installations within the county. PCT Area Superintendent C. W. Bond said.

The 1,400-mile 36-inch-diameter pipeline carries Canadian gas to California, Idaho and Washington as well as central Oregon.

Heppner Home Ec Gets $100 Grant

Home economics department of Heppner High school has been approved for a $100 grant from the Sears-Roebuck Foundation, according to information received by Mrs. Elmer (Grace) Schmidt, instructor.

The money will be used in decorating and improving the living area of the homemaking department in the new high school, she said.

An old davenport purchased from the recent Civic League rummage sale and a chair will be covered with the girls making slip covers. They will make a braided rug for the floor and, with assistance of Future Farmers of America chapter, will make two coffee tables. Draperies will be made, and other improvements will be made to contribute to the homelike atmosphere.

The grant was awarded after the girls had prepared a budget and made application for the funds.

Mrs. Jessie Griffin had as a house guest over the week-end, her sister, Mrs. Gladys Walker, formerly of Heppner and now of Portland. Mrs. Walker spent the week-end visiting relatives and returned to Portland on Monday.

Howard Pettyjohn Heads Band Parents

Heppner band parents held their first meeting of the year Monday evening in the grade school multi-purpose room. President Bud Peck conducted the meeting and read the minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. Leon Bail, secretary-treasurer, reported on the financial status of the organization. The annual band carnival, to be presented in the spring, was discussed. More definite plans will be made at the next meeting, to be held later in the year.

Howard Pettyjohn was elected president, Gordon Hutchins, vice-president, and Mrs. Ed Schaffitz, secretary-treasurer.

Fifth grade band students, under the direction of Arnold Melby, gave a short concert preceding the business meeting.

Turner, Van Marter and Bryant Answers Your Insurance Questions

QUESTION: Always in the past we've insured our household things in a rule of thumb lump sum. Is it better to carefully inventory every item?

ANSWER: It certainly is. You'd be surprised to learn how much you overlook without the inventory. Besides a fair claim settlement is much easier when you list each item or group of items with their replacement cost.
