Service Exchange Highlights Meet Of Electric Co-op

He suggested that the REA should adopt a variable interest rate from 2% upward depending on the economics of the particular project, adding that some co-ops serving metropolitan areas should pay more than 2%. Hill said that the REA must prevent the reinvestment of 2% borrowed money for the purpose of income when it was borrowed to use the money to improve service to its customers.

"This practice, if not stopped, can destroy the whole concept of REA," he declared.

REA must also review construction requirements, he said.

"There is reason to believe that the co-ops are required to build systems more elaborate and expensive than is necessary to give excellent service."

In his annual report, Manager Harley Young told of the time devoted to working out details of the proposed power exchange and expressed the feeling that it would be a great step forward for the cooperative that would also bring benefits to the public to be served.

He thanked members of the board of directors and others in the organization for cooperation extended during the past year.

Walter Jaeger of Condon presided at the session and also gave a brief report as president, expressing confidence in the future. Jack Hynd Jr. read the minutes and gave the financial report which showed net margin of the year ended June 30 to be $24,194 and assets listed at $2,263,002. Operating revenue for 1962-63 was $215,478.

An amendment to the articles of incorporation was approved by a secret ballot of 70 for, 4 against. Purpose of these amendments was to provide for city representation on the directors if the ex-

Ex-Legislator Ill

Frank Weatherford, former representative from this district in the state legislature, was confined to Pioneer Memorial hospital this week after becoming ill during a cattle drive. Mrs. Weatherford said Monday that it was first feared that he had suffered a heart attack after stopping for the day at a friend's ranch last Thursday. However, she said that it may not have been a heart attack. He became ill while preparing to sleep in a barn. Dust was prevalent and seemed to cause some congestion. His condition was reported good Monday.
