Do We Need A New Calendar?

Since man first notched a stick, the calendar has caused problems. It has led to riots and to dissatisfactions that have caused cleavages in nations. Our own present calendar is misleading and inaccurate. This chart, from Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia, shows the problems that are encountered in determining a date based on either the Julian or the Gregorian Calendar. The basic problem is that our year actually is 365 days, 6 hours, 9 minutes, 9.5 seconds long. Thus, no calendar to date has given a true measure of our year.

A PERPETUAL CALENDAR

This calendar gives the day of the week for any date from the beginning of the Christian Era to the year 2400.
