Karen Lundell is Bride of Francis Stack At Impressive Winter Church Wedding

IONE — St. James Lutheran church, Portland, was the scene of a lovely wedding Saturday, December 28, at 2 p.m., when Miss Karen Rae Lundell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lundell, Ione, was married to Francis Paul Stack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert P. Stack of Loma, Mont.

The Rev. Kenneth J. Robinson, pastor of Valby Lutheran church, Ione, and the Rev. J. Edward Oslund, Portland, officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white chrysanthemums, holly, and candleabra. Marking the pews were white satin bows centered with holly.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a bouffant gown of oriental satin with chapel train and wrist length pointed sleeves. A large self fabric bow accented the back of the waistline. Hand clipped chantilly lace formed the bolero bodice with scoop neckline and gathered front panel which extended the full length of the skirt. The lace was held in place by small satin bows. Her elbow length, four-tiered, English illusion veil was gathered to a half hat of organza hand rolled flowers with pearl stem centers and satin leaves.

The bride carried her Confirmation Bible, topped with a single white orchid and garlands of feathered white carnations and ribbon streamers. Her necklace, a garnet cross, was a gift of the groom. She also carried a Swiss lace handkerchief, a gift of her mother.

Miss Cheryl Ann Lundell was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Miss Marilyn Jean Morgan, Ione, and Miss Kristin Hoefs, Redlands, Calif. Lisa Jean McCabe, Heppner, cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

All the attendants wore emerald green ducharme satin dresses, fashioned with scoop neckline, elbow length sleeves and full bell skirts. At the back of the waistline were self fabric bows. They wore veils of green net held by green velvet leaves and seed pearls, and carried crescent bouquets of white chrysanthemums, red carnations and holly.

Hans Floan of Seattle, Wn., sang "The Greatest of These is Love," and "The Lord's Prayer." Best man was Bill Blythe of La Fayette, Calif. Ushers were Jack McCabe of Portland, cousin of the bride, and Bill Lessley of Seattle, Wn. Don Stack, brother of the groom, was junior usher.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lundell wore an empire waistline sheath and coat of gold brocade with winter white accessories. Mrs. Stack, mother of the groom, wore a rose beige lace and satin sheath with matching accessories. Their corsages were of white rosebuds.

The couple greeted their many friends and relatives at a reception in the church social rooms. Centering the bride's table was a four-tiered wedding cake, decorated with shaded green frosting flowers and topped with white satin bells and lilies of the valley.

After they cut the traditional first piece of cake, it was served by Mrs. Earl McCabe, Ione; Mrs. Howard Eubanks, Arlington; Mrs. Ernest McCabe, Heppner, and Mrs. Wallace Lundell, Portland, aunts of the bride.

Serving coffee and tea from a table decorated with green spider mums, holly and white tapers were, Mrs. Algott Lundell, Portland, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. J. O. Turner, Heppner; Mrs. Clifford McCabe, Portland, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Leland McKinney, Umatilla, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. William Peek, Portland, and Mrs. Warren Webster, Santa Barbara, Calif., presided at the punch bowl.

Miss Linda Rae Heimbigner, Ione, was in charge of the guest book. Taking care of the gift table were Miss Arieta McCabe, Ione, and Miss Marlene Eubanks, Arlington, cousin of the bride.

Passing the rice, which was tied to resemble small white wedding bells, and the grooms' cake, which was wrapped to look like tiny white Bibles, were Beth and Paul Weig, children of Pastor and Mrs. Kenneth Weig, Eugene. He is the Lutheran student campus pastor at the University of Oregon.

For going away the bride wore a winter white wool suit with emerald green accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. After a wedding trip to the coast, the couple are now at home at 701 S. 115th St., Apt. 2, Tacoma, Wn., where they are continuing their studies at Pacific Lutheran University.
