BRENDA YOUNG

Brenda Young Installed Worthy Advisor In Order of Rainbow Here Sunday

Lavender and white were the colors Brenda Young chose for her installation as worthy advisor to the Order of Rainbow for Girls, Ruth Assembly No. 50, Sunday afternoon in the Masonic hall, when she and 16 other young ladies were seated in their new offices for the coming year.

Brenda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Young, borrowed her theme, "Trust in the Lord With All Thine Heart," from her grandmother, Mrs. Carl Kissinger, who used it as her theme when she was installed as worthy matron in the Order of Eastern Star in Maryville, Missouri, a year ago.

The new worthy advisor's installing officers were Kathy Rea, installing chaplain; Janis Baker, installing marshal; Rogenia Wilson, past worthy advisor and installing officer, and Judy Jones, installing musician.

The slate of new officers seated were Brenda Young, worthy advisor; Barbara Blake, associate worthy advisor; Pam Co-chell, charity; Jean Siewert, hope; Kitty O'Hara, faith; Janis Baker, treasurer; Peggy Snyder, drill leader; Theresa Munkers, love; Debbie Young, religion; Barbara Bloodworth, nature; Laura Lee Stotts, fidelity; Linda Clark, patriotism; Linda Heath, service; Vicki Robinson, outer observer; Kathy Matthews, confidential observer; Kathy Melby, musician, and Susan Starks, choir director.

Ten board members were installed during the afternoon.

They were Mrs. Lowell Gribble, Mrs. Jim Myers, Marcel Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Baker, Mrs. Lucille Wilson, Mrs. Len Ray Schwarz, Mrs. Tom Hughes and Mrs. Wes Marlatt.

Unable to attend the ceremony were Shirley Erwin, to be installed as recorder; Martha Peck, chaplain, and Mrs. Floyd Worden, board member. The three were installed at the regular meeting of Rainbow Girls on Monday evening by installing officer Peggy Snyder.

Crowning ceremonies followed installation as Brenda's brothers, Bruce and Ronnie Young, presented their sister with her crown.

The meeting was then turned over to the new worthy advisor. She introduced her family and Mrs. Harold Becket, supreme deputy of Order of Rainbow for Girls; Mrs. Jim Myers, mother advisor; Mrs. Claude Graham, past mother advisor, and Kathy Rea and Dianne Schaffitz, past worthy advisors. She then presented a talk based on her theme, expressing her faith, gratitude, aims and ideals.

Mrs. Fred Gimbel accompanied Mrs. Warren Miller as Mrs. Miller sang the song requested by Brenda, "My God and I."

Debbie Young presented her sister with a gift from her family and Rogenia Wilson presented her with one from the assembly.

Mrs. Don Bennett, Mrs. Harold Erwin and Mrs. Harley Sager served coffee, tea, cake and punch to some 50 persons from a silver table service. The colors of lavender and white were carried out in floral decorations, table linens and tapers on the serving table.

Children Maturity Subject Arouses Interest at PTA

Parents and teachers continue to consider various points of view on whether we are encouraging our children to mature too quickly, a subject stemming from an arousing panel discussion at a well attended PTA meeting last Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Harold Erwin moderated the panel. Participating were Mrs. Wallace Wolff, Mrs. Marshall Lovgren, Gordon Pratt and Hillard Brown, who presented views of both parents and educators on what is expected of children entering their teens and what they are like.

The highly interested audience participated in the stimulating discussion on a subject that had obviously grown out of the concern and interest of parents and teachers, alike.

The fifth grade band, under the direction of Arnold Melby, entertained with several selections and a demonstration on how band is taught in the classroom.

A short business meeting preceded the musical part of the program.

Hostesses for the evening were fourth grade room representatives, Mrs. Bill Scrivner, Mrs. Jack Van Winkle and Mrs. Elmer Berry.
