HEPPNER GRADE SCHOOL band performed admirably at the Eastern Oregon Music Contest at Pendleton High school Saturday and won a unanimous "1" rating by the three judges who heard their performance. In all, 48 musical groups took part in the

Grade Band Gets Top '1' Rating In Music Contest

Heppner's Grade School band, directed by Arnold Melby, went to the Eastern Oregon Music Contest at Pendleton High school Saturday and returned with a solid "1" rating, highest that could be attained, as well as the unanimous acclaim of the three judges.

The Heppner band was one of six to participate in class E and one of three to receive a "1" rating. Others were Athena Grade school and Hermiston Grade school. Getting ratings of "2" were Condon Grade school, Central Grade school and Pilot Rock Grade school.

Ione High school, directed by Carol Miller, received a "2" rating in class D. Helix High and Weston High were the only ones to attain "1" ratings in this division.

In all, 48 musical groups took part in the contest, including bands, orchestras and choral groups. Seventeen won "1" ratings, 22 received "2" ratings, and nine received "3" ratings.

Class E for grade schools includes schools from all over Eastern Oregon. Judges were Ira Lee of the University of Oregon music department, Howard Deming and Robert Miller, both of Washington State college.

All had fine comments on the work of the Heppner band. Lee, on tone, said, "Very nice control," on the comment sheet. On intonation, "Shows some very nice work;" on technique, "Very good;" and on musical effect, "Very nice performance."

Deming rated all phases of the Republicans Set Candidates Meet

Republican candidates for the primary election will appear at a party meeting at the multipurpose room of Heppner High school Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 p.m., Don Turner, central committee chairman for Morrow county, announces.

The public is invited to take this opportunity to meet the candidates. Members of both parties are welcome, although only Republican candidates will speak. Among those expected to be present are Willard Cromwell, Hermiston, candidate for Congress from Oregon's second district; Irvin Mann, Stanfield, candidate for state representative from the 28th district; candidates for county judge and other local offices.

It was hoped that Tom McCall, candidate for secretary of State, would be present, Turner said, but it appears doubtful whether he can attend because of several other scheduled engagements on the same date. If he cannot attend, he will be represented by his local campaign chairman, Gene Pierce, Howard Belton, state treasurer, cannot attend because of other commitments, but he will be represented by Jim Healy, his local chairman.

Coffee and cookies will be served at the meeting.

Colorado Man Named Principal at Ione High

Everett E. Holstein, who since 1950 has served as principal and teacher in the Arriba and Akron, Colo., schools, has signed a contract to be principal of the Ione High school, Supt. Wayne Brubacher announces.

He signed the contract, calling for an annual salary of $8,705.00 based on an 11-month work year. He was one of three top candidates obtained through careful screening by the Ione advisory board and the district superintendent. Final selection and recommendation to the board was made by superintendent, Wayne A. Brubacher. The district board accepted the recommendation of the superintendent by tendering a contract to Holstein.

Holstein, who has been in educational work since 1950, said that he and his family expect to be in Ione and on the job by mid-July.

The new administrator has a master's degree from Colorado State College of Education, Greeley, Colo., and during his 14 years in educational work has been in but two communities.

"This fact, in itself, would indicate fine community acceptance," Superintendent Brubacher observed.

Holstein has a rich and varied background of school work. He has taught English and speech, sponsored the school annual and school newspaper, coached basketball, baseball and track, was a member of a committee whose primary function was to plan, evaluate and coordinate the school's curriculum, and served as administrator for five years.

Mr. and Mrs. Holstein have six children. They are: Sandra, who will be a senior next year; Stanley, who will be a junior; Wesley, a sophomore next year; Brenda, who will enter the fifth grade; Alvin, who is five; and Rhonda, a two year old. Mrs. Holstein's first name is Joan.

Akron, Colo., is a wheat farming and ranching community of 2,000 people and has a high school enrollment of 200. Arriba is a smaller town (400) but also a wheat and stock community. The high school enrollment is about 70. Both schools have hot lunch programs and operate school buses.

Six Candidates File Petitions For School Board

Six candidates have filed petitions of candidacy for five positions on the Morrow county school board, district R-1, Mrs. Beverly Gunderson, clerk announces.

The one contest will be that at Boardman where Ralph Skoubo has filed to run against the incumbent, Roy Partlow, for a 5-year term.

Other candidates will be without opposition and all are incumbents. Irvin Rauch of Lexington and Milton Morgan of Ione are candidates for positions for one-year terms; Ken Batty and Howard Cleveland of Heppner are candidates for three-year positions.

There will be two contests for advisory board positions. Four are seeking the two positions on the Ione advisory board. They are Bob Rietmann, an incumbent; Louis Carlson, Bryce Keene and Mrs. Lloyd Morgan. Mrs. Earl (Helen) McCabe did not file a petition for reelection.

At Irizong, Howard Gollyhorn has filed to run against William Parker, incumbent. At Heppner, Mrs. Paul (Betty) Brown and Clarence Baker, both present members, seek election; at Lexington, Eldon Padberg has filed for reelection; and at Boardman, Earl McQuaw seeks another term.

Election for school board and advisory posts, as well as the vote on the annual school budget, will be Monday, May 4.

Band Carnival Saturday Offers Fun for Everyone

One of the big entertainment features of the early spring season is coming Saturday night.

At that time the Heppner school band carnival will be staged in the fair pavilion with fun promised for everyone from four years old to 84.

Families planning to attend are urged to have their supper right in the pavilion with serving set for 5:30 to start the evening. Mrs. Barney Malcom and Mrs. Jim Valentine are co-chairmen for the kitchen and are in charge of the dinner.

Music will be played during the dinner by the Heppner High dance band and ensembles.

Immediately after the supper, everyone can settle down to the frivolous business of having fun. The ever-popular dunk tank will provide opportunity for accurate baseball throwers to douse a "victim" in the tank. There will be booths for games—fish pond, dart throw, ring tosses, ring-a-bell and others—with prizes for one and all. Country store will offer fine merchandise once more, all coming from donations.

Tickets on the shotgun and floor polisher to be given away are being sold by band students, and the winner need not be present. However, it is necessary to be present to win door prizes which will be drawn at 8:30, 9:30 and 10:30.

King and Queen of the carnival will be voted by amount of money coming in through donations obtained, and nominees are from the fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth grades and high school.

Money earned at the carnival is used to buy and replace band uniforms and for scholarships to send band students to a special summer school at Washington State University.

Commencement at Ione High will be Tuesday, May 26.

Cantonwine Takes Dallas High Post

Bob Cantonwine, athletic director and head basketball coach at Heppner High school, has accepted the position of basketball coach at Dallas High school and has submitted his resignation here, Principal Gordon Pratt announced Wednesday.

Cantonwine will be head basketball coach for Dallas High, a member of the TTV (Tualatin-Yamhill Valley) league, and will also teach social science at the school. It is an A-1 high school in the city of 5500 population in Polk county and has an enrollment of 570 in three grades—sophomore, junior and senior.

In the TVV league, Cantonwine's teams will compete with McMinnville, Forest Grove, Newberg, Lake Oswego, Oregon City, Tillamook, St. Helens, Tigard and West Linn.

Dallas won the state A-2 basketball championship in 1958 as a member of the Willamette Valley league and has traditionally strong hoop teams, playing many A-1 schools in the area. Before the state tournament was split into A-1 and A-2 schools the Dragons often won their way to the tournament and upset

Heppner City Council Moves Towards Zoning

Another step towards establishing a zoning ordinance was taken by the city council at its Monday meeting when a committee composed of Clarence Rosewall, Ed Gonty and John Pfeiffer was directed to meet with the city attorney and arrive at recommendations for such an ordinance.

Councilman Earl Ayres had pointed out that if the Willow Creek dam materialized an influx of population during the construction period might create a real problem. He said that $1250 remains in the current budget for planning and development and suggested that legal help may be consulted and a start made towards this planning. Ayres proposed that engineering of a zoning plan might be provided for in the coming year's budget.

Attorney Bob Abrams said that he felt the League of Oregon cities could give good help on zoning. He proposed that the city limits might follow the same procedure as the county in putting up an interim planning ordinance for a time before formally adopting it to see how it worked out.

In any event, a public hearing would be necessary prior to passage of the ordinance. Councilman Pfeiffer suggested that the public should be consulted on what it wanted in the way of a zoning ordinance.

As proposed by Ayres the zoning committee would draw up a suggested interim ordinance in consultation with the city attorney and make its recommendations at a coming meeting, after which it would be modified, adopted or rejected, both prior to and after a public hearing.

Possibility of getting Federal participation to share in the cost was also voiced.

Jim Myers and Elvira Irby were reappointed to the city budget committee at the meeting. Others with unexpired terms on the committee are Glen Ward, Clint McQuarrie, Gene Pierce and Pirl Howell. First meeting of the committee is scheduled for May 4 with an ensuing meeting to be May 18. First publication of the 1964-65 budget is dated May 28 and second publication June 4.

Building permits, all for alterations and repairs, were granted as follows: Frank Adkins, 390 Union Ave., $600; Max Schulz, 105 North Gale, $500; and Clayton Ayers, 575 S. Court, $1000.

Reporting on a request to install a street light near the county courthouse parking lot, Councilman Ayres said the street there is well illuminated. A light would help illuminate the parking lot, but it was considered that this is a matter for the county to act upon, and so no move was taken to install the light.

Councilman Gonty suggested the dip in the street at Willow and Main, created sometime ago to provide for water runoff, be cut down to be made less severe. City Superintendent Vic Groshens was advised to check on the matter and do the work if it is feasible.

Councilman Rosewall said that he had been checking for property as a possible location for a new city dump but has been unsuccessful to date.

Council was advised that no reply had been received from owner of a lot adjacent to the Morrow County Creamery, asking that it be cleaned up. On motion by Councilman Gonty, Supt. Groshens was advised to do the work with city employees and cost be assessed to the property owner. The motion was approved.

Fire Chief Charles Ruggles asked that a fire control button be extended to Bill Farra's place in order that he might sound alarms when Ruggles was gone. Cost is $10 for installation and $2 per month for maintenance. The request was approved.

Boeing Speaker Slated Tonight

John Arthur Olmer, community relations manager for the Boeing Company in Seattle, will speak at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet this evening (Thursday) in the American Legion hall. The banquet starts at 6:30 following a social hour at 5:30.

President Al Lamb will be toastmaster of the banquet and annual certificates of recognition will be presented by Dr. C. M. Wagner, chairman of the awards committee. Music will be by the 7th and 8th grade honor chorus with Mrs. Ola Mae Groshens directing.

The speaker was reared in Seattle where he was graduated from Seattle Preparatory School. He has earned a bachelor of arts degree from Seattle University and two advanced degrees from the University of Washington. With Boeing he was first a member of the Quality Control department in World War II and returned in 1951 to the personnel department.

Mrs. Olmer will accompany the Boeing official on his visit here.

For those who have not already purchased them, tickets to the banquet may be purchased at the door at $2.25 per plate.

School Budget Hearing Monday

Hearing on the Morrow County School District R-1 budget for 1964-65 will be Monday evening at 8 p.m. in the circuit court room of the courthouse. Any persons with questions or remonstrances on the budget are asked to appear at that time.

The budget was published in summary form in the past two issues of the Gazette-Times, and it is scheduled for county-wide vote on May 4. Frank Anderson is chairman of the budget committee.

Regular school board meeting will follow the budget hearing.

Jaycee Chapter Formation Set

An organization meeting for a Morrow county Jaycee chapter is scheduled for Tuesday night, April 14, at 7:30 in the Wagon Wheel Cafe, according to Hal Parker, vice president of District 11, Oregon Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Pendleton Jaycees are sponsoring the Morrow chapter and have contacted 65 young men by mail. Some 20 Jaycees from Pendleton are planning to attend the meeting.

Men between the ages of 21 and 35 are invited to the meeting. Primary objective of the Jaycees is to give young men leadership training through community service projects.

"An active Morrow county Jaycee group will be a tremendous asset to the area," Parker said.

BOB CANTONWINE

such highly-rated teams as Cleveland of Portland, Astoria and others under the tutelage of Coach Gordon Kunke, now assistant superintendent in Dallas. In recent years the Dragons have not compiled an impressive record in the TVV and Coach Cantonwine will have the job of seeking to build a winning team. Outside of the league, his club will face such teams as North and South Salem, Corvallis and other large schools.

Coch Cantonwine has been at Heppner High for four years and in the past two seasons his teams have tied for first place in the western division of the Greater Oregon league. In the 1962-63 season the team tied with Sherman county and was defeated in the playoff. In the immediate past season, the Mustangs tied with Burns and Sherman county for first and won third place in the district tournament at La Grande.

Before coming to Heppner, Cantonwine was an assistant coach and teacher at Nampa, Idaho, High school and during his college days at Northwest Nazarene at Nampa, he coached at Greenleaf.

The Heppner High coach was selected from a large field of candidates seeking the post after he had made trips there for interviews. With his family he will move to Dallas after school is out this year.
