Birthday Greetings Given Mrs. Cantwell Honoring 88 Years

Several friends and relatives called on Mrs. Lee Cantwell last Monday to help her celebrate her 88th birthday. Mrs. Cantwell was born in a cave at the Yellowjacket Mine in Nevada to Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Cowins on April 13, 1876. She has lived in Heppner since she was three years old.

The Cowins family made their way to Dundee, Ore., by covered wagon when Mrs. Cantwell was just a toddler. They were en route from Dundee to Walla Walla in 1879 when their wagon broke down in the vicinity of Well's Spring. The nearest blacksmith shop was Heppner and while the wagon was being repaired Cowins took a job hauling freight inland from the Umatilla landing.

The Cowins shortly thereafter purchased the Kinsman property, (Hope Lutheran church now stands on a portion of that property) and operated an ice plant there for many years.

Mrs. Cantwell vividly recalls much of Morrow county history including the disastrous flood of 1903. She had by that time married Lee Cantwell and Lee Jr. was three years old. Their home in the lower end of town was leveled by the floodwaters.

Mrs. Cantwell has a daughter who lives in Heppner, Mrs. C. J. D. Bauman.

Delta Kappa Installs At Luncheon Meeting

Members of Delta Kappa Gamma held their April luncheon meeting at the IOOF hall in Heppner on Saturday, April 18.

Miss Margaret McCarter, Heppner High school P. E. and Biology teacher showed pictures that she had taken in Alaska. The slides were beautiful and her comments interesting.

Officers chosen and installed for the coming year were: Joy Vanderhorst, president; Velva Bechdolt, 2nd vice president; Cleo Chadwick, recording secretary, and Joyce Smith, parliamentarian.

Hostesses for the luncheon were Marguerite Glavey, chairman, Ruth Bentley, Joyce Smith, Zoe Billings, LaVern Partlow, Gladys Ely, Margaret Kirk and Velva Bechdolt.

Chuckie Davidson On TV on Birthday

Charles (Chuckie) Davidson observed his sixth birthday with an appearance on Jimmy Nolan's Clubhouse TV program over KIMA-TV, Yakima, Friday. His father, Charles Davidson of Ione, took him to Yakima for the occasion.

Later Chuckie was feted at a birthday party at the Davidson ranch. Relatives and friends were guests.

Chuckie got to drive the sponsor's model truck on the TV program. Father and son also visited friends in Sunnyside, Wn., on the trip.

Good Crowd Attends Grange Benefit Feed

A very successful pancake supper was given by the Rhea Creek Grange Home Extension club at the Grange hall Saturday evening. Approximately 75 persons were served delicious pancakes with ham.

The purpose of the pancake supper was to raise money for paint for the new restrooms at the hall.

Winners of the benefit card party held after the supper were Mrs. Madge Bryant, who won high for the ladies, and Herman Blettell, who won high for the men in the pinocle play. Mrs. Cecil Lutkins received low for the ladies and Henry Baker for the men.

The traveling pinocle prize was won by Mrs. William Bergstrom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Ethel Ross, of Kalama, Wn., and Mrs. Bergstrom's sister, Mrs. Effie Land of Port Orchard, Wn.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Orian Wright.

Agent Gives Pointers On Proper Lighting To Soroptimist Club

Results of ineffective and deficient lighting in the home were brought to the attention of members and guests of the Heppner Soroptimist club last Thursday noon at its luncheon meeting by Miss Esther Kirmis, county extension agent, when she spoke on the subject, "Lighting for Better Living."

The program followed a short business meeting, when club plans were made for serving the annual Elk's party for high school youth at the Elks Temple Friday evening, with Mrs. Bill Collins as chairman. Plans were made for initiation of new members on Thursday evening, April 23, at the home of Mrs. Roice Fullerton.

Through use of graphic charts, Miss Kirmis showed relative percentages of people in different age groups and occupations who now wear glasses to correct some type of eye defects caused by improper lighting conditions. Greatest percentage (80%) were in the occupation of draftsmen and stenographers; homemakers, 60%; college seniors, 30%; grade school children, 10%, and farmers, 20%. "Good lighting helps prevent fatigue, reduces accidents, speeds work and improves morale," she noted. She displayed good and bad lighting fixtures and told how they could be improved and used to best advantage. Many make the mistake in choosing fixtures purely for their decorative features, she remarked, rather than providing the best light for intended use.

Mrs. Jeanette Huddlestone of Valdez, Alaska, who is staying at the home of her father, Frank Turner, for a few weeks, was a guest of the club. Her daughter, Sally, is completing her high school year here, while repairs are being made in their home town.

CAROL SUE OSLUND

Miss Oslund Selected For Summer Trips On School Activities

Carol Sue Oslund, granddaughter of Mrs. Frank (Wavel) Wilkinson, and high school junior at Newcastle, Wyo., has earned a summer of wonderful trips.

Carol was one of three Newcastle girls chosen by the American Legion Auxiliary to attend Wonderful Wyoming Girls' State in Laramie, June 7 to 13. The girls are selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership and activities.

As district winner of the IOOF United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth, Carol has earned a two-week tour to Washington, D. C., to the U. N. Building, where they will attend actual sessions, a day at the New York World's Fair and a swing into Eastern Canada. The contest was based on an original speech about the United Nations, a test on the U. N., and on all-around activities of the contestants.

Carol's third trip will be to the National Convocation of Episcopal Young Churchmen August 26 to September 2 on the campus of Colorado Women's College in Denver. She attends this meeting as a Wyoming delegate in her capacity as State President of the Episcopal Young Churchmen of Wyoming.

Miss Oslund and her two younger sisters, Judy and Nancy, are frequent summer visitors in Heppner with relatives here. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Walter (Frances) Oslund.

Mrs. Duvall Tours White House on Trip

Mrs. Amanda Duvall returned last week from a 10-day plane trip to Washington, D. C., and Columbus, Ohio.

While in Washington, D. C., Mrs. Duvall was the house guest of Congressman and Mrs. Al Ullman. With Mrs. Ullman, she toured the White House, visited Pres. Kennedy's grave, saw Gen. McArthur's body lying in state in the Rotunda of the Capitol and as he was being taken away on the casket. She visited the House of Representatives and Senate while they were in session, saw the beautiful cherry blossoms and many other things of interest.

In Columbus, Ohio, she visited with her granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Martin.

Bridge Club Meets At Bob Abrams Home

The Bob Abrams home was the scene of three tables of bridge play last Thursday evening. Mrs. Bill Siewert won first prize with the high score of the evening. Second prize went to Mrs. Wallace Wolf and Mrs. Terry Thompson received the prize for low.

Mrs. Abrams served a frozen dessert called nesselrode pie and coffee to her guests that also included Mrs. Bernard Damon, Mrs. James Driscoll, Mrs. Bert Huff, Mrs. Bob Jones, Mrs. Rod Murray, Mrs. Bruce Spencer, Mrs. Ray Williamson and Mrs. Herman Winter.

Unit Studies Lighting, Officers Reelected

Heppner Extension Unit ladies met Tuesday for a lesson on lighting at the home of Mrs. Riley Munkers.

The interesting project lesson "Don't Be in the Dark About Lighting," was presented by Esther Kirmis, county extension agent.

Reelected as officers for the 1964-65 extension year were Mrs. R. G. Watkins, chairman; Mrs. Bud Peck, vice-chairman, and Mrs. Paul Warren, secretary-treasurer.

It was decided by the unit to send the chairman, Mrs. Watkins, to the Oregon Home Economics Extension Council to be held on the OSU campus in Corvallis May 5-7. The theme of this year's council is "Better Homes Through Research." Many interesting tours and workshops are planned for those attending.

Mrs. Paul Warren and Mrs. Gene Ferguson will be project leaders for the May lesson, "Adventures in Salad Making," to be held at the home of Mrs. Ray Drake on May 12.

A going away money bouquet from the unit, was presented to Miss Kirmis by Mrs. Joe Wright, county committee member.

Eleven regular members and two guests, Miss Kirmis and Mrs. Lillian Sweek, were served a potluck luncheon at noon.
