Program for Fall Includes Variety

(Editor's Note: This is the final column written for the Gazette-Times by Esther Kirmis, county extension agent, prior to the time she entered the hospital in Portland and her subsequent death after surgery early Tuesday morning. Her column, "Chats with Your Home Agent," has been a regular weekly feature for a number of years.)

By ESTHER KIRMIS

The Homemakers Festival gave us the occasion to announce the 1964-65 Home Economics program to start next fall. Eight Unit Lessons include: "Treats with Venison" in October, "True Cost of Credit" in November, "Scandinavian Cookery" in December, "Your Child's Career" in January (Cost of Higher Education), "Early Marriage" in February, "You and Small Appliances" in March, "New Wrinkles in Ironing in April and "Family Camping" in May.

Two workshops are planned. These will be on "Tailoring" (Training of project leaders under Elaine Carlson, OSU Clothing Specialist), and "Mosaics" - continued by project leaders trained by Jessaloe Mallieu, OSU Recreation Specialist in 1963.

Among special events will be a "Home Building Clinic" in Boardman.

Shortcourses will include: "Money Management" - in Rhea Creek. Study will be on "The Money in Your Life," "Family Spending Plan," "You and Your Life Insurance" and "You and Your Social Security."

If you are interested in any of the above classes, contact the following Unit Chairmen by fall: Mrs. Ronald Hargreaves - Rhea Creek Unit, Mrs. Jim Pitterjohn - Lone Unit, Mrs. R. G. Watkins - Heppner Unit, Mrs. Douglas Drake - Pine City Unit, Mrs. Donald Acock - Irrigon Unit, and Mrs. William Seehafer - Boardman Unit.

Bridal Showers

We'll soon hear the traditional June wedding bells, and consequently there will be usual flurry of planning bridal showers. Why not make it a kitchen "Wardrobe" - just what the well-equipped cook will need.

Avoid embarrassment of receiving duplicates of some popular items and drawing "blanks" in others. Start with this basic list from which guests can choose. Two or more can double up on the larger items.

To start housekeeping, the bride will need sauce pans with covers in these sizes: 1 pint for reheating leftovers, 1 quart for cooking vegetables, 2 quart or larger for use when she has guests. A 3 to 4 quart Dutch oven is useful for stews, whole chickens, and spaghetti.

Skillets and fry pans in 8 inch and 10 inch size are handy. The larger size should have a lid for frying chicken and skillet meals. A good coffee maker - percolator, drip or vacuum type - is probably on the bride's list. Type depends on the couple's preferences. An electric one that makes at least 4 cups at a time is suggested.

For use in the oven, a bride can use an 8 or 9 inch pie pan which is also handy for rolls, biscuits and odd jobs. A 9-inch square cake pan is just right for many cakes and baked desserts. For casserole dishes, the 2-quart size in a pretty design is always a pleasure.

Every kitchen should have a roasting pan about 12 by 9 by 2 inches. Add to this a cookie sheet and perhaps a small tea kettle and the bride will be cooking in all four burners.

To spend for shower gifts consider those with limited money. These items - measuring spoon set, measuring cup, set of four measuring cups, lemon juicer, rotary beater, long handled fork, narrow spatula or pancake turner.
