1 Cards of Thanks

CORRECTION
 Due to a misunderstanding on the part of the paper staff, the name of the doctor printed in the card of thanks from Barbara Ann Palmer in last week's paper was incorrect. Barbara wishes to express thanks to Dr. C. M. Wagner for care given her following her accident. Through the error, the name of Dr. Wolff was used.

Portland Slates 'Doc' Severinsen For Rose Festival

A great attraction has been added to the program for the Portland Rose Music Festival in the person of Carl "Doc" Severinsen, native of Arlington, acknowledged by many professionals as the finest jazz trumpeter playing today.

Severinsen will perform on the Music Festival program with the support of a professional orchestra, as will Pat Boone, previously announced as host and guest artist. "Doc" was a recent visitor in Heppner as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Spaulding, long-time friends. He will also appear again at the Pendleton Round-up in September.

Born in 1927, Severinsen was taught the trumpet by his father, himself an excellent musician. At the age of nine, Severinsen won an Oregon state trumpet contest, and at 13, took first in the senior division of a regional contest.

After high school and Army service, he was featured with several top "name" bands, including Charlie Bernet, Sam Donahue, Tommy Dorsey, Benny Goodman and Gene Krupa.

In 1949 he settled in New York City to free lance, and accepted his first steady assignment, with Vaughn Monroe's "Camel Caravan." He soon became staff musician for NBC, working such shows as Kate Smith, Dinah Shore, Eddie Fisher and Sid Caesar, and was regularly featured on the original Steve Allen show and NBC "Bandstand," both as soloist and conductor.

Presently on the "Tonight" show, he often solos on the trumpet, and is assistant conductor to Skitch Henderson.

The music festival will include invited music groups from Pacific Northwest high schools, colleges and universities, as well as solo competition winners in six vocal and instrumental categories.

Blue Mountain Sets Summer Session

The 1964 Summer Session at Blue Mountain Community College will begin Monday, June 22, and continue through August 14. Offerings will be limited to areas of representative enrollments. Classes have been set up to be presented evenings from 7:30 to 10 p.m. twice weekly. However, 4 credit courses will run from 7 to 10 p.m. with the exception of sciences which, with the nature of laboratory work, will necessitate 4 evenings each week from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

Courses offered carry college transfer credit for students meeting general admissions requirements. Students planning to enroll are asked to either call the College Admissions office, 276-1291, or contact the office by mail and indicate courses in which they plan to enroll. If courses are desired that are not listed below, every effort will be made to present such courses if the demand is sufficient. Courses scheduled are: survey of English literature, English composition, fundamentals of speech, general psychology, general psychology, art appreciation, personal health, beginning typing, elements of algebra (no credit), intermediate algebra, and general biology.

 May 11—Bert F. Roack, Lexington, charged with shooting from a road, fined $25 and costs.
 May 11—Alan Lane, charged with shooting from road, fined $25 and costs.
 May 11—Marvin Dean Way, charged with exceeding daily bag limit of trout, fined $25 and costs.
 May 4—Aaron Craig, Jr., charged with dumping rubbish on public highway, fined $25 and given seven days to remove refuse.

Busy Beavers Busy

On May 19, the Busy Beavers sewing club was called to order by the president, Cathy Cannon. The roll call was given with four present. Minutes were read and approved. We finished our first project which was a shears case. We made "get well" cards to send to friends in the hospital. Our leader, Mrs. Lou Crum, served nice refreshments. On May 23 we had a picnic lunch in the city park. All members were present and had fun playing games. Our next meeting will be June 2 at Carol Hausler's.
