Our City Could Be Even More Beautiful

A big round moon smiled down from a deep blue sky in gathering dusk as one looked to the southeast from Heppner High school the other evening. It seemed to be suspended just a few hundred feet above Pioneer Memorial hospital, which stood proudly on its vantage point overlooking the city of Heppner.

From the high school one could see portions of the city nestled among the round brown hills that guard it on three sides with Hinton and Willow Creek canyons cutting through them in the distance.

What a beautiful sight! What a picturesque setting for a

Heppner is a beautiful city and one that should make all its residents proud.

But it could be even more beautiful. When one comes down from a vantage point and starts to look more closely, he notices old car bodies dumped on vacant lots and on hillsides. There are a few ramshackle buildings around that are fire hazards and nuisances. The Willow Creek channel becomes a dumping ground for all manner of debris and litter when it could-with a little work and attentionbecome a veritable park running through the city. Junk is scattered in some portions of the town, and there are some areas needing a cleanup just off the business section. One resident came to the council meeting Monday night to call the matter to the attention of the city dads. A second joined in by reporting an unsightly condition in another neigh-

The city has a nuisance ordinance that prohibits conditions which are hazardous or detrimental to the public health or welfare. There is some question on whether it is broad enough to cover the conditions mentioned above.

But it isn't so much a question of law as it is of civic

Our police force isn't large enough to begin to apprehend all those who engage in "litter bugging" in one form or another. And neighbors are reluctant to file complaints against neighbors who are observed cluttering the city.

The best answer is to arouse a greater public consciousness of the need to make our city attractive. It isn't a matter of pride alone, for it involves property values and the potential to attract new families and business enterprises with consequent greater prosperity for all.

Dangers of the Detour

Closure of the Main Street bridge for reconstruction for the next 31/2 months means that traffic will be detoured via Church and Gale streets for that length of time.

This will bring some additional hazards to the residential area in that section of town because of the increased traffic that the side streets will bear.

Gene Pierce brought the matter to the attention of the council Monday night, pointing out that there are many children in the neighborhood, and they are not accust traffic. On one recent day he counted 20 children playing beside the Episcopal church, and not infrequently does one dart out into the street.

While the detour is being used, heavy trucks will be traveling the route. Should a child run out into the street ahead of such a vehicle tragedy could result.

On Sundays many cars are parked around the Methodist, Episcopal and Catholic churches, all clustered in the same approximate location. Angle parking leaves room for only one lane of traffic. It would seem that parallel parking should be invoked voluntarily by churchgoers "for the duration" to help alleviate congestion and potential accidents.

All motorists using the detour are urged to use caution and a 15 mile per hour speed should be the maximum in the area. Parents, too, should be aware of the hazard and keep small children out of the streets.
