

MR. AND MRS. JOHN LLOYD HOWTON

John Howton is Wed To La Grande Girl In Church Ceremony

A pretty late summer wedding joined in marriage Miss Cheryl Sue Hand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude E. Hand of La Grande, and John Lloyd Howton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd L. Howton of Hermiston and former lone residents.

Vows were exchanged in St. Peter's Episcopal church, La Grande, on Saturday, August 29. The Rev. William S. Woodman officiated. Organist was Miss Elizabeth Eastley, who also accompanied Mrs. Alan Keffer as she sang the solo, "O Perfect Love."

Decorating the altar were white gladioli in altar vases, flanked by white candelabra on either side. White satin bows with white gladioli marked the pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a floor-length gown of white silk organza, fashioned with basque bodice, elbow-length sleeves and a bell-shaped skirt. Her butterfly veil of English silk illusion was held by a crown of Alencon lace, pearls and crystals. She carried a bridal bouquet of white orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Oran Hutton attended as matron of honor. She wore a street-length dress of cherry pink silk organza, and carried pink feathered carnations, centered by a pink throated white orchid.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Charles Myers, Miss Patsy Hutchinson and Miss Frances Wolfe. Their dresses and flowers were identical to that of the matron of honor.

Acolytes were Tom Farnum and Jon Erickson. Attending as best man was Charles Myers, with Jim Howton, Gene Hand and Sam (Coke) Ramos as ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hand wore a white charitilly lace sheath over maize silk taffeta, and a chapeau of matching taffeta and velvet. She wore a green cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. Howton, mother of the groom, chose an aqua matelasse sheath with matching accessories. Her corsage was of pink cymbidium orchids.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Catholic Parish hall. A five-tiered wedding cake topped with satin bells centered the serving table, which was covered with white net and satin. White gladioli bouquets were used about the rooms.

Cutting and serving the cake were Mrs. Sam Ramos and Miss Janice Hastings, cousin of the bride. The bride's grandmothers, Mrs. Vern Hastings and Mrs. Orley Shelton, poured coffee. Mrs. Keith Rea, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Robert Howard served the punch.

Misses Joyce and Jackie Howton, sisters of the groom, passed the guest book. Helping with gifts were Misses Patty and Cynthia Hastings, cousins of the bride.

For a honeymoon trip to the Oregon coast, the new Mrs. Howton wore an imported Italian knit costume in baronet blue.

After graduating from La Grande High school, the bride attended the University of Oregon and will receive an elementary teaching degree from Eastern Oregon College next June.

The groom, a graduate of Ione High school, received a degree from Columbia Basin College, attended Oregon Technological Institute and is presently a senior at OEC where he will receive a Bachelor of Science degree next June.

They are at home in the Eocene Courts in La Grande. Boxboard for making signs and decorations at the Gazette-Times.

College Students Looking for Work

The administration of Blue Mountain Community College is appealing to businessmen of the college district to assist in providing part-time work for college students. Application forms for part-time work are provided students when they register and the demand has far exceeded available jobs.

Approximately 60% of the students at Blue Mountain Community College are seeking work which will assist them towards completing their college education. Without work of some kind many of these students will be forced through lack of funds to drop some time during the academic year resulting in delaying their educational program, or causing some to abandon their education completely.

The college will do everything possible to cooperate with businessmen to provide young people with competencies to fit particular types of work. Those who can possibly use a young man or young woman for part-time work, and at the same time help some deserving young person to acquire an education are asked to call or write the admissions office at Blue Mountain Community College, phone 276-1291, Pendleton.

Students will be available to work in any part of the college district (Umatilla and Morrow counties) which is within a reasonable commuting distance.

Guest Evangelist Plans Meetings For Boardman

By MARY LEE MARLOW

BOARDMAN—Evangelist Troy L. Costlow of Glendale, Calif., will hold meetings at the Boardman Community church October 11-18, starting at the 11 a.m. service October 11. There will be a service each night at 7:30 during the week. There will be special music.

A native of Texas, Mr. Costlow has been on the staff of the Voice of Calvary since 1956 and has held meetings throughout the United States. Some of his campaigns have been in areas where no similar endeavor for Christ has been attempted in the last 40 years.

After serving in the armed forces for nearly five years he enrolled at the Bible Institute of Los Angeles and completed four years of study. It was shortly after this that he accepted the position of minister of youth in association with Dr. Jack MacArthur. Later, as the Voice of Calvary expanded its missionary vision to the forgotten rural fields of America, he felt the call of God to accept the challenge of this great opportunity for evangelism.

He is married, and his wife, Mary, is secretary to Dr. MacArthur.

Reception Honors Teachers

About 100 persons attended the reception last week in the school gymnasium for teachers of Riverside High school, Boardman Grade school and A. C. Houghton school at Irrigon.
