Miss Mary Ann Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Johnson of Eugene, and former Heppner resident, became the bride of Jack E. Polluck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Polluck of Springfield at a pretty winter wedding on Saturday, December 12.

Baskets holding floral arrangements of pink and white carnations accented with large white satin bows, and flanked by tapers in candelabra, provided an attractive setting for the formal ceremony.

Entering on the arm of her father, the bride appeared in a lovely floor length gown of tiered lace with satin overskirt, fashioned with scalloped neckline and long sleeves. Her elbow length veil of illusion net was held in place by a lace crown. She carried a white Bible, topped with a bridal spray of orchid and sephenotis.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Gail Hoskins, Heppner. Bridesmaids were Misses Martha Peterson, Heppner, and Randie Shuster, Springfield.

Holloway-Martin Vows Exchanged In Holiday Church Setting in Albany

IONE—One of the attractive weddings of the Christmas season was held on Saturday night, December 19, at 7:30 at White-spreads United Presbyterian church in Albany, when Miss Shawlene Ellen Holloway, Albany, repeated her nuptial vows at a double ring ceremony with Melvin Eugene Martin, Ione. The Rev. Ralph Hawthorne, pastor of the church, read the service in the presence of more than 200 wedding guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Royce C. Holloway, Albany, are parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Martin, Ione are the bridegroom's parents.

The bridal aisle was marked with pink bows centered with sprigs of holly. Two baskets of white snapdragons and chrysanthemums with pink bows and holly on the altar, formed the setting. Adding to the effectiveness of the background was a large Christmas tree and four candelabra bearing pink candles. Pink bows also were used on the candelabra.

Music for the ceremony was sung by a quartet comprised of John Carnegie, John Norby, William Glebel and Bruce McFarling who are all fraternity brothers of the bridegroom. Layton Arnold, cousin of the bride, sang "The Wedding Prayer." Oren Hornback was the organist.

The bride came down the aisle on the arm of her father and was attired in a white floor length satin brocade gown featuring an inset at the midriff with floral design beadwork of pearls and crystals. The bell shaped skirt had a detachable train. A petal-veil of silk illusion was fastened to a rose design headpiece. She carried a nosegay of red rosebuds with a cascade of red streamers.

Mrs. Arthur Martinak of Scio, matron of honor, was dressed in a ruby red full length gown with a bell-shaped skirt and a Dior rose at the bodice. She carried a nosegay of pink rosebuds and pink carnations. On her hair she wore a matching rose design headpiece.

Bridesmaids were Miss Karen Mackie, Portland, Miss Barbara Lowman, Westfir, and Miss Barbara Coffin, Albany. Their dresses, accessories, and flowers matched those of the matron of honor.

Sally Sumner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sumner of Heppner, wearing a pink floor length dress and carrying a basket of holly, was the flower girl.

Ralph Martin was the best man for his brother and ushers were Roger Averit, Foster; Patrick Keeley, Neotsu, both fraternity brothers of the bridegroom, and Phillip Emert, Jr. of Salem. Groomsman were Roger Mink, of Salem and Albert Kasahara of Canby.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Holloway wore a dress of champagne lace with tiered skirt and matching accessories and a pink hat. Her corsage was of pink baby rosebuds.

The bridegroom's mother wore a gold brocade dress with matching walking jacket, beige accessories and a pink baby rosebud corsage.

After the ceremony the bridal couple greeted their guests at a reception held in the church parlors. Sprays of flocked greenery adorned with red bells and bows were used on the pillars throughout the room.

On the bride's table was the wedding cake with pink spiral candles in silver candleholders.

Mrs. Arnold Holloway of Hillsboro, sister-in-law of the bride, served the punch and Miss Jean Martin, sister of the bridegroom, poured the coffee. Mrs. Russell Knighten served as hostess at the reception and cutting the cake were Mrs. Clayton Mann, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Clifford Beach, also a cousin of the bride.

The newlyweds left on a wedding trip to the Oregon coast. The bride wore a red textured wool suit with black accessories and a white corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Albany High school and served as Linn County Dairy Princess. She attended Oregon State University for two years and Merritt Davis School of Commerce. The bridegroom was graduated from Ione High school and Oregon State University in agricultural engineering. He is a member of Acacia fraternity and Alpha Zeta agriculture honorary.

Honored guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Horton of Dallas, grandparents of the bridegroom; Mrs. Emma Arnold of Lebanon, grandmother of the bride; and Miss Marie Martin of Oregon City, aunt of the bridegroom. Guests came from Roseburg, Portland, Springfield, Westfir, and central valley points.

Poor weather conditions kept many friends from here from attending the ceremony.
