Want Ad So Good He Had To Stop It

"That ad worked so darned good I think I better stop it." Thus came the voice over the phone Tuesday from Herb Hynd of Cecil. He had advertised alfalfa seed in three small classified ads in the Gazette-Times at 75c per insertion.

"In fact," he continued, "I dang near oversold it. I've got enough left for myself and that's about it."

So Herb expressed, in better terms than the G-T staff could the effectiveness of classified advertising in Morrow county's paper.

Independent front suspension takes the "truck" out of truck ride. It smooths rough roads, protects truck, driver and cargo from excessive jolting. And on Chevrolet pickups it's a proved system with millions of miles of user experience behind it. Try it out on one of Chevrolet's great Fleetside or Stepside pickups. It's one of the big reasons that Chevrolet is first choice with pickup users from coast to coast.
