Serial Levy Vote To Buy Fire Truck Called at Ione

Special election for a 5-year serial levy to obtain funds for purchase of a fire truck has been called to the city council of Ione for Monday, June 14, Mayor Charles O'Connor announces.

The levy would be for $2400 per year for the five years together with interest at 4% percent on the unpaid balance of the truck. The truck sought by the city is a used Seagraves which formerly was in service in Sunnyvale, Calif., the mayor said.

Originally valued at $33,000, the truck is available for $12,000 with a new truck guarantee. Although 15 years old, it has only 6100 miles on it and has a rated pumping capacity of 750 gallons per minute. Presently in use in the City of Ione is a 1941 model truck which was obtained as surplus.

Governor's Talk Keynotes Graduation

Hunger Held Top Force In World

Hunger is an underlying force in the world more prominent than the atomic bomb, Governor Mark Hatfield emphasized in his address to Heppner High's class of 1965 and the larger audience at commencement exercises Wednesday night.

Declaring that only one-sixth of the world's population is well-fed, the governor said, "Hunger will drive men into great problems and difficulties."

It, more than any other thing, will determine the courses of action of nations.

The governor's address followed salutatory and valedictory addresses by Jean Stockard and Carl Bauman. Miss Stockard, salutatorian, extended welcome on behalf of the class and said that its members now have a choice of roads that they will take. "We can choose a road of love or a road of contempt," she said.

Bauman, valedictorian, used the class motto, "Education is the Apprenticeship of Life," as theme for his address.

"Our apprenticeship is over this evening, and we must enter life," he said. He compared the graduates to a tightrope walker who may perform with or without a net. "The net for us is soon to be taken away," he said, "and there will be no net to fall into."

Bauman said that many graduates are not worrying about preparing for the tests of life but declared that it will be necessary for them to perform with the maximum effort at all times.

Pointing out that Principal Gordon Pratt was his student at Willamette University years ago, Governor Hatfield told the class smilingly, "All of you, then, are my 'grandchildren'—and there are days when I feel that age."

To the audience assembled he touched briefly on the new Congressional districting plan passed by the special session of the legislature which includes Linn and Marion counties in the second district.

"You are now in the center of my new Congressional district, and I hope you will take us to your hearts," he said. The state capital is in Marion county.

Addressing the class again, he said, "You have indeed been born into an era in which change is the most marked characteristic."

The governor said that in the time of his grandfather, only 72 items were considered necessary.

Legal-Size Trout Dumped in Creek

Two creeks and one pond were each stocked with 1000 legal-size trout during the past few days by the State Game Commission, Glen Ward, game agent, said Tuesday.

The trout were placed in Willow and Rhea creeks and in Cutsforth Park pond. The fish were rainbow trout, brought here from Hood River, he said.

Collection Nets 120 Pairs Glasses

Collection of discarded eyeglasses and frames, sponsored jointly by the Ione Lions club and St. Williams Altar Society in Ione, brought 120 glasses, frames and lenses, Mrs. Dick McElligott, chairman for the altar society, reports.

These, together with several hearing aids collected, were sent to the charitable organization, New Eyes for the Needy. A "thank you" received from the organization said that as a result of its collection across the country, glasses and artificial aids are supplied to a half-million needy persons.

The local organizations ask that their sincere and hearty thanks be expressed to all who cooperated with generous donations.

A DAY TO REMEMBER

MEMORIAL DAY
The muffled drum's sad roll has beat
The soldier's last tattoo;
No more on life's parade shall meet
That brave and fallen few.
On Fame's eternal camping ground,
Their silent tents are spread,
And glory guards, with solemn round,
The bivouac of the dead.
