

MR. AND MRS. DENNIS KEMP DICK (Carolyn Lucille Jackson)

California Ceremony Joins Miss Jackson, Dennis Dick

Miss Carolyn Lucille Jackson exchanged marriage vows with Dennis Kemp Dick during rites at the Jackson Community Methodist church, Jackson, Calif., on Saturday, June 26. The candlelight ceremony was performed by Rev. Wayne Long at 7:30 p.m., in the presence of many friends and relatives of the young couple.

Baskets of white stock and chrysanthemums decorated the church, with white tapers in candleabra completing the setting.

Mrs. Joseph Trainor played the wedding music and accompanied vocalist, Mrs. Jack Perano, when she sang "Ave Maria," "I'll Never Walk Alone," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, Andrew Jackson, the bride appeared in a floor length gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta. Seed pearls and iridescent sequins trimmed the scalloped neckline and accented the lace pattern throughout the skirt. Long tapered sleeves ended in a point at the wrist and a taffeta cummerbund marked the waistline of the fitted bodice. Scallops finished the lace of the gown where it joined a wide taffeta band on the bottom of the full skirt, sweeping to a chapel train at the back.

A crown of seed pearls and iridescent crystal beads held her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and gardenias. Her only jewelry was a crystal earring and necklace set. She wore the traditional blue garter and slipped a penny of her birth date in her shoe.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Robert Jones of Sutter Creek, Calif.,

was matron of honor. Her gown featured a white satin top, three-quarter length sleeves and a mint green bell-shaped skirt. Accessories were a green crown with a matching head veil, white gloves, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and gardenias.

Bridesmaids were Penny Beal, Glenda Johnson and Judie Nuttall, all friends of the bride. Each was attired in gowns of deep pink, fashioned identical to that of the matron of honor. Attendants wore matching shoes, gloves and head veils, and carried bouquets of white carnations and gardenias.

Miss Annette Jackson, another sister of the bride, was a junior bridesmaid and was attired in a gown with accessories similar to the bridesmaids.

Miss Diana Dick, only sister of the groom, lit the candles immediately preceding the ceremony. She was dressed in a white lace sheath and wore a headpiece and wristlet of white carnations.

Daryl Dick of Portland, and presently of Heppner, was best man for his brother. Another brother, Gary Dick of Portland, Kenneth Jackson, brother of the bride, and John Crossa of Eugene, friend of the groom, served as ushers.

The bride's mother wore a beige lace over silk dress with white accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. W. R. Nelson of Portland, chose a gown of beige brocade with white accessories. Also attending was the groom's grandmother, Mrs. A. G. Pieper, of Lexington, wearing an aquamarine two piece tulle suit with white accessories. All three wore white carnation corsages.

At a reception held in the church social room, ferns encircled a four-tier wedding cake, decorated with yellow and white roses.

Assisting at the reception were Beverly Williams, serving the cake; Mrs. Bill Stevens and Joyce Yen at the punch bowl; Dolly Selkirk served coffee and Annette Jackson had charge of the guest book.

Their wedding trip of a few days took them to Sacramento and Reno, Nevada.

The new Mrs. Dick is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jackson of Jackson, Calif., and is a graduate of their local high school where she was active in drama and journalism.

Mr. Dick is the son of Mrs. W. R. Nelson of Portland and Kemp Dick of Heppner. He lived most of his life here where he attended school, graduating in 1961. He was recently released from the submarine division of the navy, where he majored in electronics. He is now employed at American Forests Products Corp.

The newly wed couple is now at home at 519-A Pitt St., Jackson, Calif.

Arizona Relatives Visit Jones' Homes

Recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Jeff Jones were Mr. and Mrs. Tony Darling and two children of Prescott, Arizona. Mrs. Darling, a niece of Mrs. Jones, will be remembered by friends here as the former Ailene Sprouls.

During their visit, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jones entertained the group at their home, together with other out-of-town guests, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Phillips and two sons of Condon.

Assembly to Resume Meetings Wednesday

Regular meetings for Ruth Assembly, Order of Rainbow for Girls, will resume with the first meeting of the fall term on Wednesday, September 8, according to Mrs. Tom Hughes, mother advisor. Members are asked to meet at the Masonic hall at 7 p.m.

Important business and plans for the coming weeks will be discussed.
