Rupert Kennedy Lauds Commission

lation would be, in itself, a town of 8,000 persons, Kennedy said. "I don't want anyone to think, however, that we are going to overcome some of the qualifications of high technology for this site." (Some of the qualifications listed by the government are close proximity to large cities, and universities or colleges offering technological courses and other similar points).

Kennedy said that he felt funds spent by the State of Oregon for tourism were over-emphasized on the grounds that this brings income for only three months of the year.

Youth Want Steady Jobs
"Young people want a good exotic well-paid 12-months-per-year job," he said.

The tremendous potential presented by young people was brought out. At the present time there are 81 million persons in the nation under 21 years of age and 54 million in schools—just double the norm, he said.

As these young people marry and start their homes there is tremendous possibility for home construction.

"Communities which hold on to their young people will participate in expansion and development. Those who export them will lose out," he said.

He mentioned what Boeing's initial development has already meant to the county, pointing out that it is on the tax rolls for some $1.3 million.

Kennedy spoke for a few moments on the discrepancy between what the ranchers were receiving for their wheat as compared with what laborers are getting for their work. He termed the low price of a bushel of wheat "ridiculous."

He also said that the high cost of labor and inflation in the United States is inviting foreign competition, stating that many tons of goods are arriving in this country daily while the U. S. is exporting the raw materials abroad to make them.

Stressing the importance of progress and development, Kennedy concluded by admonishing his audience. "You have to sell your area. To do so, you have to represent it. You have to talk about it."

Boardman Townsite Lets Go on Sale

WANTED BY THE FBI

ALSON THOMAS WAHRLICH

Wahrlich, one of the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives," is wanted for unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for the crime of kidnaping. He allegedly abducted a 6-year-old Arizona girl in Tucson, Arizona, on April 16, 1964, and brutally beat, choked, and sexually molested her before leaving her abandoned in the same city. A Federal warrant was issued at Tucson on April 28, 1964, charging Wahrlich with unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for this offense.

A white American, Wahrlich was born in Rensselaer County, New York, on February 4, 1936. He is 5' 2" tall, weighs 135 to 140 pounds, wears glasses, has blue eyes, brown hair, a medium build and a medium complexion. He has a scar on his left shoulder, a vaccination scar on his left arm, a scar on each side of his abdomen, and a tattoo of a heart and the name "Cindy" on his left arm.

Wahrlich has worked as a truck driver, ranch worker, dishwasher, house trailer repairman, hospital orderly, insurance salesman, and ice cream truck vendor. He is very interested in guns and strongly prefers traveling by personally owned car. Wahrlich reportedly has mental blockouts, has been previously imprisoned for aggravated assault, child molesting, and a crime against nature. He reportedly is armed with a pistol and is said to carry a surgical scalpel in his trouser's pocket. Consider him armed and extremely dangerous.

Should you receive any information concerning the whereabouts of Alson Thomas Wahrlich, you are requested to immediately notify the nearest office of the FBI, the telephone number of which may be located on the first page of local telephone directories.
