

August Wedding Unites Young Couple

MR. AND MRS. LONNIE M. MYERS (the former Jacquelyn Lee Brindle)

Co-op Women Make Covered Coathangers

The November meeting of the Lexington Co-op Biddies was held Monday at 1:30 p.m. at the city hall. Project for the day was the covering of coat hangers with the use of yarn and dewfoam materials. Hostess for the afternoon was Mrs. Lee Scrivner.

Next meeting of the group was announced for December 6 at the city hall. Members and guests are asked to come prepared to make waste paper baskets. Materials needed are a 2½ gallon ice cream carton, a long number 8 or 10 knitting needle, colored pages from catalogues or magazines and glue. Mrs. Willard French will be instructor for the lesson.

Social Club to Meet

Meeting of the Social club of Ruth Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, will be Saturday afternoon, November 13. The social afternoon will get underway at 1:30 p.m. in the Heppner Masonic hall.

Heppner Unit Plans Study of Fabrics

A project lesson on "New Fibers and Fabrics" will be presented to members and guests of the Heppner Unit of Home Extension on Tuesday, November 9. The meeting will start at 10:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Alice McCabe, with a potluck dinner served at noon. Project leaders for the day will be Mrs. McCabe and Mrs. Avery Taylor.

Marriage vows between Miss Jacquelyn Lee Brindle, daughter of Patricia and Robert Brindle, Heppner, and Lonnie Marion Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville L. Myers of La Grande, were exchanged at an afternoon nuptial mass on Saturday, August 14, at the altar of St. Patrick's Catholic church.

Celebrant for the ceremony was the Rev. Father Raymond Heard. Organist was Mrs. Rosemarie Strober, who also accompanied soloist Billy Kenny when he sang "Ave Maria" and "Mother at your Feet Are Kneeling."

Altar baskets held arrangements of white gladioli, flanked by white tapers in candleabra entwined with green ivy, and marking the pews were white satin ribbon bows. Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was lovely in a floor length gown of white organza over satin. It was fashioned with empire bodice, pointed neckline edged in Venice lace, and long tapered sleeves. The full skirt extended into a sweeping chapel train, edged with the grape Venice lace. Her full illusion shoulder veil was held by a seed pearl Dior headpiece. She carried a bridal bouquet of white rosebuds, with accents of green ivy.

Maid of honor for her sister was Miss Jennifer Lynn Brindle. Bridesmaids were Annamaria Brindle, sister of the bride, Shannon Mahoney, Ginger Springer, Julie Culham and Terri McConahy, a cousin and godchild of the bride.

The attendants were gowned in willow green crystal charm floor length gowns, designed with "A" line skirts and fitted bodice with white Venice lace trim. Accessories were elbow length white gloves and their headpieces of willow green net were held by Dior white roses. Flower girl was Laurie McConahy and altar servers were Earl and Phil Ayres.

Serving as best man was Phillip Gray of La Grande. Ushers were Dennis Spray, Greg Blackman and Greg Daniels, all of La Grande, and Gray Veruz of Portland.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Brindle wore a beige and rose jacket ensemble, with brown accessories. Mrs. Myers, mother of the groom, chose a brown checked linen suit with brown accessories. Both wore corsages of white cymbidium orchids.

The newlyweds greeted their guests at a wedding reception immediately following the ceremony in the parish hall, with members of St. Patrick's Altar Society in charge of arrangements. The bride's chosen colors of green and white were used in decorations about the rooms. An arrangement of white gladioli centered the serving table, with standards holding white glads, candleabra with white tapers and bows, accented by sprays of green ivy.

After the first piece of the tiered white wedding cake was cut by the bride and groom, it was cut and served by Mrs. Fred McConahy, Mrs. Earl Colyar and Mrs. Dan Lagsdon, aunts of the bride.

Pouring coffee was Mrs. Melvin Shewfelt, Mrs. M. C. Brindle, both grandmothers of the bride, and Mrs. B. L. Hagen. Pouring punch were Mrs. Earl Ayres, Sharon and Joyce Myers. The gift table was attended by Sheridan Wyman and passing the guest book was Martha Doherty.

For their wedding trip to Canada, the bride changed to a white knit suit with tiel blue accessories, and wore a white cymbidium orchid corsage.

Soon after their return to La Grande, the groom entered Marine Corps Officers Candidate school in Quantico, Virginia. He was a graduate of Eastern Oregon College of Education with the class of 1965.

Mrs. George Reviews Importance of UN To Soroptimist Club

In observance of United Nations Day, guest speaker Elaine George told of the world organization at the luncheon meeting last Thursday noon of the Soroptimist club. Mrs. George, a former member of the club, has studied and followed the activities of the UN for many years and presented many interesting facts.

This year marks the 20th anniversary of the United Nations, she reported, and for its work in UNICEF was recently presented the Nobel Peace Prize, which will be put into use in projects connected with UNICEF. She presented facts on the power of the Security Council and its influence throughout the world.

Other guests of the day were Mrs. Ella Sargent of Taft, former Heppner resident, and Miss Donna George, county extension agent.

The official visit of District Director Bernadine Batters of Vancouver will be at the luncheon meeting this week.
